In the matter of claim for Pension in the case of Jacob Glentz of Jarvis, DeKalb Co. Ind. – late Private Personally came before me, a ........ in and for aforesaid County and State George W. Carpender M. D.

citizen of the County of ........ State of Indiana (Post Office ........,

reputable and entitled to credit, and who, being duly sworn, declare s in relation to aforesaid claim, as follows:

I have practiced medicine for twenty-six years last past and have intimately known Jacob Glentz the above named soldier for the last ten years. Knew him well prior to and at the time he entered the U. S. service in October 1862. He was then – and had been all his life so far as I can learn – a strong and healthy man. Had a good constitution, and was able to and did perform as much and as hard labor as any man in the neighborhood in which he lived. I have not treated said Glentz since his discharge but have known him intimately all the time. He is, and has been all the time since his discharge, suffering with disease of the spinal marrow complicated with chronic inflammation of right kidney and chronic sore eyes.

The probable causes of his disability are exposure and hardships while in the Army. He has been able to do but little work since his discharge, and I doubt if he ever recovers his former good health. I think he has Rheumatism and at times Neuralgia. I know of nothing in the habits, or practices of said Glentz that would tend to aggravate or prolong his disability.

I further declare that I have no interest in said claim, and am not concerned in its prosecution.

(Date of examination.)

We hereby certify that in compliance with the requirements of the law* we have carefully examined this applicant, who states that he is suffering from the following disability, incurred in the service, viz:

Cause of disability.

Rheumatism and resulting atrophy of lower extremities, and disease of eyes, and that he receives a pension of Sixteen dollars per month.

If a pensioner, fill in the amount; if not, erase the whole line.

Pulse rate per minute, 80; respiration, 20; temperature, normal, height, 5 feet 6 inches; weight, 135 pounds; age, 55 years.

He makes the following statement upon which he bases his claim for† Increase.

Here give the claimant's statement as briefly and as compactly as possible.

That he is now pensioned for rheumatism only. And that his eyes were sore while in the service and have been ever since and that he is now almost totally blind in right eye and partially in left, and that he can not see to read ordinary printing even with glasses. And also that he is constantly lamed in lower limbs.

Upon examination we find the following objective conditions: Hips and knees somewhat crepitant and stiffened. Normal contours of these joints. Thighs and legs normal; joints not noted normal. Heart ditto. Walks in a stiffened and halting gait, limping sometimes upon one and at others upon the other leg, i.e., sometimes upon the right and sometimes upon the left lower limb. — In our judgment he is incapacitated for manual labor by reason of rheumatism twelve-eighteenths.

He has ophthalmia, purulenta, of each eye, and is almost totally blind in the right, being only able to discern a large brick, red, house, in a good sunlight, at a distance of one hundred feet. With the left he can discern one person from another in the room, and by standing with back toward the window in bright sun-light

Here give a full symptom picture of the case, embracing all the physical and rational signs, but confining it to the present condition of the claimant.

It must be borne in mind that the duty of the Surgeon is to give an opinion as to the proportionate degree of disability, as ½, ¼, total, &c., through the grades, without any regard to dollars and cents, and to make such a full particular description as will afford to this Office the ground for intelligent opinion and action in rating.

From the existing condition and the history of this claimant, as stated by himself, it is, in our judgment, ............ probable that the disability was incurred in the service as he claims, and that it has not been prolonged or aggravated by vicious habits. He is, in our opinion, entitled to a 12/18 rating for the disability caused by Rheumatism for that caused by ............, and ............ caused by ............ over

Rate for each cause of disability. If prolonged by vicious habits, the word not should be erased and the reason for the erasure given.

MEDICAL AFFIDAVIT.

should state, in his own handwriting, the facts following:

1. Length of time he has been practicing medicine.

2. Whether or not he knew the soldier before enlistment. If he did know him, for how long a period he knew him, how intimately, and what his opinion is as to said soldier's soundness at enlistment; adding, if true, that he was sound, and particularly that he was free from the disability on which he claims pension.

3. If he treated the soldier, during his enlistment, either as his regimental surgeon or while he may have been at home on furlough, he will state his physical condition at such times, the nature and duration of his disability, and the dates of treatment.

4. Whether he has treated said soldier since his discharge.

If he has, he should state—

[1.] At about what date he first treated him.

[2.] What his physical condition was when he first treated him, giving a full description or diagnosis of his disability.

[3.] Period during which he has treated him, giving approximate dates where exact dates cannot be given; and if dates of prescriptions or visits cannot be given he should state why, and how often, upon an average, he has treated the soldier each month or year during the period.

5. Very important—He will also state what has been the DEGREE of claimant's incapacity for manual labor, by reason of the disabilities on which his claim is based, during each month or year of the period of his treatment; in other words, what has been the average loss of time from labor per month or year; or about what proportion of a sound, able-bodied man's work he has been able to perform, whether 1/8, 1/4, 1/3, 1/2, 2/3, 3/4, or as the case may have been.

IMPORTANT.—The affidavit of the physician must conform to the instructions contained in the margin, or it will not be considered by the Pension Office as satisfactory. He should read the instructions very carefully before undertaking to prepare his Affidavit, and embody therein all the facts known to him. Let the diagnosis be so full and complete that a medical man can at once unmistakably recognize the disease, wounds or injuries even though they be not technically named. Where the disability is the sequel of a wound received, injuries incurred, or disease contracted, in the service, the pathological connection between them should be clearly and fully set forth, together with the reasons upon which his conclusions are based.

Jacob Slentz has a degenerated and semitransparent cornea. The right eye is almost useless. His eyes water all the time and maturate the most of the time. I did not know the soldier before enlistment. I have been treating Jacob Slentz for this disease of his eyes for about thirteen months. They do not make any permanent improvement. I have not made many prescriptions for the reason that it was not essential to change the medicine. I have practiced medicine ten years and been acquainted with Jacob Slentz during the whole period. Have often seen him, he living but three and one half miles from here. He is not fit to labor at all as it invariably makes his eyes worse. He is totally disabled for manual labor for reasons given above. His present condition is a result of granular conjunctivitis.

Be particular to give Certificate No.

Agency where to be paid.

State whether disability continues; and, if so, its present degree.

In Our opinion the said Pensioner's disability, from the cause aforesaid, continues at total $8,00 8

Particular description.

A more particular description of the Pensioner's condition is subjoined:

Height, 5ft 6in; weight, 136; complexion, Dark; age, 42; respiration, 19 per min pulse, 84 per min

In this pensioner case the Rheumatism affects the muscles of the Loins, the Eyes and joints of Knee and ankle, when the lumber muscles are contracted in making movements which call them into action He claims, to suffer great pain. the joints of Knee and ankle of right leg are stiff and swollen. the ligaments are contracted and the muscles of entire limb are atrophied. the conjunctiva is constantly congested by the disease and he claims to suffer great pain in the eyes, we rate this pensioner disability to perform manual at total $8.00. his habits are good is still suffering in consequence of said Rheumatism and disease Eyes

The disability originates entirely from the injury or disease on account of which he was originally pensioned, as follows:

Height, 5 ft 6 in; weight, 120; complexion, Dark age, 48; respiration, 22 per min; pulse. 86 per min

Here state fully and accurately the character of the pensioner's disability, and how he is at present affected thereby; also, state whether the disability is permanent in its present degree, and whether it has been in any degree caused or protracted by vicious habits.

In this case we find the fleshy mass of muscles on both sides of the loins atrophied and attended with great pain by every movement of the body, also in the Synovial Membranes covering the articular extremities of the bones the knee and ankle joints the muscles of lower extremities are atrophied and the ligaments contracted in my opinion the disease of Eyes is Rheumatic ophthalmy the sclerotic is intensely inflamed. He severe pain in the orbit and Temple. He is unfit to perform manual labor, and we think a just rating would be $16.00 per month

We find his disability, as described above, to be equal to, and entitling him to $16.00 per month

On this 29th day of Dec 1879, personally appeared before me, George H. K. Moss Clerk of the Circuit Court within and for the County and State aforesaid, Jacob Slentz aged 46 years, a resident of Butler P.O in the County of DeKalb in the State of Indiana and whose post office address is Butler DeKalb Co Ind who, being duly sworn according to law, declares that he is a pensioner of the United States, duly enrolled at the Fort Wayne (Indpls) Ind agency, at the rate of $8.00 per month, by reason of disability incurred in the service of the United States as a Private in Company F. commanded by Captain George W. Cosper in the 44 Regiment of Inda Vols Inf in the war of 1861, and his present physical condition is such that he believes himself entitled to receive an increased pension in the third grade provided for in the first section of the Supplementary Pension Act, approved June 6th, 1866. He further declares that he is disabled in the following manner, to-wit: Increased disability from chronic Rheumatism – Particularly affecting spine, at small of back, and lower Extremeties – and at other times affecting whole system – So frequently prostrated with sudden attack, and can only move about on hands and knees – Eyes are also affected with inflamation of Eyes, and impaired vision with pain – that when ever pain in spine is most severe, the pain & inflamation in Eyes is also severe – Not able to do any manual labor any effort to do labor aggravates his diseases

And for the purpose of prosecuting his said claim, he hereby appoints Frank W. Willis of Waterloo of DeKalb Co State of Indiana his attorney in fact, with power of substitution, and with authority to receive his pension certificate, or other order issued by reason hereof.

AN ACT

To increase the pension of widows, minor children, and so forth, of deceased soldiers and sailors of the late civil war, the war with Mexico, the various Indian wars, and so forth, and to grant a pension to certain widows of the deceased soldiers and sailors of the late civil war.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this Act the rate of pension for widows, minor children under the age of sixteen years, and helpless minors as defined by existing laws, now on the roll or hereafter to be placed on the pension roll and entitled to receive a less rate than hereinafter provided, shall be twelve dollars per month; and nothing herein shall be construed to affect the existing allowance of two dollars per month for each child under the age of sixteen years and for each helpless child; and all Acts or parts of Acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed: Provided, however, That this Act shall not be so construed as to reduce any pension under any Act, public or private.

SEC. 2. That if any officer or enlisted man who served ninety days or more in the Army or Navy of the United States during the late civil war, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, has died, or shall hereafter die, leaving a widow, such widow shall, upon due proof of her husband's death, without proving his death to be the result of his army or navy service, be placed on the pension roll from the date of the filing of her application therefor under this Act at the rate of twelve dollars per month during her widowhood, provided that said widow shall have married said soldier or sailor prior to June twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and ninety; and the benefits of this section shall include those widows whose husbands, if living, would have a pensionable status under the Joint Resolutions of February fifteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five; July first, nineteen hundred and two, and June twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and six.

SEC. 3. That no claim agent or attorney shall be recognized in the adjudication of claims under the first section of this Act, and that no agent, attorney, or other person engaged in preparing, presenting, or prosecuting any claim under the provisions of the second section of this Act shall, directly or indirectly, contract for, demand, receive, or retain for such services in preparing, presenting, or prosecuting such claim a sum greater than ten dollars, which sum shall be payable only upon the order of the Commissioner of Pensions by the pension agent making payment of the pension allowed; and any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section, or who shall wrongfully withhold from the pensioner or claimant the whole or any part of a pension or claim allowed or due such pensioner or claimant under this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall, for each and every such offense, be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars or be imprisoned at hard labor not exceeding two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

persons of lawful age, who, being duly sworn, declare in relation to the aforesaid claim, as follows: That they are both farmers and neighbors of Jacob Sleutz and their post office address is Butler DeKalb Co. Ind. That they were well and intimately acquainted with said Claimant for several years prior to his service in the U.S. Army. And both were members of said Co. "F" 44 Regt Ind. Vol. and went into the service and came out of the service at the same time as Claimant and have lived near neighbors to him ever since and know that at the date of his enlistment he was entirely free from any disease of the eyes and we also know that while in the service at or near Chattanooga Tenn. About Jan 1st 1864 he contracted sore eyes and has continued to have disease of the eyes each and every year and all the time ever since to the present the disease is so bad that it has disfigured his eyelids and causes his eyes to look quite red & inflamed and some of the time he can scarcely see at all and it is with great difficulty that he can at any time see sufficiently well to perform ordinary labor. Affiants have exchanged labor with claimant each and every year since his said service and know that his diseased eyes makes him slow to work, halting and doubtful and evidently causes him much pain

Affiants further declare that they have no interest in said claim, and are not concerned in its prosecution.

If either Affiant signs by X mark, two persons who write their names MUST sign here as witnesses thereto.

DECLARATION FOR AN INVALID PENSION.

This Invalid Pension Declaration must be sworn to before a Judge or Clerk of a Court of Record, and the same attested by the signature of the officer, and the seal of the Court.

☞ A Justice of the Peace, or Notary Public must not authenticate this paper. If they do, the work is utterly useless, and must be done over again before a Judge or Clerk of a Court of Record, as above stated.

State of Indiana
County of DeKalb } SS.

On this 26' day of April A. D. 1870, personally appeared before me, (1) Clerk of the (2) DeKalb Circuit court a Court of Record within and for the County and State aforesaid, Jacob Slentz, aged Thirty Six years, a resident of the (3) County of DeKalb, in the State of Indiana, who being duly sworn according to law, declares that he is the identical Jacob Slentz who (4) Enlisted in the service of the United States at Indianapolis in the State of Indiana, on or about the "34" day of October in the year 1862, as a Pri in Company "F" commanded by Capt George H Cosper in the 44th Regiment of (5) Indiana Vols commanded by Col J B Curtis in the war of 1861, and was honorably discharged at Nashville in the State of Tenn, on or about the 14 day of Sept, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty five; that while in the service aforesaid, and in the line of his duty, (6)

In Dec 1862 went out from Nashville Tenn upon a foraging Expedition — was one of a detail for that purpose — the weather was very bad — rainy and he was much Exposed During this month first felt pain in his back which he has never been free from to this day Doctors call it disease of Spinal marrow complicated with chron. inflam. of right kidney Also:
In July 1864 he was doing duty as a Teamster & was much Exposed Caught cold which settled in his eyes Dust from cleaning his mules got in his eyes — inflamed them Troubled with sore eyes ever since treated in service only by Regt Surgeon
Did not enlist after 14 Sept 1865

That since leaving the said service, this applicant has resided in the (3) County of DeKalb, in the State of Indiana, and his occupation has been (7) Three fourths compulsory idleness from physical incapacity to perform manual labor

That prior to his entry into the service above named, he was a man of good, sound physical health, being when enrolled, a (8) Farmer

That now he is (9) Considerably disabled from obtaining his subsistence from manual labor, in consequence of his above named injuries, received in the service of the United States.

He makes this declaration for the purpose of being placed on the Invalid Pension Roll of the United States, by reason of the disabilities above stated, and revoking and countermanding all other authority that may have been given, he hereby constitutes and appoints, with full power of substitution and revocation, Milo B. ## MRS. JACOB SLENTZ PASSED AWAY MONDAY

Mrs. Jacob Slentz, an old resident of this vicinity, died at her home here Monday following a short illness. She had been confined to her bed only a short time but gradually grew worse until the end came about 2 o'clock on Monday.

Mrs. Slentz was of a retiring disposition and remained close to her home where she cared for her daughter, Myrtle, as only a mother could.

She was a friend of all and was always willing to help any one whom she could while her health permitted.

The funeral services wereheld at the Methodist church of which she was a member, yesterday afternoon, in charge of Rev. R. A. Morrison, a former pastor of the church and a friend of the family.

OBITUARY

OBITUARY

Harriett Pollard was born in Akron, Ohio, March 1st, 1843, the daughter of John and Catherine (Day) Pollard; and departed this life from her home in Hamilton, Ind., March 15th, 1926, at the age of 83 years and 14 days.

Early in her life she with her parents moved to Indiana, where they settled on a farm in Franklin township, DeKalb county. Here she resided with her parents until April 29, 1860, she was united in marriage to Jacob Slentz, a young man of promising influence in the community. Soon the young man heard the call for volunteers, issued by President Lincoln, and left his bride of two years, and went in defense of his nation. The bride labored, and watched and prayed until the husband returned from an honorable service, three years later.

Together they began the building of their home and farm. Here for many long years they labored together. She constantly bearing her part of the great burdens of the home, and making her home a place where the entire group of friends loved to come. The family life, and the splendid sweet spirit of the wife and mother made this home one of the most cherished homes in the community. In 1903 they moved to the residence in Hamilton, Indiana, where on May 31st, 1912, the husband and father slipped away to the other world. Since, the home has been maintained by the mother and daughter.

To this happy union was born 12 children. Eight of them have preceeded their mother to the other world; four dying in infancy, Edith, Chlea Bell, Eer, Guy Burton. Four her membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was a faithful member, as long as her health would permit, rarely missing a service, and supported it in every way possible.

True to the ideals of the home, cherished in memory by those who had occasion to come in contact with her, she labored and loved, and sacrificed to the very last, and then quietly slipped away to that other world, while the Master said "Well Done."

MOTHER

Tears and joys, today are blended,
Tears for loss and joy for gain,
Mother's stay on earth is ended,
God has called her from her pain.

Vain, the tribute we would tender,
Words of ours can ne'er express,
Nor the flowers that loved ones send her,
What she was of loveliness.

Proud, are we, that God has loaned her,
Though it seems so short a while,
Proud, to think, that we have owned her
And have seen her blessed face.

Anywhere we ever found her,
Seemed like something from Above,
Spreading sunshine all around her,
Blending happiness with love.

Keen of mind and always joking,
Just a habit that she had,
Speaking words so mirth provoking,
Couldn't help but make you glad.

Thanks, to God Who gave her to us,
As we lay her 'neath the flowers,
Such a gift was never due us,
As that Mother Dear of ours.

CLYDE JACKSON SUICIDES

ANOTHER VETERAN ANSWERS THE LAST CALL

L. T. Crain Passes Away at the Home of His Daughter, Mrs. G. C. Brown, Sunday

The ranks of the veterans of the Civil war are fast thinning. Another of them passed on to his reward last Sunday in the death of L. T. Crain, which occured at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Grover C. Brown, at which place he had been making his home. Mr. Crain was born in Franklin township, DeKalb county and has been a resident of this vicinity his entire life. He was well and favorably known by almost everyone in this vicinity.

The funeral services were held at the U. B. church on Tuesday afternoon conducted by Rev. Humphreys of Angola with burial in the Hamilton cemetery.

OBITUARY.

Leander Timothy Crain, son of Ervin and Nancy (Gaylord) Crain, was born in Franklin township, DeKalb county, Indiana, May 29th, 1845 and departed this life at the home of his daughter at Hamilton, Ind., on March 14th, 1926 at the age of 80 years, 9 months and 15 days.

Mr. Crain grew up in his native township and attended its public schools.

Just as he was emerging from boyhood at the age of 17 years he enlisted November 14th, 1863 for service during the Civil war in Co. A 129th Indiana Volunteer Infantry. Mr. Crain took part in some of the most hotly contested engagements of the war among them the Battle of Resaca, New Hope Church, Kenesaw Mountain, Lost Mountain, Atlanta, and Jonesboro, all in Georgia; Johnsonville, Columbia River, Franklin and both battles of Nashville in Tennessee. The regiment then went to Washington.

During the winter of '64-'65 he took part in the memorable campaign through North Carolina being in the engagements of Fort Anderson, Fort Fisher and Goldsborro. He was never wounded in all his service. He was honorably discharged August 25th, 1865 Returning to DeKalb county, Indiana, after his discharge, he spent three years farming then in 1868 he went to Montana where he stayed until 1876. Two years of this time he spent gold mining; four years ranching; then returning to Franklin township where he spent thirty years farming. In 1901 he bought his present farm located in Steuben Co., Ind.

Speaking words so mirth provoking,
Couldn't help but make you glad.

Thanks, to God Who gave her to us,
As we lay her 'neath the flowers,
Such a gift was never due us,
As that Mother Dear of ours.

CLYDE JACKSON SUICIDES

OBITUARY.

Leander Timothy Crain, son of Ervin and Nancy (Gaylord) Crain, was born in Franklin township, DeKalb county, Indiana, May 29th, 1845 and departed this life at the home of his daughter at Hamilton, Ind., on March 14th, 1926 at the age of 80 years, 9 months and 15 days.

Mr. Crain grew up in his native township and attended its public schools.

Just as he was emerging from boyhood at the age of 17 years he enlisted November 14th, 1863 for service during the Civil war in Co. A 129th Indiana Volunteer Infantry. Mr. Crain took part in some of the most hotly contested engagements of the war among them the Battle of Resaca, New Hope Church, Kenesaw Mountain, Lost Mountain, Atlanta, and Jonesboro, all in Georgia; Johnsonville, Columbia River, Franklin and both battles of Nashville in Tennessee. The regiment then went to Washington.

During the winter of '64-'65 he took part in the memorable campaign through North Carolina being in the engagements of Fort Anderson, Fort Fisher and Goldsborro. He was never wounded in all his service. He was honorably discharged August 25th, 1865 Returning to DeKalb county, Indiana, after his discharge, he spent three years farming then in 1868 he went to Montana where he stayed until 1876. Two years of this time he spent gold mining; four years ranching; then returning to Franklin township where he spent thirty years farming. In 1901 he bought his present farm located in Steuben Co., Ind.

Mr. Crain was twice married, first on March 3rd, 1876, to Mary A. Fee, daughter of John and Mary A. (Houlton) Fee, who died Feb. 4th, 1890. To this union were born five children Charley K., who died at 14 months, Ervin J. of Detroit, Mich., James G. of Hamilton, Ind., Mary A. Brown of Hamilton, Ind., Elsie A. Fisher, of Fremont, Ind.

In 1892 he was married to Mrs. Martha George, who died January 6, 1896.

For the last few years he made his home with his daughter at Hamilton, Ind.

Mr. Crain was always a faithful and active member of the G. A. R.

He leaves to mourn his departure, four children, thirteen grand-children three great-grand-children and a large number of relatives and friends

HOW GIRLS MAY SUCCEED.

Some of you are out in the world earning your own living; you have had to do it to help some one at home as well as to take care of yourself. You are up on a high stool looking at tiresome figures in black and white; you are ringing out the changes of a letter or a law deed on a typewriter; you are standing behind a counter catering to the whims and wants of thousands of people; you are working away reading proof and wondering why people don't write plainly. but no matter what you are doing you will never succeed in this world and you will be of no worth to the people who employ you unless you do the best you can. Do it for your own sake. Don't slight any work, no matter how poor it may seem to you.—the work becomes great and noble the very second you put a great aud noble determination into it. Of course you get tired, but every time you feel that tired feeling coming over you, stop for a minute and give your eyes or hands a rest, and remember that the work done in the right spirit is the only work fit to offer God himself, and that is the way and spirit in which you ought to

DEATH TAKES THREE

Two Pioneers of This Vicinity Answer the Call

Jacob Slentz died at his home last Thursday morning after being confined to his bed but a short time. Mr. Slentz was a pioneer of this vicinity, having moved into DeKalb county about sixty years ago. He was a member of the local Grange and was a veteran of the civil war.

OBITUARY

Jacob Slentz, son of Henry and Lydia Slentz, was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, July 16, 1833.

When a young man he moved with his parents to DeKalb Co., Ind., settled on the now old Slentz homestead and from there moved to Hamilton.

He was united in marriage to Harriet Pollard, April 29, 1860. To this union was born 12 children, 4 sons and 8 daughters. Two sons and four daughters preceeded him to the spirit world.

He served his country in the war of the Rebellion entering in Co. F, 44th Ind., Vol. Inf., served three years; received an honorable discharge September 14, 1865. He was taken prisoner at Stone River and was in Libby prison two months.

He never joined any church but was an adherent and supporter of church work and interests; He was known as an honest citizen until death called him early Friday morning, May 31st, 1912, at the age of 78 years, 10 months and 15 days.

He leaves to mourn his departure a companion with whom he toiled for over a half century, two sons, Arthur and Err, both of DeKalb county; four daughters, Eunice Everetts, of Decatur, Alabama, Allie Everetts, Metz, Ind.; Clara Neidic, Butler, Ind.; and Miss Myrtle, living at home; 15 grandchildren, 2 great grandchildren, 1 brother, 3 sisters and a large circle of relatives and neighbors.

Funeral was held from the M. E. church Sunday, June 2nd, conducted by Rev. O. B. Wells, assisted by Rev. Kemberling, of the Christian church, and Rev. Campbell, of the M. E. church. The Grange also had a part in the services at the cemetery. The body was buried in the Hamilton cemetery.

A precious one from us has gone,
  A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home which never can be filled
God, in his wisdom, has recalled
  The boon His love had given;
And, though the body slumbers here,
  The soul is safe in heaven.

confined to her bed for over two years.

She was converted to God in 1879 under the ministry of Rev. Paschal, and joined the M. E. church at Hamilton. She was conscious to the last and knew that the end had come. In prayer she talked to her Savior and told him she was ready, Her last words to her ever faithful husband were, I am going to die, Lord thy will be done.

Besides her husband and children there are left to mourn sixteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Miss Myrtle Slentz still suffers with rheumatism and was unable to attend her father's funeral.

Joseph Everetts arrived Monday evening from Alabama, having started on receiving word of the death of his father-in-law, Jacob Slentz, but arrived too late for the funeral. An only brother of the deceased, from Michigan, attended the funeral.

After a week of most intense suffering from Bright's disease, Jacob Slentz passed to his reward Friday morning, May 31, 1912. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Wells, of the U. B. church of Roanoke, Ind., at the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. Kimberling, of the Christian church, and Rev. Campbell, of the M. E. church. Mr. Slentz was born in Ohio, June 16, 1833. Came to De Kalb county when a young man, and was married in 1860. He was the father of twelve children, four sons and eight daughters, of whom two sons and four daughters preceded him to the land beyond. He enlisted and served faithfully for three years and was honorably discharged. He was taken prisoner at the battle of Stone River and was an inmate of Libby prison, where disease fastened itself upon him. He was converted in the U. B. meeting a few years ago, but never united with any church although he gave liberally to the support of the gospel. He was an indulgent father, good citizen and excellent neighbor. A wife, two sons, four daughters, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, one brother and two sisters and many friends mourn his death. The daughter living in Alabama reached here before he passed away.

Hamilton News

Mrs. Joseph Everetts has returned to her home in Alabama after several weeks spent with her mother, Mrs. Jacob Slentz. While there her father passed to the world beyond.

Steuben Rep. March 24, 1926 p. 9

Harriett Pollard was born in Akron, Ohio, March 1, 1843, the daughter of John and Catherine (Day) Pollard; and departed this life from her home in Hamilton, Ind., March 15, 1926, at the age of 83 years and 14 days.

Early in her life she with her parents moved to Indiana, where they settled on a farm in Franklin township, DeKalb county. Here she resided with her parents until April 29, 1860, she was united in marriage to Jacob Slentz, a young man of promising influence in the community. Soon the young man heard the call for volunteers, issued by President Lincoln, and left his bride of two years, and went in defense of his nation. The bride labored, and watched and prayed until the husband returned from an honorable service, three years later.

Together they began the building of their home and farm. Here for many long years they labored together. She constantly bearing her part of the great burdens of the home, and making her home a place where the entire group of friends loved to come. The family life, and the splendid sweet spirit of the wife and mother made this home one of the most cherished homes in the community. In 1903 they moved to the residence in Hamilton, Indiana, where on May 31st, 1912, the husband and father slipped away to the other world. Since, the home has been maintained by the mother and daughter.

To this happy union was born 12 children. Eight of them have preceded their mother to the other world; four dying in infancy, Edith, Clara Bell, Eve, Guy Burton. Four children are left to mourn the going of their mother; Eunice, wife of Joe Everitts, Adelade, wife of Reuben Everitts, of Hamilton, Arthur Eugene, of Auburn, and Minnie Myrtle, at home. Also one sister in Mondamin, Iowa; 14 grand-children; nine great-grand-children; besides a great host of neighbors and friends.

Mrs. Slenty early in life confessed Jesus Christ as her personal Savior, and upon moving to Hamilton, placed her membership in the Methodist Episcopal church. She was a faithful member, as long as her health would permit, rarely missing a service, and supported it in every way possible.

True to the ideals of the home, cherished in memory by those who had occasion to come in contact with her, she labored and loved and sacrificed to the very last, and then quietly slipped away to that other world, while the Master said, "Well Done."

The funeral services were held at the Methodist church of which she was a member, in charge of Rev. A. A. Morrison, a former pastor of the church and a friend of the family.

Reassessment?

County council approval doubtful for more funds

The Steuben County Council wasn't saying at their meeting Thursday (and indeed they couldn't take any legal action at this point) but trustees from around Steuben County met with what looked and sounded like disapproval in their quest to get an additional $53,900 approved to meet the cost of finishing the reassessment program in Steuben County.

The county, along with Indiana's other 92 counties, was mandated in 1976 to reassess all property in Steuben County. Against council disapproval, the trustees, charged by the state to negotiate such a contract, approved a bid from United Appraisal (since sold to CLT) for $249,000 to do the job. The council members objected, saying the bid was not the lowest; however, it was accepted and funded.

Late in 1978, the trustees, reacting to lawsuits and delays at the state level, terminated United Appraisal's contract for an adjusted figure of $235,000, still in opposition to council opinion.

A couple of weeks later, the trustees, after considering the possibilities and costs of completing the project themselves (valuation must be placed on the property record cards and hearings held), accepted a bid of $53,900 from CLT to finish the job and defend the figures in the hearings.

Now they must find the money to do so.

It was with this in mind that they met with the council members last week, to sound them out on their feelings about this latest move.

"We could debate this all day," said Norman Teegardin, spokesman for the trustees. 'I'm here to say we've got a problem. What can we best do for the taxpayers? Do we throw it out? Where do we go from here? I know you have problems with money."

That, and the fact that both the trustees and the council members feel that state problems have caused the woes, were all that they could agree on.

"Right now I couldn't appropriate any money," said Council member Edgar Chrysler.

New county officials, appointees take office

With the change of a new year, recently elected county officials have taken office along with those recently appointed to their positions.

Before Judge John Berger left office, he reappointed Thomas Hanselman as adult and juvenile probation officer to the circuit and county courts to serve both for a one year term.

James Wisner was appointed to serve as Hanselman's assistant in both courts for a one year term.

George McNaughton has been appointed to serve as the deputy prosecutor to David Henry, recently appointed by Governor Otis Bowen to fill that position.

Thomas Wilson was appointed by Berger and Steuben County Court Judge Pat Purdy to serve as public defender. He will act as defense counsel in all pauper cases in the county.

Sheriff L. Mike McClelland has appointed former Sheriff Paul Gordon as chief deputy.

The list of new county officials, both elected and appointed follows.

PUBLIC NOTICES

"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Public Notice advertising plays a unique role both in American history and in the process by which this country's democracy is preserved. Its one premise is that people must be informed if they are to govern themselves competently. Public Notice advertising first came into being with the Congress of 1792. That body, recognizing its responsibility to the people, required the Postmaster General to advertise for bids for the construction of new post offices. From that inauspicious beginning to the complex publication requirements in federal, state and local laws today, government officials have come more and more to understand their obligations to inform the public through Public Notice advertising. Newspapers over the years have been the vehicle by which these obligations have been fulfilled. They will continue to be as long as the public demands that it be informed frequently and by the best means possible.)

Fire damages Randol home

Pleasant Lake firemen were called out at about 3:30 a.m. January 3 to the Frank Randol residence on CR400S to fight a fire which started in a back porch area.

Pleasant Lake Fire Chief Jack Zeiger said it is believed the fire started in a pile of clothes laying on a little gas space heater in the back porch area. Zeiger credited a smoke detector in the home with saving the lives of the couple "They probably wouldn't have gotten out otherwise," he said.

The back porch was destroyed by the fire and the rest of the home sustained heavy smoke damage. The family has not been able to live in the house. They lost a barn in a fire in October, 1977.

The firemen remained on the scene for about four hours on the bitterly cold morning. Units from Angola, Ashley and Hudson aided in providing water to fight the blaze.

The Pleasant Lake department was called back about 9:30 a.m. that morning when the flames threatened to erupt again.

The Pleasant Lake department also worked two chimney fires during the week. At 4:30 p.m. January 2, the department was called to Lake Valley Road to a farm home belonging to Fermin Dole. At 10 p.m. January 3 they were called to CR400W to check another chimney fire at the Orville Dennis residence.

Firemen from Pleasant Lake also assisted Sunday evening at a gas station fire in Angola.

I am mailing those sheets to you. Any thing that you can add or correct on your side of the family would be appreciated. I will also send you info on some web sites. Frederick Jacob Swilet Slentz is Jacob Slentz, born in 1758 & died in 1840. Had two wifes & approx. 24 kids. The Frederick is wrong. I know how it got there, but it is a long story. I 'm not sure about the Swilet, but I have seen it also. I wish I knew the maiden name of Mary Slentz, Jacob's 2nd wife, who was buried in Hamilton Cem. in 1859. If you found that out, you would make alot of genealogists happy. I am now working with two people on the net who can trace their Slentz ancestry back to two of Jacob's children I have nothing on. I'm hoping to get more info one of these days. Talk to you later cous. Mike Slentz

I read in the paper that you had retired from Tri-State. Now you can lead the good life. Say Hi to Florian from me. I have a quite of info on the Slentz's, and some on the Pollard's. If you give me your snail mail address, I will mail you some family group sheets, and a descerndent sheet off my computer on Jacob Slentz & Harriott Pollard. These are some items that I have copies of. Jacob & Harriot's obits & Marriage Cert. Alot of info I picked up on Jacob from Veterans Admin. on Jacob in the Civil War. His father's Henry will. Henry's mother Mary's will. She is buried alongside her son Henry Slentz & Lydia Kugler at Hamilton Cemetary. I have a copy of Philip's will in 1814, Henry's grandfather, and other misc. info. I also have a family Picture of Jacob & Harriett and the six kids. I would be happy to share what I have with you sometime.

Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Bailey:

Submitted herewith is form 534, claim of the helpless child, Minnie Myrtle Slentz, Hamilton, Indiana.

Form P-22 and this claimant has named The American Legion to represent her.

Form 545, showing the service of the Civil War veteran.

Affidavit of Dr. Charles I. Weirich, Butler, Indiana shows the claimant is 65 years of age, and "has a congenital deformity of both feet and ankles making it impossible for her to walk without help. She is also suffering from cerebral afteriosclerosis and hypertension". This was from examination made May 8, 1946 and the affidavit was made 12-24-1946.

Certificate of death shows the civil war veteran died 5-21-1912 at age of 78 years from uremia.

Affidavit of baptism shows claimant born 4-14-1881 at Butler, Indiana to Jacob and Harriett Pollard Slentz. The record at The Methodist Church, Hamilton, Indiana is issued by Summers Clark, Minister, and sworn before a notary.

Please advise this office concerning this claim, at your early convenience.

Thanking you, we are

Dear Sir;

The above person is a patient in the Angola Nursing Home and has been since Jan 1, 1970. I understand that she may be eligible for more benefits than what she is receiving. Would you please advise me concerning this?

Also, she has become incapacitated to the point where she is unable to sign her name and we request that the checks be made payable to the nursing home for her.

Sincerely,

Dear Miss Slentz:

Receipt is acknowledged of your recent letter and the statement of Dr. Don F. Cameron relative to your claim for death pension as child of the above named veteran.

Under dates of December 3, 1946, and May 5, 1947, letters were addressed to Mrs. Gerald Evertts requesting additional evidence in support of your claim. To date the evidence requested has not been furnished.

It is, therefore, requested that you furnish the affidavits of two or more persons who should state their personal knowledge of the facts and your condition in detail when you attained the age of 16 years, showing fully the extent, if any to which you were mentally or physically deficient at the age of 16 years; such as whether you could be trusted to care for yourself and perform ordinary duties required of a child of that age; whether you attended school and the maximum grade attained; whether you were employed or earned any part of your support; whether any material improvement in your condition occurred in later years; whether you have ever been employed, and if so, the nature and dates of such employment and the remuneration therefor; whether you have ever married, and your present condition in detail.

Affiants should state the means of their knowledge of the facts to which they testify, and should not merely relate the statements of others, but should give detailed statements of facts known to them personally in regard to your mental and physical condition when the age of 16 years was attained, and your present condition.

The above evidence should be furnished within 90 days from the date of this letter. If at the expiration of 90 days no reply is received by this office, your claim will be considered on the basis of the evidence then of record.

Dear Sirs,

I am writting this personal letter in regards to.. Miss Mimmie Myrtle Slentz's Beneficiaries Claim. Her file number. is XC,6.213 282. Slentz Jacob. 8BAAB. She had given this letter to the welfare lady as she said she would look after it, and she didnt return it until Saturday July 17 and said she didnt have time, so it is too late under the date to get the affidavits, so I am asking you to extend the time and I will look after it and get them in as soon as I can. as I have know her since 1908. as she cant do anything for herself cant get no place with out being led to keep her from falling down. If any one deserves it she does. The older she gets the worse she is, she lives with her sister and she is 80 years old but she takes care of Mimmie Myrtle the best she can and she dont have any income either. Just send reply to Mimmie Myrtle Slentz Hamilton Ind. By a Good Friend.

Dear Miss Slentz:

This is in reference to your letter of recent date forwarding the affidavit of Dr. Charles I. Weirich, relative to your condition in April 1946, and stating that the reason you have been attended by Dr. Weirich only since the aforesaid date is the fact that your family physician who had treated you for years is dead.

It may be possible to secure a copy of the records of your former physician's treatment of you from the person having custody of his records, showing the date on which he first examined you, the diagnosis made, and the treatment rendered, with dates showing the duration of the period you were treated by him.

If the record is obtainable, a copy thereof should be furnished within one year from the date of your letter, and if the record is not available a statement should be furnished as to the reason for its non-production.

Dear Miss Slentz:

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter dated August 10, 1948, wherein you set forth that you get seasick when you ride and, therefore, request that a doctor be sent to your home to examine you.

You are informed that, in order to further consider your claim for benefits as a helpless child of the above named veteran, evidence must be furnished by you as set forth in the letter of April 19, 1948, showing your physical or mental condition when you attained the age of sixteen years. A copy of the letter of April 19, 1948, is enclosed with the information that on August 5, 1948, you were accorded an extension of 60 days from August 5, 1948, in which to furnish the evidence requested in the letter of April 19, 1948. The instructions given in the letter of April 19, 1948, should be carefully followed.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

The above person is a patient in the Angola Nursing Home and has been since Jan 1, 1970. I understand that she may be eligible for more benefits than what she is receiving. Would you please advise me concerning this?

Also, she has become incapcitated to the point where she is unable to sign her name and we request that the checks be made payable to the nursing home for her.

Dear Dr. Showalter:

Returned herewith is the examination you conducted in the case of the above named veterans child. It has been found inadequate for the reason that no definite diagnosis was made.

When correction has been accomplished the examination should be returned promptly for further consideration.

Very truly yours,

J. C. GILL,
Designate of C.M.O.

Mrs. Eva Rensch,

I don't know if you remember me or not, but I am the man from the Kendallville area who talked to you about the Slentz's. I promised to let you know if I ever recieved information that might be of interest to you. I met a Slentz decendant in VanWert Co. Ohio who had a 1933 history from a Slentz reunion. This written history lists your Great Grandfather Henry and six of his brothers, and three of his sisters. It also lists his father, your Great-Great Grand dad. I have enclosed a copy of two of the pages that you may keep or send to your daughter in California. My family of Slentz's is tied into yours in the following way; my Great-Great-Great Grandfather was a brother to your Great Grandfather, Henry. This was Henry's brother, ABNER.

To give you a brief history on the overall Slentz history it would read as follows; Fredric Slentz was of Germanic parentage. He was married twice and fathered 24 children. It is reported that he lived in Binghampton New York. From there he moved south into Penn. and I have strong reason to believe this was Adams Co. From Penn. they moved to Columbiana Co. Ohio. The next move had them moving into VanWert Co. Ohio and DeKalb Co. INd. BUT I have told everyone I've talked to that some went via Tuskarusa Co. Ohio as you remember. It is quite likely as your memory is so good. From DeKalb Co. Noah went south to Hartford City INd. (one of his decendants is the wife of the Hamilton Ind. Grade school pricipal.) Mike went north into Michigan. His people live in the South Haven area. ABNER's people (my line) are mostly in the Three Rivers Michigan and LaGrange and Nobel Counties of Indiana. Some are in Somerset Kentucky and Omaha Nebraska also.

I hope this has been of interest to you and a repayment for the information you shared with me.

SLENTZ FAMILY HISTORY

August, 1933

Not realizing the importance of family history, we as children did not gather from our elders the items of interest we would now so much like to know, and as I know of no history existing except that handed us from our parents. Yet we hope it will give the younger descendents some knowledge of their worthy ancestors.

We. being of the family of Eli Slentz, it is only natural to know something of his family. His father's Christian name was Fredric, but will call him Great Grandfather Slentz . He was of German parentage. His family consisted of twenty-four children, having had two wives and twelve children by each wife. We do not remember any mention of any of the older twelve except one, John Slentz who married and established a home in New Franklin, Columbiana County, Ohio, and was a wagon maker by trade. Great-Grand father was now living in Pennsylvania but later in life he or several of his family crossed into Columbiana County , Ohio. We can name nine of the last wife's children but are unable to give themin order of birth so will name them by memory: Eli, Henry, Andy, Abner, Mike, Noah, Nancy, Eliza and Fanny. In the year 1849 Henry, Abner, Mike and Noah and their wives and families emigrated from Columbiana County Ohio, to Dekalb County, Indiana, locating near Butler and Auburn, Purchasing their homes and prospering in general. Their many descendants are scattered far and wide but are of the Slentz Family, as are the descendents of the brother, Andy, and his family who remained in Columbiana County, Ohio, and the three sisters, Nancy and Eliza lived near their brothers in Indiana. Nancy married Solomon Baughman, Eliza married John Barnhart and both raised families and prospered. Fanny married a man by name os Isaac Fickas and whose home was in Wayne County , Ohio.

Eli Slentz of whom we are descendents and whom I shall hereafter call Grandfather Slentz is better known and of whom we can give a little better writing than the others. He was born in Pennsylvania October 29, 1810. He attained an education common to his day and learned the trade of carpenter and cabinet maker. At that date all furniture and such articles were made by hand. In his twenty-fourth or twenty-fifth year he was married to Mary Ann Shullenbarger and founded a home near Franklin Square, Columbiana County, Ohio

Twelve children blessed this union , seven daughters and five sons, all of whom lived to maturity. Allbut two married and established homes within a radius of five miles of their parental home in Van Wert County Ohio.

Some years after Grandfather's marriage , he moved his family from Columbiana County to near Orrville in Wayne County, Ohio, in the neighborhood of his wife's people. In the summer of 1858 he migrated farther west to the new home he purchased which was located in section 36, York township, Van Wert County, Ohio, then a part of Mercer County, where he lived the remainder of his life. At the time of his comming to Van Wert County, the territory was not well developed.

Transcriber's note:
The 1850 Federal Census for DeKalb County, Indiana was enumerated by Egbert B. Mott, a prominent attorney who lived in Auburn. For the most part, his handwriting is legible and the information seems to be as accurate as what was given to him. But occasionally information entered was obviously or possibly inaccurate. Where such occurs it is noted in the remarks field. Mr. Mott often used abbreviations for states which may not clearly identify the states intended. The following are the most common one to two letter abbreviations he used throughout all townships in DeKalb County.

RootsWorks: PDA 2001 - Software

"It seems like every product has a life cycle, and that if you graphed the number of manufacturers over time, it would look like a Volkswagen Beetle. A few companies make the thing at first. The market responds favorably and then a lot of companies make one. Finally, after a shakeout where everybody sells them for the cheapest prices you can imagine, only a few do."

If those lines sound familiar, it might be because I used them at the beginning of the last RootsWorks article, about PDA hardware. PDA software, on the other hand, would look more like the Eiffel Tower than a VW. Everybody with an hour available is writing PDA software. Before I sound like a critic, let me say that, to my knowledge, it's the last place on earth where programmers try to write small programs. There is nothing in the PDA arena like the "bloatware" you see on PCs. This is the last bastion for real men and women who care about code.

A quick note about the PDA 2001 articles. This is the second in a series of four articles. In Part III, I'll cover genealogy software for the PDA, and in Part IV, I'll discuss gadgets and special PDA applications. I've received a number of notes from people wanting to know more about PDA genealogy software. Please be patient.

You can't judge a program by its cover letter. It's hard to tell what software you might want to use on your PDA, and what software to stay away from. Let's see if we can find the largest herd and get smack in the middle of it.

What Is It?

Let's divide PDA software into three groups: office functions, utilities, and "everything else." I'll go into detail about genealogy software for PDAs in the next article, so please don't think I forgot what kind of publication this is. (If you can't wait, then jump to the bottom of this article for a hint.)

For office functions, let's stick to e-mail, word processing, spreadsheets, and databases. There are programs for presentations, but they're not much like Power Point and this year we won't get into them. For most people, being able to download documents from your desktop to the Palm so that they are handy is a valuable feature. For others, putting a few notes, ideas, or meeting minutes into a document and uploading it is just as important. For myself, updating my calendar, address book, and to-do list while on the run is the most useful feature.

PDA utilities include clocks, timers, world maps, reference materials (Like the names of the states in Mexico. Quick! How many are there?), and I'll even toss in basic communication features such as hot-sync and linking to the Internet for carry-around content.

"Everything Else" is a very broad category, but it's not so surprising if you consider PDA software to be the frontier of personal organization. The PalmGear site lists its Top 50 downloads, and that list is a really jumbled toy box. The top ten:

1. BigClock 2.83 Clock/Calendar. (437,575 downloads)
2. Noah Lite English dictionary 0.65. (424,585 downloads)
3. SilverScreen 2.3, a program to make palmtop themes. (413,481 downloads)
4. DateBk4.0e, another clock/calendar program. (294,031 downloads)
5. FireViewer Suite 6.0, a very cool graphics program that lets you see pictures on the PDA. (288,227 downloads)
6. Quickoffice 5.6, a spreadsheet, charting, and word processing suite. (286,853 downloads)
7. Launcher III 3.0.5, a replacement application launcher for the PDA. (278,953 downloads)
8. thinkDB 2.5 with Desktop 2.5, a database program. (248,526 downloads)
9. diddleBug 2.15, a sticky note program. (245,006 downloads)
10. PacMan 1.4, a game. (229,453 downloads)

One of my favorite uses that fits into the "Everything Else" category is GPS use. The GPS Nav program is good, but mixing maps with PDAs can get you into a space problem. The maps have to be downloaded to the PDA before you use them, and they can be really big. I once tried to put a map of Dallas/Ft Worth in my Palm Vx and it wouldn't fit. (No jokes about how everything is bigger in Texas, please.)

Name Two of Them

Whoops, I just named ten. In this area we run the risk of crossing the Personal Time Limits Barrier. There are so many programs, and several of them do the same things. A person could spend more time exploring PDA Program Space than they can reasonably justify - ask my ex-wife if you don't believe me. After about an hour, I feel like my Ancestor Count is climbing and I have to choose something. My goal here is to tell you about a few programs that I have tried and found reliable. If I don't name your favorite program, please don't feel like I mean anything negative by it. Congratulations on passing GO, it looks like we rolled different numbers on that lap and I didn't land on your property. If you would like, send me an e-mail describing your favorite program and I'll try to list them on the PDA 2001 Roundup site.

Docs To Go is a suite of programs that allows you to move documents and spreadsheets from the PC to the PDA. FireViewer is great for moving graphics files - pictures of your descendants or your ancestors. I use thinkDB for a database, QuickSheet for a spreadsheet, and SmartDoc for word processing. There are two ways to send e-mail from a PDA: You can write e-mails that are sent by your PC after you hot-sync, and you can write e-mails and send them with a PDA modem. I use the Palm Pilot's Mail program for the former, and I use HandMail for the latter. There are other programs that do the same things. Docs To Go contains a word processor, for example. I use NavComp with my Palm GPS.

I'm a Steven Covey disciple, and I have the Steven Covey for Outlook program. Genealogy research is one of the roles for which I assign tasks to myself.

few important notes and reminders whenever they occur to you, you're getting some benefit from that PDA purchase. I sometimes take my Palm with me when I go walking. As I have ideas - people to call, e-mails to write, things to do - I enter them in my to-do list, or write e-mails for sending when I get home. I'm also fond of a learning program called SuperMemo. I can make "tests" for myself about the thirty-two Mexican states or the B2 Spirit Project. When I have a free minute I can get questions that help me remember these things. I can also tell which planets are where, which comes in handy when kids expect you to know things like that.

I often drag those wordy e-mail travel itineraries to my Outlook calendar. Then all of that verbiage is in my PDA calendar when I go somewhere - confirmation numbers, rates, flight numbers, the whole shebang.

In the fourth and final article in this series, I'll describe how I get the NYTimes and local movie times on my PDA each day, along with the Fort Wayne paper. While that's software too, it fits in the PDA Particulars.

What's the Down Side?

There are so many feature sets that you can't find one that is mature, and has all of the most popular features. We're still at the point where every program has its own special hook. Also, you can find yourself in a spot with data formats after you have chosen a program. If, for example, you have all of your data in thinkDB files, and you switch to HandDBase, you will have to put the information up on the PC, and then bring it back down to the PDA in the new format. Of course, this is still true with PC files for Excel and Lotus, or Word and Word Perfect. The conversion tools for the PDA are not as mature yet, and you should give some thought to your Software Exit Strategy.

RootsWorks: PDA 2001 - Genealogy Software

One of my favorite TV programs is "Inside the Actor's Studio." On one episode, actress Ellen Barkin said, "If you don't develop any craft, trying to get by on talent alone is like being pretty, or being lucky. It doesn't last, and then what do you have?" Using software is like that. People seem to expect to sit down, load three thousand names into the program, and start working. Software and life just isn't like that. If you aren't prepared to invest some time and energy into developing some craft, your experiences with computers will be filled with frustration. Sure, you can probably browse a family tree, but will you know how to print? When and where and how would you cite sources?

Perhaps you can plan your software learning experiences as if they were a school course. Give yourself that three or four month period to pass your final exam. Instant gratification is not a reasonable goal for genealogy software use. Of course, you can go too far with anything, and there's an argument to balance this one.

Technology for its own sake is a great waste of time and money. Some people are prone to waste three days trying to get something to work because it would be cool to try it. Technology is best applied to a clearly articulated problem. Lucky for us, in family history, we have PLENTY of information transfer problems.

In a recent article about Personal Digital Assistant (PDA) software, I wrote that, "PDAs are going to revolutionize the way the genealogists do research in the field, literally." In general, PDA issues are portability issues—leveraging the size of the device to get information to places it wasn't previously available. That encapsulates, for me, the reason to deal with genealogy software and PDAs: convenience and portability.

What Is It?

Let's talk about what a person might want to do with genealogy on a PDA. The generic benchmark includes the following feature set:

GEDCOM Import. Who wants to re-type their family tree? I'm offended when I see someone typing information out of a computer into another computer.

Name lookup. If you have more than a handful of people in your file, a name lookup is a great feature. On a PDA, typing isn't as easy as on a PC, so a "smart lookup"—one where the current position in the list changes as you type each letter—is preferred. The Name List is "home base" for most PDA genealogy software.

Formatted information. We're used to seeing this in certain formats, such as:
—Family group sheet.

The level of detail available varies, but the current state of PDA genealogy software provides all of these functions. If you want to know more about the level of detail in a particular program, all of them have detailed screen shots on their Web sites, and all of them answer e-mail inquiries about the product.

Features that are less universal, but might be useful, are the capability to collect new information, and to beam some of the information to another PDA. I'd like to emphasize that all of this functionality can be packed into a device that fits into your pocket, and is allowed into any library or county clerk's office that I've ever seen. It also works from batteries, so you can carry it into a cemetery and you won't look nearly as silly as you did that time you dragged out the card table, desktop pc, that quarter mile long extension cord, and a big umbrella.

Name Two of Them

On my Web site, at www.sharbrough.net/genealogy/pda2001.htm, there is a more detailed comparison of these programs than would fit into this article. Each of these programs has been downloaded thousands of times, some perhaps as many as twenty thousand times.

My Roots - works with PC or Mac.
GedStar -formerly GedPalm.
GedWise -formerly GedVisor.
Pocket Genealogist - Windows CE or Pocket PC only.

Every time I write an article, half of the e-mail I receive tells me that I've left out the Mac user and that it's probably due to a flaw in my character. Take heart, Mac users! There is something for you in this survey.

Each of these products comes with two programs: the part that runs on the palm (the "PDA Genealogy Application") and the companion part that runs on the desktop (the "Desktop Application"). The desktop application converts from GEDCOM format to the specific database format used by its companion PDA program, and in some cases, back again.

There's one other product I'd like to mention, because it has a very creative set of screen shots. Handytree requires the Palm database program ThinkDB version 2.0. I can't tell how it works with PC software yet. I didn't see the word "GEDCOM" on their site, or at PalmGear. My suspicion is that it's different from the others, and that you have to get your data into an Access-type format before you transfer it to ThinkDB. Setting that aside, the program allows the user to sketch maps and tombstones and to store those images with the information about the people. The information can also be uploaded to the desktop. It's different, and you know that I love me some innovation.

When it Works, What Does it Do?

Some of us have a rather bulky three-ring binder for each family that we research. When I go to the library, I try to have a specific research plan - a particular goal to look for specific records about specific people. I've been told that this is important and I take it seriously. I only carry as much information as I can comfortably carry with me into the repository, and I make my choices about what to carry, in part, on my goals for that day. But every time I go through an index working on Sharbroughs in Alabama in 1810-20, I run into records about my Littrells, too. More often than not, I don't have the three-ring binder for Littrells with me, and I can't tell if I already know anything about the people whose names are in the index or not.

My PDA frees me from that. I can look up the Littrell family and see if I'm coming across old information or new. I can also tell which of my four John Littrells the index deals with because I can see a list of people by name with their birth and death years.

While many libraries welcome laptop users, it's not convenient to carry that laptop up and down the floors of the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, for example. Some people aren't comfortable walking away from a laptop in a library, for fear that it will be stolen. And many rural courthouses don't have a place for you to plug one in at all. PDAs beat laptops for portability and it's not even close.

For that advantage, we pay a price. Even a powerful PDA has some serious size limits compared to a laptop - you can't put all of the images, mp3 files, and data on them that you'd find on a PC. Other features that differentiate products are the operating system, look and feel, developer Web site, price, age, and installed base. I will provide a table of those features on my Web site after this article is published.

The basic process involves a few steps:
—Make a GEDCOM file on your desktop computer. This is typically an Export function from whatever program you use for your research. After you get the hang of this, you might decide that one big file is too clumsy, and split your Wilsons and Smiths into two separate sets.
—Running the "Desktop Application" to convert the Exported GEDCOM into the right format for the "PDA Genealogy Application," and —Running a hot-sync to download the exported-converted information into the PDA. Don't be concerned if this takes ten minutes or longer, depending on the number of people in the database and the vintage of your PDA.

What's the Down Side?

Let's re-visit the Personal Reference Boundary. That is how I refer to the "line in the sand" across which you would not be willing to enter information. You set your Personal Reference Boundary, and enter information on one side of it, and don't enter information on the other side. I predict that you will move that boundary in the years to come as the software on the PC and the Palm makes it easier to move data properly. For example, I don't hesitate to enter appointments and contact info into my PDA, because the sync program merges them in such a way that there is no difference what computer I used to enter into the data. I wouldn't consider that with family history data, but one can hope that someday we will have the same experience in our peculiar domain.

Be very careful about entering new information on the PDA. GedStar describes itself as a "viewer" and I think that there is some wisdom in this. I see PDAs as reference tools, not as research input devices.

There are also some real space limits if you're working on a PDA. PDA Memory is a great asset - you only pay for it once and you get the benefit over and over so buy as much as you can. Another possible down side is the lack of choice if you're using a Mac or running WinCE. Don't despair - quality is more important than quantity and the choices you have are good ones.

The last possible down side I want to mention is the complexity of moving data from the Desktop to the PDA. This seems especially daunting the first few times that you try it. If any of you have the time, I'd like for you to share your experiences with me by e-mail.

What Else?
It's time to talk about registering your software. Some of the products described in this article are "shareware" - which you try before you buy. Once you've tried it, if you decide that you want to continue to use it, you are obligated to register and pay the license fee. This isn't just a moral platitude from a redneck -- it's the law. Some shareware developers have had one registration for every 10 copies downloaded from their sites. This software is reasonably priced, and I encourage you to support these developers by faithfully registering your software. It's never too late. Start today. Okay, I'm getting off the soapbox now.

Some day, a PDA will be, functionally, a completely portable data terminal, wirelessly connected to your home or office network, the Internet, and great stores of information including databases, image galleries, news and mail sources, and lots and lots of genealogy sources. That day isn't here yet. I'm also certain that a day will come when there is a family tree for just about the whole world. One of the ways that tree will be completed is through people sharing what they know. Having the ability to carry your conclusions around in your pocket, and to beam them to others, may hasten that day.

Free Photo/Image Editor

Are you scanning old family photographs and trying to restore or enhance them? Have you found your present Windows graphics-editing program to be a bit "weak"? If so, you might want to try out the free version of Ulead Photo Explorer 6.0. It has an excellent reputation.

Ulead Photo Explorer does cropping, color balancing, BMP-to-JPEG conversions and a lot more. In fact, its capability to convert from one format to another is one of its most popular features. There is a commercial version of Ulead Photo Explorer, available online for $24.95 or in a box for $29.95. However, the free version has most of the capability of the commercial version.

The free version does not support GIF files or LZW-compressed TIFF files. Also, there is no tech support available for the free version. Ulead hopes that your experience with the free version will motivate you to purchase the commercial product.

www.ulead.com/download/freeware.htm.

Well." There's still 84 percent that is attributable to other things. So it's not a single factor, but it's an important factor.

Experts say that people who are concerned about their homocysteine levels can always make sure that they eat a well-balanced diet rich in folic acid, B6 and B12 — and that's good practice at any age.

Spinach, asparagus, turnip greens, lima beans, beef liver, parsley, broccoli and romaine lettuce are all rich in folic acid. Vitamin B12 is naturally found in animal foods including fish, milk and milk products, eggs, meat, and poultry. Fortified breakfast cereals are also an excellent source of vitamin B12, and a particularly good source for vegetarians.Vitamin B6 is found in a wide variety of foods including fortified cereals, beans, meat, poultry, fish, and some fruits and vegetables.

Dementia Prevention?

Amino Acid Homocysteine May Play Role in Developing Alzheimer's Disease

— You can't change most factors, like genes, that determine your risk for Alzheimer's disease or dementia. But new data suggests you may be able to limit your risks by altering your diet or taking dietary supplements.

A study, appearing in the New England Journal of Medicine, finds an association between elevated levels of homocysteine, an amino acid also implicated in heart disease and stroke, and the development of dementia and Alzheimer's disease.

The good news, say experts, is that taking folic acid supplements can lower homocysteine levels, which may make those levels a modifiable risk factor.

Researchers from Boston University and Tufts University in Medford, Mass., used data gathered earlier in what was called the Framingham Study, which aimed to identify factors that contribute to the development of heart disease. In the current study, researchers looked at homocysteine levels taken from blood tests of 1,092 dementia-free subjects aged 65 and older at several stages.

Over the course of eight years, 111 subjects developed dementia, including 83 who developed Alzheimer's disease. When the subject's homocysteine levels were compared, the researchers found that higher levels were associated with increased dementia and Alzheimer's. Specifically, every 5 micromols per liter increase in homocysteine raised the risk of Alzheimer's disease by 40 percent. And a homocysteine level greater than 14 micromols per liter nearly doubled the risk of developing the disease.

Even after adjusting for factors that have been shown in previous studies to affect Alzheimer's disease risk, such as education and genetics, the association still held.

"This suggests that there was an effect of homocysteine on the development of dementia that was independent of the effect of [other] associated risk factors," says Dr. Philip Wolf, professor of neurology at Boston University School of Medicine and principal investigator of the current study and of the Framingham Study.

Lower Homocysteine, Lower Risk?

While the results are promising, no research has yet been conducted to demonstrate that low homocysteine levels are linked to less dementia.

"The key question, which the study doesn't answer, is whether if you lower homocysteine levels, you reduce the risk of Alzheimer's disease," says Dr. Sean Morrison, director of research at the Hertzberg Palliative Care Institute and associate professor in the department of geriatrics and adult development at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City. "I think that [this study] raises the possibility that we may have a future therapy directed at reducing the risk of Alzheimer's disease, but I think that we need to wait for further studies."

In fact, the National Institute of Aging has funded a study to look at the effects of folic acid and vitamins B6 and B12 on homocysteine levels and whether this effect reduces the rate of cognitive decline. That research is currently slated to begin late this year or early 2003.

Yet even if lowering homocysteine is found to have a beneficial effect on dementia, experts say that may not be the whole story.

"Something like 16 percent of all of the Alzheimer's disease [in the current study] could be accounted for by homocysteine," says Wolf. "There's still 84 percent that is attributable to other things. So it's not a single factor, but it's an important factor."

ANCESTRY QUICK TIP

While entering information into my computer program, I stay logged onto the Internet at RootsWeb Town Search:
http://resources.rootsweb.com/cgi-bin/townco.cgi

That way I have a quick method for looking up the counties in which cities are located. Hope this might assist someone else.

FAST FACT: MORE DETAILS ABOUT WILDCARD SEARCHING

==================================================================

One of the more useful features introduced to Ancestry.com recently has been wildcard searching. This simple tool allows researchers to insert an asterisk "*" or a question mark "?" in place of letters in a name if they are unsure of spelling. Wildcards can save you a lot of time by expanding your search scope without requiring you to try different spelling variants, one after another.

Rules for the use of wildcards at Ancestry.com:

1. An asterisk "" represents zero to six characters (i.e., a search for "john" might return "john, johnson, johnsen, johnathon, johns", etc.)

2. More than six characters is represented by a double asterisk, "" (i.e., "Wil" would find both "Wills" and "Williamson.")

3. Any use of the asterisk requires at least the first three letters of a name (i.e. You cannot search for "Ad*", but could use "Ada*.")

4. A single character is represented by question mark "?" and does not require the three-letter minimum (i.e., "Sm?th" equals both

Rootsworks: PDA 2001- Hardware

It seems like every product has a life cycle, and that if you made a graph of the number of manufacturers over time, it would look like a Volkswagen Beetle. A few companies make the thing at first. The market responds favorably and then a lot of companies make one. Finally, after a shakeout where everybody sells them for the cheapest prices you can imagine, only a few are selling them.

It seems that there were only three companies making Personal Digital Assistants (PDAs) a couple of years ago, and today there are more like ten. What does that tell you? It tells you that we're in that teenage period of innovation and creativity, where every idea has a home. And it tells you that we're not yet to the point in time where everybody sells them dirt-cheap.

PDAs are going to revolutionize the way the genealogists do research in the field, literally. We'll talk about the hardware and the general uses for them today. In later articles, we'll talk about the software, genealogy software, and other cool things you can do with them.

What Is It?
It's hard to tell where the PDA stops and the Hand Held Computer starts. Let's just agree that we're talking about gizmos that fit in your hand, and that can perform a set of functions including: addresses, appointments, memos, to-do lists, documents, spreadsheets, music, movies, pictures, and maps. They hot-sync with a personal computer. There are lots for PC, some for Mac, and almost nothing for Unix/Linux.

These machines are differentiated by the Operating System (OS) that they run, more than they are by the functions available. In the same way that some computers use MacOS, Windows, or Linux, PDAs can run Pocket PC, Palm OS, and others. Pocket PC is the new and improved name for Windows CE 3.0. Pocket PC 2002 is the new and improved name for Windows CE 3.1. When they give me the keys to Redmond for a day, I'm going to address that silly naming thing before lunch. I'm going to demand that they serve me coffee with hazelnut creamer, too.

You've probably heard of convergence, the belief that computing, entertainment, and communications are becoming more alike all the time. Computers, TVs, and stereos are becoming hard to tell apart. Many people can watch a DVD on a laptop, a desktop, or a TV set. Well, it doesn't stop there. Some engineers at Sony got drunk and accidentally made a palm pilot that is also a universal remote control. No lie. Well, the drunk part is a lie. The convergence thing is the unvarnished truth. What will they put together with a PDA next? They already come with cameras, phones, remote controls, and wireless modems.

There are still plenty of monochrome displays made, but color is definitely the future PDA look. There are still plenty of modems with jacks for phone wires, but wireless is definitely the future PDA link. Walter Mossberg, who writes very nicely about technology for WSJ.com, says of the Samsung I300 phone/PDA, "In essence, the phone is just another program running on the Palm, or a wireless modem with voice capacities."

Name Two of Them

The list of PDA manufacturers contains some familiar names: Palm, Compaq, HP, Toshiba, Sony, Samsung, Casio. Did I say something about convergence? There are others that are not so familiar: Handspring, Psion, HandEra, Kyocera - the kind of names that won't get past a spell checker. Many of them make several models. There are more varieties of PDA for sale than flavors at Baskin Robbins. They don't make the perfect one yet, but there are lots of good ones. These days, they all have expansion slots, and some have more than one kind!

When It Works, What Does It Do?

People use PDAs for a variety of reasons. I got mine because I wanted to try to be more dependable. Having phone numbers with me wherever I might go meant the end of, "I would have called, but I didn't have your number with me." Having my appointments with me meant the end of, "I'll get back to my office and check my calendar, then I'll let you know." Of course, a man who needs an excuse can find one - "I haven't been able to hot sync for a week, sorry." Welcome to the new millennium.

More recently, I've found that I can carry most of my office with me- word docs, spreadsheets, databases, e-mails, pictures, you name it. It's like having a really big tablet when I need to make notes. It is so easy to make an entry on the to-do list. If someone says that they'd like to check on a book, I can make a note and it stays there. When I hot sync, it starts to show up on my PC, too. Frankly, if you like your excuses easy, don't get a PDA. You'll have to look harder for reasons to forget things.

I can also carry my whole family tree in my Palm Vx. This is handy when I go to a repository to work on Vaughans and Calicos, and start finding things about Sharbroughs. It's been very frustrating to realize that I didn't bring that family's information, and to have to wonder if I already knew anything about the people whose names were on the document in front of me. Now I can look them up and, when I find out that they're not in my direct line, dismiss them with a haughty sniff. Like I said, people use PDAs for a variety of reasons.

When I hot-sync, I get current info from the Web, right in my Palm. For example, I get the current issues of the Economist, the New York Times. I have a picture from the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel, of some feet, with the caption "Feet in Beat" -- so I know what went on at the Quixote Hills Polka Booster Club last week. I also get synopses and reviews of movies, with show times in my neighborhood. Have you ever had to drive to the movies, or call and sit through a long tape loop, just to find out what's on and when?

I haven't mentioned the ease with which you can capture the location of ancestral gravesites, but the GPS attachments make it extremely easy to get the latitude and longitude for any place you go. I also left out the joys of beaming images, files, addresses, and appointments to other PDAs using the infrared port. I won't mention that some people play games on them. I will, in the last installment, describe how they are used as tape recorders and MP3 players.

What's the Down Side?

First off, these things cost money. The most expensive ones are $600. I've seen some inexpensive ones under $200. But that's just the basic unit. Just like when you buy a car or a dress, it's the accessories that will kill you. A modem, expanded memory, optional folding keyboard, wireless modem, extra charging cradle, GPS, and a camera can add up to more than the cost of the original item. For example, Sony has a very nice monochrome Clie for $200, and a very nice wireless modem for $300.

There's a bit of an adjustment period until you get comfortable without a piece of paper in your hand.

The other part of the down side is that whatever you get, one of the other guys will have a bigger one, or will have gotten a better deal. Don't get a PDA for status -- get it for functionality. Get one because it will make you a better man. Or at least that's what you might try saying, to get your wife to agree to the purchase.

What Else?

It's just me, but I don't want to have a Microsoft OS on my PDA and my desktop, along with Microsoft applications on both computers. I want more choice. There is great integration between the components of office on the desktop and the Pocket PC 2002 versions of Word and Excel -- better and simpler than any other method. Freedom doesn't come without a price. I'm southern and we're stubborn like that. Having said that, there's something to be said for a computer with a color display and 64 MB of RAM that runs Word and Excel, and fits into a pocket. Don't leave yours lying around near me.

The current market for PDAs is a rich, chaotic stew of pure possibility. There's all the uncertainty about the future that you had on your first date. You got through that, and you'll get through this the same way -- by asking a lot of

THE WESTERN PALLADIUM, pub. New Lisbon Ohio, Thursday, Feb. 24, 1842..

In 1840, Jacob Slentz of Columbiana Co. Ohio died siezed of 152 acres of land in Rg.5 Twp. 16 Sec. 17 (West Township) leaving Mary the widow, and the others heirs at law; During his lifetime, Jacob Slents conveyed to his sons Jacob, Henry, Eli, Andrew, Michael and Abner, certain tracts in advancement, and that John Slents as copartner with the other heirs is entitled to 1/15th part. Notice given to Joseph Slentz, Elizabeth Slentz, Alexander M'Caleb & Sarah his wife, Henry Saunders & Bridget his wife, Thomas W. Black & Catharine his wife, Sarah B. Dunwoody, Caroline Dunwoody, Hugh Dunwoody and Wm. N.C. Dunwoody...of ADAMS CO. PENNA., and Edmund Slentz & Catharine Slentz, of aALLEGHENY CO. PENNA.

((note: this ties in with Case #2240 in Columbiana Co. Probate Court, but gives far more information about the heirs of Jamob Slentz of West Twp., whose estate entered into Probate on 17 Aug 1840.))

INTRODUCTION

The work for this Volume/Series was put together for the intent of making the marriage records of Columbiana County, Ohio easier and more available for the researcher. They were taken and copied from the actual listings of the Columbiana County Marriage Records in Lisbon, Ohio, and listed in alphabetical order from the earliest date of 1803. The listing is presented by groom with a cross-index by brides. The records are presented as they were found with no attempt to correct errors. Some records were found to be exact duplicates and are only listed once in this book.

This is the first volume of the "Columbiana County, Ohio Marriage Record Series". Other volumes will be published irregularly as work is completed. It is the intent of the author to provide for the researcher an index of all the Columbiana County, Ohio marriage records from the earliest date of 1803.

The following page indicates the date range for each volume. This book contains the first two volumes which covers the dates from May 17, 1803 to August 16, 1833.

Services Offered

Anyone wishing to receive a copy of the actual marriage record may do so by sending requests to the author at ~~P. O. Box 287, Lisbon, OH 44432~~. The fee is $2.00 each postpaid. Samples of what the pages look like from the earliest books are included in this book. More recent books have different formats which include more information.

Special Thanks

A "special thanks" goes out to Stuart Harter and Pamela McCord, two local residents, for their assistance in putting together this project and getting it off to a great start.

THE SLENTZ FAMILY LINE

The earliest record we can find for a "Slentz", by any spelling, is the arrival on the 27th of August, 1733 of the ship "Eliza" in the port of Philadelphia. The "Eliza" had left from Rotterdam, one of the best seaports in northwestern Europe, and sailed across the channel to Dover. The passengers were almost exclusively German/Swiss Protestants trying to escape the religious persecution in Europe for the freedom offered by William Penn in the Colonies. They left Dover, England, for the long voyage across the Atlantic to the Colonies. Upon arrival, they were registered and took an oath of allegiance to the English Government. The "Eliza" left Dover with 58 males over the age of 16, 50 females over 16, and 81 children. When they arrived in the new land, 16 of the children had died during the voyage and 4 adults were very ill. This loss of life was not unusual.

On board was Johan Henrick Stentz, a shoemaker, age 39, his wife, Maria Dorothea Bossert, and their 4 children; Anna Maria 11, Maria Catrina 7, Maria Dorotea 4, and Hans Jacob 1½. Henrick settled on Krentz Creek, west of the Susquehanna River on 240 acres in 1736 and proceeded to have one more son and 5 more daughters. Henrick died in 1758. It is possible that Henrick had a brother, Johann Jacob Slentz, who came at a later date, and who died in 1741, leaving a will which indicated that he had minor children. This, incidently, is the first example of the spelling of the name SLENTZ in the Colonies.

We can not claim relationship to these two men, but show them to indicate the early arrival of the Stentz/Slentz name in the Colonies.

Love and hugs,
Karen

You live in California when . . .

1.You make over $250,000 and you still can't afford to buy a house.
2.The high school quarterback calls a time-out to answer his cell phone.
3.The fastest part of your commute is going down your driveway.
4.You know how to eat an artichoke.
5.You drive to your neighborhood block party.
6.When someone asks you how far something is, you tell them how long it will take to get there rather than how many miles away it is.

You live in New York when . . .

1.You say "the city" and expect everyone to know you mean Manhattan.
2.You have never been to the Statue of Liberty or the Empire State Building.
3.You can get into a four-hour argument about how to get from Columbus Circle to Battery Park, but can't find Wisconsin on a map.
4.You think Central Park is "nature."
5.You believe that being able to swear at people in their own language makes you multi-lingual.
6.You've worn out a car horn.
7.You think eye contact is an act of aggression.

You live in Alaska when . . .

1.You only have four spices: salt, pepper, ketchup and Tabasco.
2.Halloween costumes fit over parkas.
3.You have more than one recipe for moose.
4.Sexy lingerie is anything flannel with less than eight buttons.
5.The four seasons are: winter, still winter, almost winter, and construction.

You live in the Deep South when . . .

1.You get a movie and bait in the same store.
2."y'all" is singular and "all y'all" is plural.
3.After five years you still hear, "You ain't from 'round here, are ya?"
4."He needed killin' " is a valid defense.
5.Everyone has 2 first names: Billy Bob, Jimmy Bob, Mary Sue,Betty

To the Honorable Court of Common Plea, for the county of Columbiana.

The undersigned Master Commissioner of this Court to whom was refered the account of the administrators of the estate of Jacob Slentz late of said county, deceased, Reports— That in pursuance of the Rule of this Court he has examined said account and finds that the amount received from the sale of personal estate is

|---|---|
| | $356„69½ |
| Debts due the estate collected | 104„50 |
| Taken by widow at appraisment | 239„75 |
| Cash received for wheat sold | 63„44 |
| Making the whole amount charged against accountant on this account | $764„38½ |

I do find by proper vouchers exhibited that said accountants have paid debts owing by said estate to the amount of

|---|---|
| | $144„01¼ |
| Costs of administration &c exclusive of the sum to be allowed accountants for their services | $30„00 |
| Total Credits | $174„01¼ |

| Leaving in the hands of accountants for distribution | $590„37¼ |

I do also find that said accountants have paid over to widow and heirs as follows—

|---|---|
| To Mary Slentz widow | $31„00 |
| " Eli Slentz | 12„00 |
| " Mary Slentz widow | 239„75 |
| | $282„75 |

Leaving in the hands of accountants for further distribution $307,62 3/4 out of which the accountants compensation for their services and Masters fee to be allowed by court to be deducted

All which is respectfully submitted

PREFACE

7C58121

Stark County, Ohio was formed in 1809 from Columbiana County. It subsequently lost Brown, Harrison and Rose Townships to Carroll County in 1833 and Green and Franklin Townships to Summit County in 1840. It contains 17 townships today. Its cemeteries date from 1805 when the first settlers came. There are 195 cemeteries today. This volume covers the easternmost townships of Lexington, Washington and Paris plus Marlboro which is adjacent to Lexington. 38 cemeteries are included in these four townships.

Much use has been made of the previous cemetery book entitled "Cemetery Records, Stark County, Ohio." It was researched by E. T. Heald, H. T. O. Blue and H. D. Paxton. It was compiled, edited, indexed and with a foreword by Dorothy Sommer, Head, Reference Division, Canton Public Library Association. The project was sponsored by the Stark County Historical Society. It consisted of four volumes, one of which was the index, and was typed in 1955. It covered 158 cemeteries from the earliest time until 1900. Most of the inscriptions were copied in the 1940's. Much credit must be given to the researchers because many of the tombstones which they copied are unreadable or non-existant today. The map used by E. T. Heald to locate the cemeteries in the 1940's was made available by Eva Sparrowgrove of The Stark County Historical Society.

In this volume the cemetery numbers assigned by Heald have continued to be used. The description of the location of the cemeteries in Stark County was submitted by Marilyn Oyster and Evelyn Jessup to The Ohio Genealogical Society for inclusion in their 1978 book entitled "Ohio Cemeteries", which lists the location of every cemetery in the State of Ohio. The same descriptions are used in this volume and will be used in all volumes to be published in the future.

An attempt has been made to read the tombstones in rows so that an individual could locate a particular stone from the descriptions. This has not always been possible because of the haphazard manner in which some cemeteries are laid out. All stones have been included to the present day. Stones illegible or missing, but listed in Heald's book, have been included and are so indicated.

Additional volumes to be published in the future will contain about four townships geographically adjacent and approximately the size of this volume.

Clay, Jr.," owned by Mr. Spelman at present, a four-year-old, in 2:52 class; entered on the Indiana and Michigan circuits for the season of 1881. Mr. Spelman purchased the Unkefer House at Minerva in 1880. His long association with the public, and fine social qualities, together with a well regulated house, have already placed him at the head in this line of business at Minerva. He is also lessee of the Minerva Union Fair Grounds for 1880-81. Mr. and Mrs. Spelman are members of the Congregational Church. There is a family of two children--Dwight, in his 14th year, and Herbert, in his 5th year.

JAMES SLENTZ, wagon-maker and farmer; P. O. New Franklin; was born in Adams Co., Penn., Dec. 17, 1821; son of Jacob and Nancy (Carr) Slentz. His father was a native of Pennsylvania; his mother of the city of Baltimore, Md. Mr. Jacob Slentz moved to Richland Co., O., in 1823; afterward returned to Columbiana Co., and again, in the summer of 1840, he removed to New Franklin, Stark Co. To them were born a family of seven children. The subject of this sketch labored on the farm until his 16th year, when he learned the wagon-making trade of his father. When he was 22 years of age he set up shop for himself in Columbiana Co., where he continued his trade for twelve years. In 1855 he returned to Stark, and paid attention to manufacturing grain-cradles, which he has since worked at in New Franklin, cultivating his farm at the east end of the village at the same time. Jan. 5, 1843, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Snider, of Paris Tp. Of this union there were seven children, six living—Elmer F., Colorado; Albert O., foreman of wood department of Russell shops, Canton, O.; Orville L., at home, manufacturing grain-cradles; Parmelia, now Mrs. Ensign, of Columbiana Co.; Mrs. Ruth R. Riley, at Paris, and Mrs. Nancy K. More, of Paris Tp. In politics Mr. Slentz is a Democrat, being repeatedly elected Justice of the Peace of Paris Tp. Since 1864 Mr. Slentz has frequently represented his township in the various county and district conventions during the last few years.

ANDREW S. SUTTON, farmer and wool-grower; P. O. Minerva; was born in Jefferson Co., Ross Tp., March, 1848; son of Wiliam and Rebecca (Shane) Sutton, natives of New Jersey, and residents for several years of Virginia. The subject of this sketch was raised upon the farm and received his education from the district school. In his business education he had an excellent tutor; his father who has been one of the successful accumulators of wealth, in the wool-growing and cattle trade of Jefferson Co. In 1876, Andrew removed to Stark Co., and purchased 200 acres in Section 24, a tract of land well adapted by nature to his special line of business, having both bottom and upland pasturage, watered with nine perennial springs. Mr. Sutton keeps a drove of 200 to 225 sheep, Merino being his principal breed; of other stock he usually winters fifteen to twenty head of market cattle, buying and selling in the summer season. Mr. Sutton was married Oct. 2, 1876, to Miss Eliza A. Wallace, of Jefferson Co. They have two children—Henry, 4 years, and Mary, 2 years. In politics he was raised and remains a Republican. Mr. and Mrs. Sutton are members of the Presbyterian Church, at Minerva, he holding the position of Trustee at present. Among the younger business men of this part of Stark, Mr. Sutton holds a high rank for his liberal and upright dealings and stirring business qualities.

NICHOLAS STONEHILL, farmer; P. O. Robertsville; was born April 4, 1834, son of Solomon and Catharine (Miller) Stonehill. Solomon moved to Stark Co., in company with his father, Godfrey Stonehill, a native of Hamburg, Germany, about 1812, and located in Stark Co., Osnaburg Tp.; afterward moved to northwest part of Wayne Co., and there finished his days. Solomon purchased the present homestead of Nicholas, in 1816, of McEntaffer—the interior of Sections 19 and 20. Solomon was engaged in farming and blacksmithing until his death in 1841. During the early manhood of Nicholas, he applied himself to studies, and was fitted to teach, an occupation he afterward followed for five terms. At the death of his father he and his brother John purchased the shares of the remaining four heirs, and have continued farming the same in partnership ever since. John being yet single lives with his brother Nicholas. In 1860 he added 23 acres, making a farm of 150 acres. Mr. Stonehill has been a dealer in live stock, making wool-growing Railroad, David D. Miller sold his interest to his brother, and moved his family and all of his possessions in two covered wagons to Wooster, Ohio, in 1858. In Wooster the Millers established the D. D. Miller Hardware Co. which later established a branch in Canton under the name Sherrick & Miller, from which was formed in 1887 The Canton Hardware Company. Thus the present Canton Hardware Co. links back to the general store in New Franklin 111 years ago.

It is also interesting to note that Zadoc Deppen, one of the original proprietors of New Franklin, belonged to a prominent family with which the Miller family is related by marriage, and members of which had preceded them to New Franklin. D. D., Frank W., and William H. Miller are great-grandsons of John and Elizabeth Deppen Miller. John Miller was drowned in a flood in the Susquehanna River. His widow came to New Franklin with the eight children, of whom the youngest was David D. Miller.

The Holwicks of coffee roasting fame, the Slentz family and the late Ed March also had their Stark County roots at New Franklin. Ed March taught school in New Franklin before moving to Canton. When and why the name was changed from Franklin to New Franklin is not remembered even by the oldest inhabitants. But like numerous other Stark County towns, it was doubtless changed because of duplicating an earlier and larger town elsewhere in the state. In this case Franklin in Warren County, now possessing a population of 4,500, was already a lively town of 336 population in 1820, ten years before Franklin in Stark County was laid out. When John Unkefer made his addition in 1848 the village was already renamed.

Mrs. Mary McDaniels, who is living in the village at the age of 82, was born and raised on a farm one mile north of town, attended the village school as a girl, lived on the farm until she was married and has lived in the village ever since. In her school days she had to walk to school. The school had one room and one teacher for 70 pupils.

Mrs. McDaniels' father, Dennis Towns, was born and raised here too. Her mother came from Pennsylvania when she was eight years old, and lived in the double house across the street—a building more than 100 years old. In fact there are three or four buildings in the village more than 100 years old, according to Mrs. McDaniels. Her uncle was born in one of them; her grandparents lived in another. Her grandfather, John Klett, was a carpet weaver.

Mrs. McDaniels, who is remarkably spry and mentally alert for one of her years, has an excellent memory for New Franklin events. She has twice suffered the terrors of fire in a village which has no fire department. She remembers

Other township settlers coming in before the founding of Sparta were William Ryder, John Russell, George Fetters, Christian Hipple, John Bechtel, Daniel Failer, the Henlines, Keysers, Scroyers, Weavers, Peter Hockensmith, and the Howenstines and Steinmetzs.

The first iron "bloomery" and forge in Stark County were established near Sparta in 1819 by a Cantonian named Luther Drury. The "bloomery" was the furnace for producing malleable iron direct from the ore obtained in the vicinity. The forge produced the wrought iron. The products were floated down the Nimishillen Creek to Uhrichsville via the Big Sandy and Tuscarawas River, and there traded for corn. Uhrichsville was then called Egypt. Drury was also Sparta's first blacksmith.

Not finding the bloomery and forge profitable Drury sold it in 1823 to another Cantonian, Judge James Hazlett, who had established a large store in Sparta, and owned other property there. With the purchase of the iron works Hazlett became the leading business man of Sparta. He sent his son-in-law, John Laird, down from Canton to take charge of the forge, while the bloomery was discontinued. This was the beginning of Laird's experience in the iron and foundry business, which was later established in a substantial way in Canton.

Judge Hazlett sold the Sparta works to Amos Janney, Sparta's founder, in 1826, but bought it back again in 1840, with Mr. Janney's mill and farm, at the time that Janney moved to Indiana. The forge was soon discontinued, but the mill was operated until it burned down. Then a new and better mill was built which continued in operation until recently. From 1886 until 1920 it was operated by Joseph L. Conrad, who lived until May 1947. He was the father of Attorney Michael Conrad of Canton, his brother Joseph L. Conrad, and sister Mrs. J. R. Mueller, also of Canton. After Jospeh L. Conrad sold the mill the dam controlling the mill-race was broken, and the mill ceased to operate.

Today's leading merchant in East Sparta, Paul Morehead, has taken over the old mill and converted it into a grain and feed store. This old building stands on the site of the original mill built by Amos Janney soon after 1815.

This concludes the story of East Sparta's beginning. In a later broadcast we will follow her progress down to the present day with special attention to the U. S. Quarry Tile Co. and its 900 employes.

Pennsylvania, where the grandparents were substantial farming people. Manasseh Holl was brought to Stark County when eight years of age, and settled with his parents on a farm on the Berlin and Massillon Road. There he grew up, attended the district schools, and as a young man followed blacksmithing, after which he bought the old homestead and continued to live there usefully and honored until his death. Enos Holl was one of eleven children: Isaac, Alonzo, Ada, Enos, Eli, Alvin, Kate, Samuel J., Peter, Anna and Elta.

A part of the training which made Mr. Holl a useful citizen came from the district schools near his birthplace, and he finished his education in the Smithville College. Returning home, he assisted his father on the farm for a year, and then took his first important independent step in life by his marriage to Miss Harriet Alice Comp, a daughter of Christian Comp. The Comp family were leading farmers of Wayne County.

After his marriage Mr. and Mrs. Holl removed to Summit County, and spent eight years on a rented farm. They had exercised thrift and industry and were thus able to buy a half interest in the farm, following which for sixteen years Mr. Holl was engaged in developing and improving his land, and finally sold out and brought considerable means back to Stark County, representing years of industry and carefull management. He spent one year in Canton, and then came into Plain Township and bought the old Stoner farm of eighty-three acres. There for ten years he continued his work as a general farmer, and sold his beautiful place in the fall of 1914. He is now enjoying the quiet of retirement and he and his good wife are surrounded with ample comfort for all their future needs.

Mr. and Mrs. Holl are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Greentown. He is an independent voter in politics, and is a member of the Grange.

There are two children. The daughter, Amanda, married Charles Ashburn. Clarence, the only son, is already one of the coming farmers of Stark County. He has charge of the Sheets farm and has gained a considerable reputation by his success in breeding Holstein cattle. He has been a farmer for the past five years and what he has accomplished is ample promise of continued years of productive and useful activity. Clarence Holl married Miss Grace Sheets, daughter of John Sheets, and they have a son Neven Holl, aged three years.

Warren E. Slentz, who is well known in manufacturing circles of Canton as superintendent of the Canton Foundry and Machine Company, is a native son of this city, and with the exception of ten years has spent his entire career here. He was born December 27, 1870, and is a son of the late Albertus O. Slentz.

The name of Slentz has been well known in Stark County since pioneer times, the first of the family to come here being Jacob Slentz, of Pennsylvania, who settled in early times in Columbiana County, but near the Stark County line, and subsequently became one of the early merchants of New Franklin, where for a period of twenty-one years he served as justice of the peace. His son, James Slentz, was born near Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, accompanied the family to Ohio, followed his trade as a wagon maker and wheelwright, and succeeded his father as justice of the peace, also holding that office for twenty-one years. Albertus O. Slentz, son of James, was born in Columbiana County, Ohio, May 18, 1845, and in 1864, when nineteen years of age, enlisted in the Nineteenth Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, with which he served until the close of the Civil war. His military career finished, he learned the carpenter's trade, in the following of which he came to Canton and was employed in the erection of the buildings of the plant of C. Russell & Company, afterwards the Peerless Reaper Company and now occupied by the Bonnot Company. Mr. Slentz next became an employe of the Peerless Reaper Company, and step by step rose to the superintendency of the company. His next venture was in the manufacture of stoves, and still later he was architect for the Canton Board of Education for seven or eight years. Finally, in association with H. A. Cavnaugh, W. J. Poyser, William P. Hall and Jacob Weidman, he participated in the consolidation of the Canton Iron Foundry and the Universal Machine Company, out of which grew the Canton Foundry and Machine Company, of which Mr. Slentz was vice president and general manager for a number of years, holding those positions at the time of his death, January 11, 1915. He was for many years a member of the Canton Board of Education, being at one time president of that body, and also served on the Canton City Council. He was well known in Masonic circles of the city. Mr. Slentz married Lorena Shoof, who was born at Canton, a daughter of the late Henry and Catherine Shoof, natives of Germany, and she still survives in her seventieth year. Three children were born to this union: one who died in infancy; Warren E.; and Nettie, who is the wife of Frank Tyson, of Canton.

Warren E. Slentz was graduated from the Canton High School in the class of 1888 and subsequently took a course at the Canton Business College, his business career starting as assistant bookkeeper of the Canton Hardware Company, a firm with which he was identified for two years. He then became office manager for W. R. Harrison and Co., manufacturers of agricultural implements, of Massillon, Ohio, a position which he held for more than ten years, resigning in January, 1903, to engage in the insurance business, and in January, 1911, became connected with The Canton Foundry and Machine Co., of which he is now superintendent. He is justly accounted one of the city's energetic business men and useful and progressive citizens.

Mr. Slentz is past master of William McKinley Lodge, F. & A. M., vice president of the Masonic Club and a member of the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

Thomas D. Casselman. Another Canton citizen of prominence is Thomas D. Casselman, contractor, who has to his credit many handsome and substantial buildings of this city. The ten years during which he has lived in Canton have been marked by a rapid growth of business on his part, as well as by notable improvements in the various localities that his hand has touched.

persecution began to be felt, members were cast into dungeons, and the membership removed or fell away. Elder Libe became a merchant, and eventually a wine merchant, and at last, in violation of his own principle, as announced in the Häcker case, he married out of the congregation. Thus the most flourishing German congregation, and the most eloquent evangelist alike passed away.

4. Stephen Koch.

Among the Creyfelt members who came with Peter Becker to Germantown in 1719, no one affords a better illustration of the mystical influences that saddened and retarded the growth of the church than Stephen Koch.

Before 1715, he was a minister at Creyfelt, but not an ordained elder. With the more consecrated element of the congregation he engaged in active evangelistic work, traveled much, preached fearlessly, lived nobly. When he came to America, he allowed the spirit to decline. In 1723, he was at the first love feast, a humble member; but the collected membership chose Becker to conduct the services. Whether this in any way affected the zeal of Brother Koch is not known. Perhaps he already had developed such traits of mysticism as to render his leadership unwise. At all events, the Ephrata community had a charm for him.

In August, 1726, the Brethren at Germantown paid a fraternal visit to the Conestoga congregation, then in full fellowship, and presided over by Conrad Beissel. On this visitation Henry Traut and Stephen Koch left the party and visited Jacob Stuntz.

Stuntz came to America in 1720 with Beissel and Steifel. Stuntz paid Beissel's passage to Boston. He also, in 1721, accompanied Beissel to the wilderness and lived a solitary life. About 1724, Stuntz sold the house in which he and Beissel lived in order to recover the money advanced to Beissel on coming to America. This caused Stuntz to suffer the displeasure of Beissel. When Beissel joined the church, Stuntz also became a member. Stuntz married, and under the censure of having married a near relative, Beissel placed him under the ban.

To restore Stuntz to fellowship was the purpose of Traut and Koch's visit. In this they were successful. But in doing so they incurred the censure of Beissel who claimed that he alone had the power to restore Stuntz to the communion of his brethren. Beissel, therefore, not only renewed his opposition to Stuntz, but censured these brethren as well.

In December, 1728, the Conestoga congregation divided and Beissel organized the Seventh Day Society.

In the meantime Stephen Koch lived a solitary life at Ephrata and gradually yielded to the influence of the Pietists on the Wissahickon. From this time reported. The same volume claimed that two of Beissel's friends, Georg Stieffel and Jacob Stuntz, persuaded him to emigrate with them.[60] The chronicle also claimed that some tried to dissuade Beissel from emigrating. Dr. Samuel Carl allegedly encouraged Beissel to stay and maintain important friendships, but Beissel persisted.

Political events in the Palatinate may have convinced him that confessional chaos was about to break out again. Prince Elector Carl Philip succeeded his childless brother, Johann Wilhelm, in 1716, continuing the Roman Catholic Pfalz-Neuburg family line. Carl Philip recalled the Heidelberg Catechism because of its condemnation of the mass. In 1719 he claimed the Holy Spirit Church of Heidelberg for his court church, despite the settlement of 1648 allowing Reformed and Catholics to share it. The prince elector ordered the removal of an interior wall dividing the worship space and sent the Reformed congregation elsewhere. Protestant rulers reacted so strongly that, as Reginald Ward has noted, for a moment in 1719 many Protestants thought they perched on the brink of another disastrous religious war.[61] This situation may have contributed to Beissel's decision to leave Europe permanently.

Conrad Beissel reportedly sailed with four friends: Georg Stieffel, Jacob Stuntz, Simon König, and Hennrich von Bebern. Stuntz reportedly paid Beissel's passage. Beissel arrived in Boston in October 1720, on the ship Elizabeth and Hannah, and then traveled to Philadelphia. The hermit community of Johannes Kelpius (1673–ca. 1708) near Germantown had disbanded, but Beissel imbibed the views of a few surviving members, such as Conrad Matthäi. Meanwhile Beissel apprenticed himself for a year to a weaver, Peter Becker (1687–1758), in Germantown. Becker was a native of Düdelsheim, where Beissel had lived with Jacob Schatz. Becker was baptized by the Neu-Täufer in 1714. Upon their expulsion in 1715, he went with many others to Krefeld. After conflicts within the congregation there, a group emigrated to Pennsylvania in 1719, with Becker as a leader.[62] However, they did not resume worship together in Pennsylvania until 1723.

Beissel and his friends followed a stream of immigrants from southwest Germany and Switzerland that began in 1683 and swelled dramatically in the decades after his arrival in Pennsylvania. Aaron Fogelman has identified three phases of German immigration to the colonies, based primarily on motivation for leaving. From 1683 to 1709, primarily religious repression drove a few hundred to emigrate. Between 1709 and 1714, the British crown actively recruited German and Swiss immigrants to help produce naval stores. Poor harvests after the harsh winter of 1709 in the Palatinate heightened the lure of the new land. Religious issues remained a factor for a minority of the few thousand emigrants

Bernese Anabaptism in the Seventeenth Century

Introduction

Bern was politically strong during the seventeenth century and as such became a mighty stronghold of the Reformed church which it endeavored to protect by every possible means. Few methods were untried by them to win the Anabaptists[1] over to the state church. But often they realized the fruitlessness of their endeavors seeing rather that the Anabaptists gained in numbers. The years 1644 to 1670 were the most difficult in this century for the Anabaptists. They were especially numerous in the Emmental, with Langnau and Sumiswald their centers, although nearly every village had a few members.[1a] Anabaptist sympathizers and "half-Anabaptists" (Halbtäufer) were most numerous during this century. Their large numbers caused the Bernese government as much worry as the Anabaptists themselves.[2]

Persecution in the Seventeenth Century

Although the death sentence was never carried out in Bern after 1571 it remained a part of the statutes to warn the Anabaptists and was often used as a threat to the more obstinate. The sentencing of Anabaptist men to work as galley slaves was considered by some as being much more cruel than the death sentence. The most common treatment was imprisonment. Ministers would try to win them over to the state church, sometimes by kind Biblical discussions and at other occasions by cruel admonitions and condemnations for their stubbornness. If it was not possible to convert them to the state church they were usually expelled from Bernese territory. They were led to the border and forced to take an oath never to return. Those who did return, of whom it seems there was quite a number, were punished for breaking their oath. The ordinary punishment for this crime was to be put in the pillory plus a prison term. Some were sent to the Venetian galleys as slaves but most of them were again banished with further threats.

The mandate of 1585, which was revised and reprinted in 1597, was still in effect when the century opened. This strict mandate against the Anabaptists was to be read once each year from the pulpit of each state church. Among other things it stressed that the ministers and other church officials should make every effort to convert the Anabaptists by Biblical argument. When they were converted, which seldom was the case, they were to confess their former errors before the entire congregation.[3]

In the notes of the Langnau Reformed minister, J. R. Ph. Forrer, made in 1621, there are numerous mentions of his attempts to convert Anabaptists within his parish without success. He admonished Simon Bichsel telling him that he should attend church and hear the sermons. But Bichsel answered that all warning, teaching, and threats would avail nothing as it is plainly written in the Bible, "Go out from them."[4] The brothers Durs and Bendicht Baumgartner of Dürsrütti gave equally frank answers to the minister when asked about their religion. Ulli Baumgartner was put on the rack after he refused to tell of his faith to the Bernese officials.[5]

In 1644 larger discussions with the Anabaptists took place. In the districts of Zofingen, Aarau, and Lenzburg some forty were found. These Anabaptists asked for a hearing before the government. It was agreed to give them permission for safe-conduct on their journey. Hans Tester and Hans Glur were questioned by Marx Rüttimeier. They declared that they could not follow those who were learned as they proceed in all ungodliness. They also complained that the ungodly permit all to participate in the Lord's Supper without using the ban. In the same manner Hans Stenz and Martin Burger had a hearing on March 2, 1646. They were held prisoner and heard again on December 30, 1647. As this also brought no turning of them to the Protestant religion they were again heard separately on January 6, 1648. After a long hearing and a clear statement of their convictions, they were finally sentenced to a term at the Zurich penitentiary. From here they escaped but Stenz was later captured and exiled.[6]

BIBLIOGRAPHY

[1] It is difficult to know when to use the designation "Mennonite" in place of "Anabaptist" for the Swiss Mennonites. The name "Mennonite" was never used in the public documents and only in the latter part of the nineteenth century did it come into use by the Swiss Mennonites themselves. On the other hand, the term "Anabaptist" was also seldom used in the documents and never by the Swiss Mennonites themselves. The terms "Täufer" and "Wiedertäufer" were most commonly used. On the other hand, the name "Mennonite" has come into such widespread general use during the nineteenth century for all the Mennonites outside of Holland, and exclusively so in North America, that it is the proper name to designate the modern descendants of the Swiss Anabaptists. Only in the French language was the term "Anabaptistes" generally used, and that up to the twentieth century, but even there "Mennonite" has replaced it altogether.

By 1640 it appears that in the Emmental there were a considerable number of Anabaptists. Each village had a group. On the seventeenth of January, 1640, orders went out from the government at Bern to Aarwangen, Zofingen, Aarburg, Lenzburg, Thun, Signau, Brandis, and Trachselwald that on January 25 a meeting to review the Anabaptist situation was to be held. The old mandates were again put into effect and strict orders were given to the local authorities to "stop looking through their fingers," and "with God's help to completely outroot this sect." On April 11, 1644, orders went out from Bern to the district officials to imprison the obstinate Anabaptist ministers Uli Zougg, Uli Neuhaus, and Christen Stauffer. In December of the same year a mandate urged that through argument the Anabaptists should be won but if this was impossible they should be exiled and forced to take the oath (Urfehde) never to return. In February, 1649, the old minister Joseph Widmer was imprisoned at the Insel in Bern but because of his old age he was released upon the promise that he would not preach and would attend the state-church services. After the Bernese Peasant War in 1653 there was a significant gain in the numbers of Anabaptists in the Emmental, but shortly thereafter another wave of persecution started. The order went out to capture the ministers of the Anabaptists and imprison them in the newly erected penitentiary and orphanage (Zucht und Waisenhaus) at Bern. There they were to be won over to the state church through prayer and the exposition of God's Word. The first minister to be brought in was Anthoni Himmelberg from Wattenwil. He was forced to spend twenty-eight months in this prison (June 24, 1658, to October 25, 1660) which was the remainder of his natural life. On December 20, 1658, a note was sent out to the district officials to make a list of the Anabaptists and to capture their leading ministers and ringleaders and have them brought to the "orphanage" at Bern. In January, 1659, Anabaptist hunters broke into a meeting at Dürsrütti and took away the minister, Ulli Baumgartner, and three other leading members while the rest of the congregation could only stand by and weep. The captives were taken to Trachselwald and then to Bern where attempts were made to convert them to the state-church religion without avail. So banishment was the punishment. One of these four wrote an account of the story in the form of a poem which was published in 1696 in the Anabaptist hymnbook entitled Geistliches Liederbüchlein.[7]

The Bernese Council formed the Commission for Anabaptist Affairs (Committierten zum Täufergeschäft) on January 4, 1659. This was a specially appointed committee of church officials and government authorities who were to deal with all matters concerning Anabaptists.[8]

Intercession on the part of the Dutch Mennonites on behalf of the Bernese Anabaptists started during 1659. A Mennonite merchant in Amsterdam named Hans Vlamingh wrote a long letter on October 24, 1659, to Christoph Lüthard, Professor of Theology in Bern, and also a member of the Anabaptist Commission, in which he pointed out the unreasonableness of the state-church persecution of the Anabaptists and stressed their pious qualities.[9] A few weeks before (October 9), Heidanus, Professor of Theology at Leiden, had written to the same Christoph Lüthard. The following April 16 Hans Flamingk wrote a letter to another member of the Anabaptist Commission, Wilhelm von Diesbach. The contents are much the same as his letter to Lüthard. A formal protest from the Dutch government was made in February, 1660, on behalf of the Anabaptists in Zürich and Bern, to their respective governments.

DEDICATION

TO ALL THE SLENTZ DESCENDANTS, WITH HOPE THAT ONE DAY, YOU MAY CONFIRM WITH ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY,
THE IDENTITY OF YOUR IMMIGRANT, ANCESTOR
PROGENITOR OF YOUR FINE FAMILY IN AMERICA.

PREFACE

This volume has been specifically compiled as an aid to all those fine American's who spell their family name "SLENTZ", with special emphasis for all those individuals who have undertaken genealogical research, only to find their progress impeded by lack of continuity in identity.

Such misspelling of family names presents a problem of substantial magnitude to the experienced researcher, who must devote time to this task prior to realizing any given measure of results.

One can be empathic of the problems which confronted the early immigrants and of those who found it necessary to rely on phoenetics between verbal and written records especially as it pertains to names, as in some instances such is reflected as a "comedy of errors", where a total of five different spellings from one another are noted in one and the same legal document. Further erosion is noted by the attempt to anglicize the errors, in this instance the name "STENTZ", results in the following spellings:

SLENTZ / STANCE / STAN / STANDS / STANS / STANTS /STANTZ
STENCE / STENE / STENS / STENTS / STENZ /.

The name "SLENTZ", considered an early mispelling of "STENTZ", has cascaded down through the succeeding generations as:

SCHLENS / SCHLENTZ / SHLENTZ / SHLENZ / SLINCH / SLINTS /
SLANCE / SLANTS / SLANTZ / SLENCE / SLENTS / SLENTY /.

As will be noted in the various supporting documents contained in this text, including other historical records.

Having devoted many decades to the research of my family, Immigrant Ancestor HENRICH STENTZ (1690-1758), and noting the interface and encroachment of these two respective families in the same geographic area, I paralled this study and retained the "out takes" in preparation for this report. As of this date, I have published a ten volume series, reconstructing the total infrastructure of the family to provide for those interested to continue to record and update into the future.

In this regard, the compilation of this volume, titled:

"THE SLENTZ - STENTZ CONNECTION
IN THE PROVINCE OF PENNSYLVANIA"

the first portion of the book is devoted to providing the identity of the HENRICH STENTZ FAMILY, and the descendants, with reference to documents of record referencing specific cleavage in identity to eliminate any possibility of being attributed to other than the correct family. The transition from Stentz to Slentz commences on page 106.

The supporting documentation, includes but not limited to Indentures, Last Will and Testaments, Intestate Probate proceedings, Guardianships, Disposition and Sale of Chattel and Personal Property, including the buyers names, amongst whom are listed kinfolks of the family as well as of the colateral families in marriage, who migrated in unity.

Copies of the original hand written documents are exhibited as well as typewritten translations for ease of reading, are provided for the reader. The records of families are assembled as far as practical, with an abundance of records for dissemination and appropriate entry by the descendants, more specifically all may view the same records with reference.

The most significant records are those evidencing the Military service of Patriot Philip Slentz, whose record as such is non-existent in the criteria records of the Pennsylvania Historical & Museum Commission as "Slentz", but proven beyond any doubt.

This compilation was and is not intended to be a definitive work, but merely an in-depth presentation and overview of the complexity of the so-called SLENTZ FAMILY, disciplined in such a manner to permit interested descendants to continue and communicate with one another. Therefore it is sincerely hoped that this publication will provide some direction towards that end.

The compiler's Summary Comments will be rendered on page 638 immediately preceeding the general index.

Your notes and comments will be appreciated and will be preserved, so that at a future date such may possibly be availed to those interested. May GOD continue to bestow His continuing blessing on each of you.

Howard W. "Buster" Stentz
VIII Generation Descendant of Henrich Stentz (1690-1758)

Compiled by Henry James Young V. 1

In 1816, Captain Michael Spangler was elected colonel of the Ninety-fourth Pennsylvania Regiment, composed of militia from York County. He drilled this command for several years and became somewhat noted for his knowledge of tactics. Later he was commissioned brigade inspector of York County, which position he held until his death at York, September 7, 1834, at the age of 43. The following is a complete muster roll of his company, which took part in the battle of North Point:

Captain,

education for the ministry. He preached in the old log church until 1756, when a new log church was built about one mile from Hanover, to the right of the Carlisle pike, on the farm owned by the heirs of David Sprenkle. It was built in 1755, eight years before the town of Hanover was laid out by Richard McAllister, and seven years after York County was erected, and was named St. Michael's Church. The Reformed people were allowed to hold services in it, and any other denomination having regularly ordained ministers. This was about the time of the rise of infidelity in America; hence it is recorded on the early church books that "atheists, deists, and such as profess no faith," were forbidden the use of the church. It was dedicated in 1756, and the following named persons selected as church officers: Nicholas Bittinger, Frederick Gelwix, Philip Morningstar, Jacob Schlegel (Slagle), Jacob Berlin, Jacob Lipp, Ludwig Miller, Henry Schlegel, Michael Weybrecht and Thomas McCartney. Rev. Bager officiated until 1763, when he resigned and for a time was pastor of a church in New York, and Christ's Lutheran Church at York. He returned again and lived near Hanover until his death in 1791, at the age of sixty-six years.

Carl Frederick Wildbahn, a parochial teacher, who had been engaged to teach in Winchester, Virginia, but was driven away on account of a raid made by the Indians on that settlement, came to Hanover and was licensed to preach by the special request of the congregation. He remained from 1765 to 1782. The first date marks the passage of the Stamp Act, and the last the close of the Revolutionary War. Among the list of names above recorded as church officers are found several who were soldiers of that war. When Wildbahn resigned, Captain Nicholas Bittinger, an officer of the Revolution, went to the Synod, which met in Philadelphia. He was delegated to secure a pastor. Not succeeding, he was authorized by that body to read printed sermons from the pulpit, and, if necessary, to perform other ministerial duties.

Rev. Daniel Schroeder became pastor in 1784, of whom not much is known, and for the succeeding six years, the history is not very definite. There are records, however, of Rev. J. Daniel Kurtz, of Baltimore, and Rev. Jacob Goehring of York, occasionally preaching. In 1790 Rev. Frederick Valentine Melsheimer was called. At his first communion he reported 117 members.

The congregation was still worshipping in the log building which served them forty-five years. The graveyard which surrounded this church is still enclosed. There are now no remains of the second church building, in which the congregation so long worshipped, except the outlines of the foundation. In the centre of the graveyard, marked by a marble headstone, rest the remains of Rev. John George Bager. A few of the old tombstones are marble, but most of them sandstone with the inscriptions generally carved in the German language. The familiar names of Young (Jung), Welsh, Slagle, Schlentz, Karl, Metzgar, Etzler, Aulebaugh, etc., are found on the tombstones erected a century and a half ago.

In 1801 a new church was begun on the site of the present one in the town of Hanover. The lot was donated by Jacob Rudisill. Colonel Henry Slagle, George Carl and Henry Schultz were the building committee. The church cost 1,992 pounds, 16 shillings and 2 pence. The spire, now standing, was completed soon afterwards at a cost of $1,300. The dedicatory services lasted three days and took place in 1807. Rev. Melsheimer was a learned man and much respected by the congregation, which he served twenty-five years. A biography of him will be found on page 469. His remains lie in the churchyard adjoining the present building. His son, Rev. John F. Melsheimer, also a noted scientist, succeeded him and continued for twelve years, then retired and devoted his attention to entomology. In 1827, when Rev. Jonathan Ruthrauff became pastor, English preaching was introduced. The name of the church was changed to St. Matthew's, and a charter obtained.

Rev. Jacob Albert was elected in 1837. During his pastorate the church was remodelled and repaired. In 1848 Rev. Charles A. Hay, D. D., was called to the pastorate and remained one year. Dr. Hay was a native of York and became one of the ablest theologians of the Lutheran church. For a period of thirty years he was a member of the faculty of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. The congregation was two Rupp now lives; another where Daniel S. Barnitz now resides, and still another on the site of O'Bold's Building—the last two being on Broadway. Some disorder was occasioned by the dispute as to the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania and Maryland, but this was not serious, as that trouble had expended its fury before Hanover was laid out as a town. The title of "Rogues' Harbor," or "Rogues' Resort," was given to Hanover, on account of the number of fugitives from justice that found a refuge on this disputed land. The following is from Rev. Wiestling's narrative: "If the sheriff of York County could catch a delinquent half a mile out of town, in a northeast direction, then he might legally make him his prisoner, under the authority of the courts of this county; but neither in town nor nearer the town than that, had he any ministerial power." An anecdote, related by a respectable old gentleman, deserves credit: A number of robbers having broken into McAllister's store, he seized them and took them to York for confinement, but the sheriff refused to admit them, saying, "You, of Hanover, wish to be independent: punish your villains yourselves." The number of disreputable characters who sought refuge in Hanover must have been considerably exaggerated by tradition, for, as stated above, the town had but five or six houses in 1764, and in 1768, it was decided to be in Pennsylvania by the running of Mason and Dixon's line.

The new town was named Hanover, at the suggestion of Michael Tanner, a friend of McAllister, and a native of Hanover, in Germany. Tanner had been commissioned one of his majesty's justices of the peace as early as 1755, and was one of the commissioners appointed to lay off York County in 1749. The lots of the new town were sold at fair prices. As an evidence of this, Lot No. 22, on Carlisle Street, next lot north of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, now the site of Mrs. M. W. Barnitz's handsome residence, was bought from McAllister by George Blinsinger for £4, on the 19th day of March, 1794.

The early settlers of this locality, and even as late as the founding of Hanover, were frequently visited by Indians, but no record is given of them committing much depredation. One instance of remarkable note, however, was the shooting* of Adam Forney, which occurred on the 17th of March, 1748. A red man, under the influence of intoxicating liquor, called at Forney's house, and asked him for rum. Forney gave him one drink, when he demanded more, which was refused. The Indian became very much enraged, started away, but soon returned, having a loaded gun in his hand, and shot Forney in the breast. The Indian was captured, taken before Justice Swope, of York, and after a hearing, was imprisoned, and was not released until Adam Forney recovered from his painful wounds. Indians frequently visited Hanover in small bodies, as late as the beginning of the Revolutionary war in 1775, sometimes greatly frightening some of the inhabitants, but doing no injury to them. They came chiefly for the purpose of begging from the whites or trading with them.

TAXABLE INHABITANTS IN 1783.

The county commissioner ordered a special assessment and census taken in York County during the year 1783. Heidelberg Township, laid off in 1750, included till 1815 the town of Hanover and an area of territory not much greater than "Digges' Choice." Being a rich agricultural section, it was densely populated in 1783. The owners of "lots," as designated in the following list, lived in Hanover. The valuation is on a specie basis. The names here given include all residents of Heidelberg Township, which then extended into what is now Adams County.

Adams County, PA Newspaper Extracts - Deaths

(updated and corrected 25 October 2000)

These are the death notices posted in Adams County, PA newspapers from 1802 through 1834. Following, is the source information used and dates for the extracted information:

- "The Centinel", Gettysburg, Adams Co., PA, printed by Robert Harper, East of the Court House and delivered on Wednesdays. Price of a year long subscription in 1805 was $2. Dates extracted here: Jan 6, 1802 -- May 19, 1813
- "The Republican Compiler" published in Gettysburg, printed by Jacob Lefever, opposite the Post Office, Delivered to subscribers each Wednesday. Price, $2 per year. Dates extracted here: Sep 16, 1818 -- Jul 9, 1833
- "Republican Banner" published in Gettysburg, printed on Tuesdays. Dates extracted here: Jul 16, 1833 -- Dec 16, 1834

The date in the first column, is the date the newspaper was issued. The second column contains death notices. I have tried to include any details that might be helpful to a researcher. Some of the death notices in the original newspapers include other details about the person's illness, etc. that I have not included here.

Please note the following:

If the location for the event was a town or township name, I usually did not include any other description. However, if the location was a county, I always included "county" as part of the description. For example: a death occurring in "Franklin," was in Franklin township. If the death was in Franklin county, it would say, "Franklin county."

Surnames such as McAllister, were often spelled in the newspaper as, M'Allister. I copied all information exactly as published in the newspaper, possible spelling mistakes, as well.

I used the following shortcuts: w/John Smith = wife of John Smith. s/George Jones = son of George Jones, and d/George Jones = daughter of George Jones.

Some dates were given for the event, but often they were not. They may say something like, "On Saturday last, John Smith of this borough to Mary Jones of Hamiltonban." It will be easy to figure out the correct date, if you note the date of the newspaper and also take notice of which day of the week that newspaper was published on (either Wednesday or Tuesday) and do the math yourself.

Adams County, PA Newspaper Extracts – Marriages, 1804-34

These are the marriage notices posted in Adams County, PA newspapers from 1802 through 1834. Following, is the source information used and dates for the extracted information:

SLENTZ

- "The Centinel", Gettysburg, Adams Co., PA, printed by Robert Harper, East of the Court House and delivered on Wednesdays. Price of a yearlong subscription in 1805 was $2. Dates extracted here: Jan 6, 1802 -- May 19, 1813
- "The Republican Compiler" published in Gettysburg, printed by Jacob Lefever, opposite the Post Office, Delivered to subscribers each Wednesday. Price, $2 per year. Dates extracted here: Sep 16, 1818 -- Jul 9, 1833
- "Republican Banner" published in Gettysburg, printed on Tuesdays. Dates extracted here: Jul 16, 1833 -- Dec 16, 1834

The date in the first column, is the date the newspaper was issued. The second column the marriage notices. I have tried to include any details that might be helpful to a researcher.

Please note the following:

If the location for the event was a town or township name, I usually did not include any other description. However, if the location was a county, I always included "county" as part of the description. For example: a marriage occurring in "Franklin," was in Franklin township. If the marriage was in Franklin county, it would say, "Franklin county."

Surnames such as McAllister, were often spelled in the newspaper as, M'Allister. I copied all information exactly as published in the newspaper, possible spelling mistakes, as well.

I used the following shortcuts: w/John Smith = wife of John Smith. s/George Jones = son of George Jones, and d/George Jones = daughter of George Jones.

Some dates were given for the event, but often they were not. They may say something like, "On Saturday last, John Smith of this borough to Mary Jones of Hamiltonban." It will be easy to figure out the correct date, if you note the date of the newspaper and also take notice of which day of the week that newspaper was published on (either Wednesday or Tuesday) and do the math yourself.

l had wanted to point out that frederic jacob slentz , having a wife listed as mary#2, the catherine, d. 1804, must have been a mary catherine, a very common combination at that time. her death in 1804 gives jacob a reasonable length of time to find his new mary by the time his son, abner, is born in 1809.

For some reason I can't determine I was running on dim-wit when I wrote you this am..

Anyway I got to looking and I do have barbara listed as the eldest child of Mary..so I have found the birth year somewhere in the files in pennsylvania when we were rooting around there--I show them all on a list extracted from the church records that we researched.

At the time I was submitting files to LDS thru the north Canton Ohio ward...and had to have proof of work submitted--so evidently I had it from somewhere.

Anyway I have scanned the family group record for Jacob and mary and it is in two pages. I will send each page separately so as not to make the files too large to send.

If you have anything that I don't have for them I would be delighted to get it--and as I have mentioned before I have quite a few wills, etc on the other slentz people ---mainly on Andrew---but I have very little on the ones that went to Indiana.
I would like to see Mary's will if you have it.

i gave you a birth year of 1729 for the phillip slentz who married bridgitta melon, but could not locate my source. i found it.

ortginally, it appeared on ancestry.com, but seems to no longer be there. however, in a file of newspaper clipplngs at the adams co., pa. historical society, the following appears:

"died on wednesday last, at the home of his son, in mount pleasant twp, mr. phliip slentz, aged 87 years - leaving 7 children, 63 grandchildren and 75 great-grandchildren. probably died 7 feb 1816.

subtracting 87 from 1816 gives a yob of 1729. the 7 children matches the number provided by kim. his sons were phillip, 1750-1796, frederic jacob, 1758-1840, and john, 1762-1801. the son whose house in which he died was probably jacob's. he was the only one sill living, and the birth records of his children by his second wife, mary, indicate that in 1824 he was still in adams co. son john is also a possibility. even though john was dead, if he had a wife still living in the house, it could be referred to as john's house. the same is true of mary elizabeth living in her deceased husband, phillip's house. but that house was in heidelberg twp, york co.

directly or indirectly from Conewago. One of the earliest of the Conewago "children" was St. Aloysius in Littlestown. There, Catholics in 1791 converted a private home into what they designated "a Church or Chaple," the town's first organized Christian congregation.

Most of Conewago Roman Catholics were Germans who had migrated from Berks County. By the middle of the eighteenth century, however, the larger number of Germans settling in Pennsylvania and Adams County were Protestant. As elsewhere in the province, German Lutherans and German Reformed congregations established what were called union churches. With joint ownership of land and buildings, such congregations used the same sanctuary for worship although at different times. This convenient arrangement became possible since while the two denominations differed on doctrinal matters, they shared the German cultural tradition in common. So closely did German families, whether Lutheran or Reformed, intermingle that intermarriage was common, another reason for supporting union churches.

Although as early as 1754 a union church operated as the Lower Bermudian Church in Latimore Township, the first German churches were separate Lutheran or Reformed. Union churches were not found in the Conewago Settlement. The earliest Lutheran congregation there was St. Matthews, organized in 1741 in what is today the town of Hanover, just east of the present-day York-Adams County line. In 1763, Lutherans established another separate church, St. John's, west of Littlestown. Two Reformed congregations, both dating from 1745, were Christ, just east of Littlestown, and Mt. Olivet in Latimore Township. Soon after John Abbott had laid out the town of Abbottstown in 1763, the Lutherans there founded St. John's and the Reformed organized Emmanuel, both in 1770.

Heavy German migration into Adams County from Lehigh County and other parts of Eastern Pennsylvania during and after the American Revolution increased the number of Lutheran congregations to eight by 1800 and Reformed to seven during the same period. While the earlier German churches tended to be located mostly in the eastern portion of the county, by the end of the century they were found throughout. The union arrangement prevailed. In 1781, Benders in Butler Township was a union church as was Trinity in Arendtsville the same year. The Upper Bermudian union church in Huntington Township claims 1792 as its founding date. St. Mark's Church, located at the junction of today's State Route 97 and the White Church Road south of Gettysburg, began existence as a Reformed congregation in 1789 and later when Lutherans joined it became a union church.

Arrival of the Scotch-Irish in numbers brought Presbyterian into colonial Adams County. About 1740, members of this deno nation formed congregations and erected church houses at t locations. One of the groups organized the Marsh Creek congre tion which met for worship at a site marked today as Blac
Graveyard, a few miles northwest of Gettysburg in Cumberl Township. In 1813, the members decided to relocate in Gettysb and today its successors serve the Gettysburg community as the Get burg Presbyterian Church. The second group located at H terstown as the Great Conewago Church. Its building, erected 1787, is still in use and shares with Conewago Chapel the distinct of being one of the two oldest houses of worship continually in within the county. About 1748, Presbyterians organized the Lo Marsh Creek Church and in 1790, erected a stone edifice wh stands yet just north of the Gettysburg-Fairfield Road a few m west of Gettysburg.

Great Conewago Presbyterian Church

INTRODUCTION and ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Information contained in this publication was compiled from a bound volume in the library of The Historical Society of York County, Pennsylvania. The volume was copied from typewritten sheets loaned by George R. Seiffert, Philadelphia, in 1932. These sheets were copied from the original manuscript in the custody of The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia, where it is part of the Francis M. Etting Collection. The bound volume was checked for accuracy by the S.C.P.G.S. Publications Committee by comparing it with a microfilm copy of the original manuscript.

The original manuscript, labeled "Census of York County, 1762", is a listing by townships, of the rates and assessments of the inhabitants of each township. York County, in 1762, also included all townships in present day Adams County. The original manuscript provides the earlist nearly complete listing of York/Adams County "taxables" known to exist.

Portions of several pages of the original manuscript are missing. In Manchester Twp.(York Co.) approximately 16 surnames beginning with "C" thru "E" are missing, 5 surnames beginning with "G", 15 "R" thru "S" and 5 "S" thru "W". In York Twp.(York Co.) approximately 5 surnames beginning with "A", 6 "L" to "M", and 6 "R" to "S". In Reading Twp.(Adams Co.) approximately 6 surnames beginning with "S" to "T" are missing. Thus, all but approsimately 75 "taxables" of York County in 1762, are listed.

CHAPTER VIII

INDEX OF PERSONS FOR WHOM LAND WAS SURVEYED

The names of the persons for whom the tracts were surveyed are alphabetically listed in this Index. Many times a name is indicated in the records as having a previous right, possession or interest in the land. Occasionally the heirs of a deceased person is listed. Often the name of the original Warantee is supplied. In all these instances where it appears that a person has some title in the land, the name has been included in this Index. For church property and estates, the names are often listed as, in Trust. In these cases each name is indexed separately. Every effort has been made to affix a date to the entries. Only whole acres are given herein, the perches being disregarded. Area of less than one acre is listed as one acre. I have attempted to give the spellings of the names as found. The only exception being where given names were entered in abbreviated form, which have herein been spelled in full. Where doubt existed as to spelling or date, a question mark follows the information. The last column in the tabulation contains the aerial photo map number on which the tract is located. Where only the letters AHC appear, without the remaining four or five figures or letters, it shall be indicative that the land has been plotted in connected survey form, but aerial maps are not in personal possession. However, in many cases the location can be shown on Coast and Geodetic survey maps.

Allen County Public Library
Ft. Wayne, Indiana

INTRODUCTION

This Special Publication is an alphabetized listing of the names found on Collector's Warrants of York County, PA, for December, 1771. Collector's Warrants are known to exist for only 18 of the townships then in existence. As with Special Publications Numbers 5,6,8, and 9, the main value of this Special Publication is as a location finding aid.

Microfilm copies of the original Warrants are available for viewing at The Historical Society of York County, York, PA, and the Wm. Penn Memorial Museum & Archives Building (PA. Historical & Museum Commission) in Harrisburg, PA.

Information and spelling given on the Warrants included in this Special Publication is as found on the originals. Where something written on an original Warrant has a line drawn through it we have included the writing and then typed a line through as in the original. The Cumberland Twp. Warrant has two illegible names(one surname beginning with "G" and one beginning with "P") that have not been included. All names on the other Warrants have been included. For a few surnames it was difficult to ascertain the exact spelling. We have included these names, but have enclosed them in parenthesis, with a question mark, to indicate that the spelling might possibly be in error.

Revised Edition

  - Phillip Jacob, bapt. by Reverend Jacob Lischy on Oct. 30, 1757, and spon. by Phillip Daniel Stentz and Maria Eva Schultzin.
  - Anna Catharina, bapt. by Reverend Jacob Lischy on Sept. 17, 1760, and spon. by Peter and Catharina Stambach.
- Catharina Elisabetha, b. about 1735, and m. Anthony Oler/Ehler before 1755.
- Johan Georg, b. on Oct. 9, 1734, and bapt. at Christ's Lutheran Church of York on Nov. 10, 1734. He m. Susanna (this marriage to Susanna has not been confirmed) about 1763, and Catharina Elisabetha, dau. of Johan Philipp and Maria Sophia Gohn, about 1767. Catharina Elisabetha was b. on Sept. 16, 1744, and bapt. at Canadochly Union Church. Georg and Catharina were sponsors at the baptism of Anna Maria, dau. of Michael and Margaretha Fries, at Kreutz Creek on May 10, 1768, and Johan Georg, son of Phiellieb and Anna Liesbeta Gohn, at Canadochly Union in 1772. ## INTRODUCTION and ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Information contained in this publication was compiled from a bound volume in the library of The Historical Society of York County, Pennsylvania. The volume was copied from typewritten sheets loaned by George R. Seiffert, Philadelphia, in 1932. These sheets were copied from the original manuscript in the custody of The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia, where it is part of the Francis M. Etting Collection. The bound volume was checked for accuracy by the S.C.P.G.S. Publications Committee by comparing it with a microfilm copy of the original manuscript.

The original manuscript, labeled "Census of York County, 1762", is a listing by townships, of the rates and assessments of the inhabitants of each township. York County, in 1762, also included all townships in present day Adams County. The original manuscript provides the earlist nearly complete listing of York/Adams County "taxables" known to exist.

Portions of several pages of the original manuscript are missing. In Manchester Twp.(York Co.) approximately 16 surnames beginning with "C" thru "E" are missing, 5 surnames beginning with "G", 15 "R" thru "S" and 5 "S" thru "W". In York Twp.(York Co.) approximately 5 surnames beginning with "A", 6 "L" to "M", and 6 "R" to "S". In Reading Twp.(Adams Co.) approximately 6 surnames beginning with "S" to "T" are missing. Thus, all but approsimately 75 "taxables" of York County in 1762, are listed.

INTRODUCTION

This Special Publication is an alphabetized listing of the names found on Collector's Warrants of York County, PA, for December, 1771. Collector's Warrants are known to exist for only 18 of the townships then in existence. As with Special Publications Numbers 5,6,8, and 9, the main value of this Special Publication is as a location finding aid.

Microfilm copies of the original Warrants are available for viewing at The Historical Society of York County, York, PA, and the Wm. Penn Memorial Museum & Archives Building (PA. Historical & Museum Commission) in Harrisburg, PA.

Information and spelling given on the Warrants included in this Special Publication is as found on the originals. Where something written on an original Warrant has a line drawn through it we have included the writing and then typed a line through as in the original. The Cumberland Twp. Warrant has two illegible names(one surname beginning with "G" and one beginning with "P") that have not been included. All names on the other Warrants have been included. For a few surnames it was difficult to ascertain the exact spelling. We have included these names, but have enclosed them in parenthesis, with a question mark, to indicate that the spelling might possibly be in error.

Introduction

This publication is extracted from a list of the taxables compiled from all the available tax lists up to 1817 of a single York County township, Heidelberg, including the residents of Hanover Town. In its original form, there is an entry line for each taxable for every year he or she appears. The 9000+ entries fill some 180 pages, an excessive publication burden for so specialized a subject. A copy of the full print-out is available for reference at the Pennsylvania Room of the Hanover Public Library.

From this SCPGS index, one can establish the presence and span of residence of an individual of a given name. One then must go to the tax lists for those years for the many details available. Alternately, one can consult the print-out mentioned above for much, but not necessarily all, of the information available. Ultimately, one must return to the tax lists. Along with the full print-out at the Pennsylvania Room are print-outs of each year and photocopies of the original tax lists coded so that one can arrive at a given name with a minimum of effort.

Sources - Tax Lists

The 25 year gap between 1750 and 1777 for Heidelberg tax lists reflects in part the Maryland claims over a 1727 grant to John Digges of some 10,000 acres named Digges Choice. In 1749, York County renamed Digges Choice Heidelberg Township. The 1750 tax list survives because someone, possibly John Digges himself who lived there, sent a copy to Annapolis. The Maryland Proprietaries protested to the Pennsylvania Proprietaries who instructed the York County Commissioners to stop taxing residents within the grant. No indication has been found in Frederick County records of Maryland taxing Digges Choice.

About 1764, following the agreement between the two colonies to establish a line, York County began to exert some civil authority over the area by appointing Constables, Overseers of the Poor, and Inspectors of Highways. Only after Mason and Dixon had filed their final report in 1768 did York County again appoint tax assessors and collectors. However, no lists have survived for this pre-Revolutionary period.

Most of the tax lists used are available on microfilm and are listed in Table I with their number. The location is given of original lists not on microfilm. When there is more than one list for a year, the most complete one was supplemented with any additional information from the alternate list(s). The style of the lists range from no more than names and amount of tax due to extensive lists of occupations and property with valuations. There are sometimes unexpected notes entered by the collector on family relationships, property transfers and even the health of the taxable.

From the Maryland authorities' point of view, the issue was quite different. Speaking to the Maryland Council in October 1736, Governor Samuel Ogle described the German's letter and its representations in this way,

> "...most extraordinary and illegal Association and Resolution, signed by several Persons who had at first been settled in Baltimore County and for some years past held their Lands under the Authority of this Government and paid their Taxes, of their being unanimous to withdraw their Obedience from this Government and to transfer it to that of Pensilvania (sic)..."

for tracts to the north of the 1768 resurvey.

It is noteworthy that the resurvey warrant of May 21, 1762 was delayed in its execution until mid-June of 1768. The definitive reasons for the delay are unknown. However, during the intervening years nearly all of the new warrants were listed as being within the Manor of Springettsbury. Further, on August 9, 1766, the Board of Property ordered the surveyor-general to lay out, as soon as possible, a 'proprietary plantation' of 500 acres in some 'commodious location' to uphold the Manor of Springettsbury.[34] This tract was an early survey of Survey S-164. Whether the resurvey was deliberately delayed to strengthen the legality of the manor, or put off by other duties, cannot be now determined. Deputy surveyor Charles Lukens eventually conducted the manor resurvey between June 12 and 30, 1768. The new survey found the manor to contain 64,520 acres, as compared to 75,520 in the original 1722 survey. Clearly, the 1722 original Springettsbury Manor, bears little resemblance to the 1768 "official" Manor of Springettsbury.

XV. PROPRIETARY TOWN: YORK TOWN

Although the warrant of June 18, 1722 for the 70,000 acre Springettsbury Manor was extra-legal, by 1741[35] the Penns issued Lancaster official Thomas Cookson a warrant to survey a proprietary town within the (1722) manor, '...on the Codorus where the Monocacy Road crosses the stream.' As noted above, however, the 1722 survey had not been returned to the Land Office for review and was presumed lost. The records do not indicate whether Thomas Cookson knew anything about where the original manor lines were located. Thus, in October 1741, Cookson surveyed approximately 436 acres on both sides of the Codorus Creek on a site which early settlers Baltzer Spangler and Ulrich Wissler helped him to locate. Without apparent knowledge of the 1722 survey, Cookson chose a town site that was a mile and a half outside of the original manor, to the west.

For whatever reason, Cookson apparently never returned this town survey to the Land Office for review. About ten years later, the land office directed George Stevenson to resurvey the town. He conducted this survey during December 1752 and returned the draft for 436 and a half acres, plus six percent for roads and error.[36] When Charles Lukens resurveyed the town as part of the 1768 Springettsbury Manor order for resurvey, [35] Historical Society of Pennsylvania, Penn-Physick Papers, Volume 7, p. 199 contains a petition from Baltzer Spangler in which he says that both he and Ulrich Wissler petitioned Thomas Penn in person in late 1740 for a town within the manor.

it was recomputed to contain 421 acres, 37 perches.

Thomas Cookson had laid out the town into squares in a pattern similar to that of Philadelphia. He apparently followed the following directions, "The squares to be 480 feet wide; 520 feet long; lots 230 by 65; alleys 20 (feet wide); two streets 80 feet wide, to cross each other, and 65 feet square to be cut off the corner of each lot to make a square for any public building or market of 110 feet each side; the lots be let at 7 shillings sterling...,the squares to be laid out the length of two squares to the eastward of Codorus when any number of twenty houses are built."[37] He was to have laid out 256 building lots within the town.

By November 1741 twenty-three lots had been reserved by local settlers. Each applicant agreed to build a substantial dwelling at least sixteen feet square, with a good chimney of brick or stone within one year from the application date. Apparently some applicants were not able to comply with the conditions, and their lots forfeited.

James Logan, who filled various provincial offices for the Penn's, wrote to Thomas Penn about the new York Town, October 31, 1743,

> "As you were please to commit to me the care and regulation of the gentlemen of the town of York on Codorus, I presume an account of my progress of it will not be disagreeable. First then, after the people had notice of a town to be laid out, they had a general meeting and entered their names with me for 70 lots and for promoting immediate building, then the principal persons concerned in applying for the town had their first choice of the lots, and after them such as first applied with an intent to build immediately. The people were satisfied with this, and we have eleven houses already built and several others on foot. I annexed conditions on entering their names, that unless they built in one year their claim should be void.
> Water had been got at about 16 feet near the highest part of town, which gives great encouragement to those settled from the creek. The houses built are from the creek towards the center and several lots are taken up eastward of the center. The people are very intent on the thing and have opened a road to Potapsco (toward Joppa and Baltimore, Maryland)...The two religious societies...the Lutherans and the Calvinists (Reformed), have each applied for a lot for a house of worship which in your name I promise them, and they are going to build immediately...."[38]

Difficulties soon arose with unauthorized activity within the York Town property. George Hoke, who had taken up Lots # 107 and 117, soon began to make bricks and burn lime for assisting the local construction. He was cited for having cut down timber in extensive quantities within the town survey. A 1750 letter from York to the Philadelphia authorities, noted, "...sundry persons have cut off the wood of the town land to burn brick and are now burning brick on lots not granted, to the damage of the inhabitants, who ought to have the wood for firing, and of the purchases of the ungranted lots, which are spoiled by clay holes."

Further, there were some lots within the town taken up without official authorization. Among those who built without license were Jacob Billmeyer on lot # 55, Jacob Fackler on Lot # 60, and Avit Shall on Lot # 74. By April 10, 1751 they were required to give up their occupancy to Nicholas Scull, as agent for the proprietors.[39]

XVII. YORK TOWN LAND DISPUTED

Early settler, Martin Fry settled along the east bank of the Codorus Creek in 1734 and obtained a Blunston License on October 30, 1736 for 250 acres of land. He died in 1739 leaving a widow and three minor children. Apparently Thomas Cookson in his 1741 survey of York Town, surveyed off a portion of the Fry licensed land for the new proprietary town, and by virtue of that 1741 survey sold lots to various settlers. A 1747 resurvey of the disputed land was conducted by Thomas Cookson, and contained about 137 acres. Conflicting claims to the land ensued; the heart of York Town was resurveyed several times under the Fry Blunston License, finally resulting in a April 25, 1774 financial settlement of 1,528 pounds Sterling, 10 shillings from the Penns to the Fry successors.[40]

XVIII. LAND ACQUISITION WITHIN SPRINGETTSBURY MANOR

The mark of land acquisition within Springettsbury Manor is perhaps best described as inconsistent. Depending on proprietary oversight and Pennsylvania Land Office involvement, tracts within the manor were secured by any number of legal procedures. The various methods by which interested settlers secured vacant lands illustrated the government's attempt to keep pace with rapid western expansion, often straining the scope of official oversight.

As noted above, the earliest grants within Springettsbury Manor were under the authority and warrant of Maryland, beginning in 1722. By virtue of these grants and surveys, the authorities of Maryland sought to secure legal claim to all the territory on the west side of the Susquehanna River, far north of where such legal jurisdiction was generally thought to lie. In the Royal Order of 1738, one of the conditions was that each colony was to honor the existing legality of land grants on the other's territory. By virtue of that ruling, the Maryland warrants within the manor of Springettsbury became the first fully patented lands.

To counter the encroachment claims of Maryland, as early as 1734 Samuel Blunston was authorized by the proprietors of Pennsylvania to grant "licenses to settle" to those persons already living on lands west of the Susquehanna River. When the Native American Indian claims to these lands were fully extinguished in 1736, as early as 1738 some of these lands were taken up under the more normative land acquisition process.

Beginning in 1738, lands within Springettsbury Manor were granted under the regular five-fold process: 1)Application, 2)Warrant to survey, 3)Survey, 4)Warrant to agree, and 5)Patent. This process was normative until the early 1760's, and many lands under Blunston Licenses were taken up through this process. Some warrants during these page 155). Other secondary evidence may suggest earlier official parish activity.[77]

A Penn Agent Deed was secured on June 2, 1825 for 44.133 acres, Jacob Liebhart, Conrad Dietz, Simon Fries, Lawrence Fisher, trustees. (See York Deed 3-H-465.)

It appears from the parish register that families had their children baptized without particular regard to church denomination, inasmuch as the same families are noted in both the Lutheran and Reformed lists.

WOLF'S UNION CHURCH

This Lutheran and Reformed union church dates from as early as 1763.[78] Land records note that county Deputy Surveyor Thomas Armor surveyed two and a half acres in Manchester township, "at the instance of Jacob Zeigler and Peter Low," (see York - 9588, original survey). The land from which this survey was taken was first taken under a Blunston License to Jacob Zeigler in 1736 and surveyed in 1746 (see listing under Survey S-8).

Since many of the early families lived to the west in Manchester and Jackson (then, Paradise) townships, a fuller listing ensue with the summary of those future works.

[78] Glatfelter, p. 470.

CANADOCHLY UNION CHURCH

The Lutheran and Reformed congregations, located now in Lower Windsor Township were organized in 1753. On March 9, 1753 a warrant for twenty five acres was granted to Ludwig Meyer and Peter Trett, trustees. Surveyed on December 1, 1753 the tract contained 13.80 acres, and was called "Kerrick Hofh," or 'church yard.' A Penn Agent Deed was secured by trustees of the parish on December 20, 1825 for 20.88 acres (York Deed 3-I-32).[79] (See S-319, page 173 below).

Inasmuch as many of the early families lived in Lower Windsor Township, a fuller listing of individual settlers will appear as those townships are completed by the author.

GUIDE to WARRANTS and PATENTS in PRESENT YORK and ADAMS COUNTIES, PENNSYLVANIA

INTRODUCTION

Anyone who has ever tried to do research into the early land records of Adams and York Counties knows how difficult it can be. The purpose of this Guide is to enhance such a research project by making it easier to find a warrantee or patentee.

A warrant was a document ordering the surveyor general to survey a certain amount of land in a particular location.

A patent was a document executed as the final step in the process of land ownership; it was evidence that the land had been paid for and conveyed legal title to the described tract.

Because people had settled on unwarranted land, and for the purposes of this Guide unwarranted land on the west side of the Susquehanna River, a process for accepting applications was carried out from August 1766 to August 1769; these applications are enumerated in the West Side Applications.

For anyone wanting more information on land records, the following book is recommended: Pennsylvania Land Records: A History and Guide for Research by Donna Bingham Munger, published in 1991 in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission by Scholarly Resources, Inc., of Wilmington, DE.

More than 100 years ago, the people in charge of land records in Pennsylvania -- hundreds of thousands of copies -- knew that these records needed to be organized in a fashion that would make them useable. They decided to organize them by warrant (the first claims for a particular piece of land) resulting in the Warrant Register which lists the information on warrants, surveys and patents, and gives the location for finding the documents in the Pennsylvania State Archives. Although this register lists the warrantees alphabetically (by only the first letter of the surname), the patentees for a particular piece of land are listed under the land for which the warrant was issued; therefore, finding the patentee is a very long and laborious process.

The source documents for this Guide are:

Pennsylvania State Archives WARRANT REGISTER
the portions pertaining to Adams County, York County, and those parts of Lancaster County which are now in Adams or York Counties.

West Side Applications
the portions pertaining to Adams and York Counties.

A warrant was a document ordering the surveyor general to survey a certain amount of land in a particular location.

A patent was a document executed as the final step in the process of land ownership; it was evidence that the land had been sold for and conveyed legal title to the described tract.

Because people had settled on unwarranted land, and for the purposes of this Guide unwarranted land on the west side of the Susquehanna River, a process for accepting applications was devised and from August 1765 to August 1769, these applications are consolidated in the West Side Applications.

For anyone wanting more information on land records, the following book is recommended: Pennsylvania Land Records: A History and Guide for Research by Donna Bingham Munger, published in 1991 in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission by Scholarly Resources, Inc., of Wilmington, DE.

More than 100 years ago, the people in charge of land records in Pennsylvania -- hundreds of thousands of copies -- knew that these records needed to be organized in a fashion that would make them useable. They decided to organize them by warrant, the first record for a particular piece of land resulting in the Warrant Register, which lists the information on warrants, surveys and patents, and gives the location for finding the documents in the Pennsylvania State Archives. Although this register lists the warrantees alphabetically (by only the first letter of the surname), the patentees for a particular piece of land are listed under the land for which the warrant was issued; therefore, finding the patentee is a very long and laborious process.

The source documents for this Guide are:

Pennsylvania State Archives, WARRANT REGISTER
the portions pertaining to Adams County, York County, and those parts of Lancaster County which are now in Adams or York Counties

West Side Applications
the portions pertaining to Adams and York Counties

In these source documents, the following information is displayed in columns:

| WARRANT REGISTER | WEST SIDE APPLICATIONS |
|---|---|
| Number of Warrant | Date |
| Name of Warrantee | Number |
| Quantity | Acres |
| Warrant Location | Copied Surveys Where Copied |
| Date of Warrant | Description |
| Date of Return | |
| Acres Returned | |
| Name of Patentee | |
| Where Recorded Vol No Page | |
| Where Survey is Copied Book Page | |

Because of the mixture of sources, location of names within sources, and the counties involved, a scheme was developed to identify where the names could be found. The following examples should help the researcher understand the scheme used.

Adams County - Warrantee Example a number of 1 or more digits followed by the letter "a"

ALEXANDER
 Robert          3 a
^                ^ ^
|                | |
"A" portion      # Adams County

This listing means that Robert ALEXANDER was a warrantee in Adams County and can be found as #3 in the "A" portion of Adams County in the Warrant Register.

Adams County - Patentee Example a number of 1 or more digits followed by the letter "a" plus one other letter

 John            31 a c
                 ^  ^ ^
                 |  | |_____the "C" portion of warrantees
                 |  |
                 #  Adams County

This listing means that John STERNER was a patentee in Adams County and can be found as #31 in the "C" portion of Adams County in the Warrant Register.

York County - Warrantee Example a number of 1 or more digits followed by the letter "y"

      Michael        5  y
     ^               ^  ^
     |               |  |
    "A" portion      #  York County

This listing means that Michael ANDERSON was a warrantee in York County and can be found as #5 in the "A" portion of York County in the Warrant Register.

York County - Patentee Example a number of 1 or more digits followed by the letter "y" plus one other letter

      David        75  y  i
                   ^   ^  ^
                   |   |  |____ the "i" portion of warrantees
                   #   York County

This listing means that David McCREERY was a patentee in York County and can be found as #75 in the "i" portion of York County in the Warrant Register.

Lancaster County - Warrantee Example a number of 1 or more digits now Adams or York followed by the letter "x"

      Hugh        649 x
     ^              ^ ^
     |              | |
    "M" portion     # Lancaster (now Adams or York) County

This listing means that Hugh MOTHLAND was a warrantee in Lancaster County (in an area that is now part of Adams or York County) and can be found as #649 in the "M" portion of Lancaster County in the Warrant Register.

Lancaster County - Patentee Example a number of 1 or more digits now Adams or York followed by the letter "x" plus one other letter

      Philip L.   398 x b
                    | | |____the "b" portion of warrantees
                    | |
                    # Lancaster (now Adams or York) County

This listing means that Philip L. HOUCK was a patentee in Lancaster County (in an area that is now part of Adams or County) and can be found as #398 in the "b" portion of Lancaster County in the Warrant Register.

Adams County - Applicant Example a number of 1 or more digits
West Side Applications followed by the letters "waa"

 James     3462  w a a

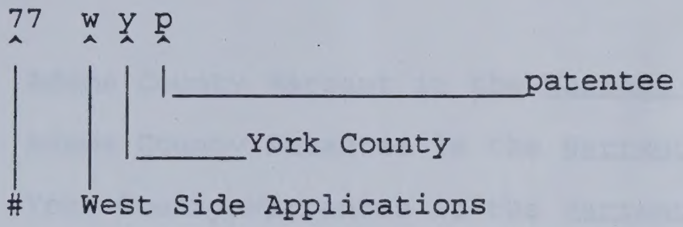
West Side Applications

a number of 1 or more digits followed by the letters "wyp"

KURTZ
George



This listing means that George KURTZ was a patentee in York County and can be found under applicant #77 in the West Side Applications.

Some additional notes to aid your research:

The Adams County Historical Society has the Warrant Register and West Side Applications on microfilm.

The Adams County Historical Society has a microfilm listing of warrants in chronological order, 1733 to 1759. So, for example, if the date (or even approximate date) is known, but the researcher is unsure of the name, the warrant could be located using this chronological listing.

The Adams County Historical Society has thousands of copies of surveys, filed alphabetically by township.

In this Guide, only surnames are capitalized and, conversely, all capitalized names are surnames.

Look for alternate spellings of names. Some names are known to be spelled differently but are listed here as they appear in the source documents.

Columbiana Co Ohio Probate Case #1251

HENRY KING of West Twp.

will: 29 Sep 1829 probated: 31 Dec 1829

beloved wife Mary to have choice of one room in the west end of the house where I now live as long as she sees fit, two cows, two beds and beding, 20 bushels of wheat, her riding saddle and as much kitchen furniture as she may judge necessary for her own use.

To my son William King I devise my plantation where I now live on being 100 acres lying in the southwest corner of Section No 3 Township 16 Range 5 [Section 3, West Twp] in Columbiana County, to take possession of said place at my death and allow his mother the room mentioned as long as she remains lawfull widow and after her marriage or death I will that farm be appraised by three good judicious freeholders and the valuation that they put shall be eaqually divided between all my children in such manner as they may agree at that time and to be paid by said Wm. King. My wife to have $115 out of my personal estate and $15 out of the sum of $115 for the use of schooling Samuel King. All else to be equally divided among all my children and lastly I nominate my son DAVID KING as executor. Dated this 29th day of Sept AD 1829.
Witnesses: Levi Grove and Jacob _______ (in German)

PHILIP SLENTZ

Philip Slentz is the earliest member of the Slentz line whom we can identify with a fair assurance of being correct.

1729

Philip was born, probably, about 1735. In the 6th Series, Pennsylvania Archives, Volume 2, pages 648 and 796, on the rolls of Captain John Wampler's Company of York County Militia, we find that Private Philip Slentz served from 7 December 1781 until 7 February 1782. This Company was assigned the mission of guarding British prisoners-of-war at Camp Security near Yorktown, Pennsylvania. His Revolutionary War service is also recorded by a rather unique note which is also found in the Archives:

JACOB TRINE married one of Philips daughters →

> "February the 26th 1787"
>
> "Mr Skot Please to give Jacobe Trine the Bearer hereof the intrust of mine for going to Camp Security as I am sick and cant come Down I have no certificate frm my Captain I was out in the 7th Class under Captain Wampler if you can you will oblidg your obedient servant
> Philip Slentz"

mostlike This was the "Son" of Philip b. 1729 re Philip melow Slentz →

This note was a request for delayed payment for his service in 1781-1782. The men of a given district had an obligation to serve in the militia when called. This obligation included all men between the ages of 18 and 53 who were sound of body. The men were assigned to squads or companies by age and physical condition. A Private of the 1st Class was a young man in sound physical condition; a Private of the 8th Class was an old man, or a younger man with some disability. In case of a minor alarm, only the men of the 1st or 2nd class would be called for mobilization. In case of a very dire emergency, the men of all 8 Class's would be called. Since Philip states that he was in the 7th Class in the 1787 note, my guess is that he was between 40 and 50 years of age in 1781; i.e., he would have been born 1741-1731.

Philip is listed in the tax lists from Mount Pleasant Township, York County for the following years:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1779 | Philip Slench | 128 acres | 2 horses | 3 cows | |
| 1780 | Philip Slench | 128 acres | 2 horses | 3 cows | 18 pounds tax |
| 1782 | Philip Slench | 128 acres | 3 horses | 3 cows | 8 pounds 5s 2p tax |
| 1798 | Philip Stence | 1 dwelling, 2 acres, 1 story 4 windows, 12 lights | | | 325 valuation |
| | | 119 acres | | | 714 valuation |
| 1799 | Philip Slintz | assesed valuation 1,133 | | | |

From the above we see that Philip owned two plots of land, one of 2 acres where his home was located, and one of 119-128 acres which was probably farm land and pasture. The difference in acreage is probably due to a requirement for an easement for roads.

We also find Philip listed in the US Census records:

1790 Census - Mt Pleasant Twp, York County, page 290
Philip Slentz 1 male over 16, 2 males under 16, 1 female

Philip Slence 1 male over 45, 1 female 10-16, 1 female over 45

Note that the County in which Philip is listed changed between 1790 and 1800; Philip did not move, Adams County was newly formed from the old York County . Again it should be noted that these census records list all persons living in the household - notice that the "2 males under 16" from the 1790 Census are missing by 1800 and a "female 10-16" appears. These young persons could have been grandchildren or even hired help.

The only indication we have of Philip's wife's name is the record of birth of their son John Jacob Slentz, where she is shown as both Catharina and Christina in two seperate records. We have no indication as to her maiden name. Because they had a daughter named Catharina, I believe the correct spelling of her name would also be Catharina rather than Christina. Catharina was evidently deceased prior to December 1814 when Philip wrote his Will since she is not mentioned in the Will.

Philip is not listed in the 1810 Census, but is probably living with his son, Jacob since there are 2 males over 45 years of age listed in Jacob's household. Catharina can not be identified and was probably deceased.

The last record of Philip is his Last Will and Testament, dated February 3rd, 1814. This Will was presented to the Court on 12 February, 1816, which would indicate that Philip died shortly before the presentation date; December 1815, January 1816. The Will, as shown on the following pages, lists his 7 children, the amount each is to receive, and names his son, Jacob and his friend, Gilbert Brinkerhoff as Executors. The estate was finally settled 16 September, 1824 at Gettysburg, when a list of personal property was submitted; "1 corner cupboard, 1 desk, -- 1 trunnel bed and bedding, - - 1 candle stand, 1 large kettle, 1 lot earthen ware, 1 lot augers & dwg knife, 2 shisals spoke, 1 claw & hammer, 1 slop bowl, - - 2 grind stone, - -", etc., etc. The real estate is not mentioned and was probably sold prior to this date.

(JOHN) JACOB SLENTZ

once thought to be Fredric JACOB

There are two records of the birth of John Jacob Slentz: -

| John Jacob Schlentz | Parents:Philip | Witness: Michael Fisher |
| Bap 21 Jan 1759 | Cristina | wife Clara |

(Lischy's Records - Lischy was an itinerant clergyman)

We have found no specific record of Jacob's service during the American Revolution (1775-1783). He would have been in his late teens and early twenties during this period and would have been assigned to one of the 8 battalions of York County Militia that would have existed during this period. We do know that in 1782 there were 4,621 men in these units. A "Jacob Slance" served in Captain Ephrium Pennington's Company of York County Militia between 9 December, 1781 and 9 February 1782 and is listed on the payroll for those dates. This might be our Jacob.

In the 1790 Census there is a "John Slentz" listed on page 286, not far from "Philip Slentz"; this is most probably son and father. This John Slentz is listed as one male over 16, 2 males under 16, and one female. This particular Census record is for York County, but includes 9 townships including Mount Pleasant, which is where Philip and John Jacob Slentz lived.

In 1782 we find Jacob Slench listed in Mt. Pleasant Township on the Tax Lists for that year, again, near Philip Slench. Jacob is listed as having 1 horse and was assessed 3 pounds.

Again, we have no specific data, but can be fairly certain that Jacob married about 1781 when he was about 22 years old. We have no indication as to the name of his wife, but, from Census records, there is an indication that they had children. Apparently Jacob married Mary (maiden name unknown) as his 2nd wife, his first wife probably died about 1795. This was not an uncommon occurance in those years; a review of existing records show many instances of the early death of one spouse and the re-marriage of the survivor, sometimes multiple times.

On 10 March, 1792,"Jacob Slinch" purchased a lot in Mt. Pleasant Twp from Lucus Brinkerhoff for "one hundred and fifty acres and a quarter of an acre" for "five hundred and twenty five pounds lawful currency of the State of Pennsylvania". Lucus Brinkerhoff is probably a member of the same Brinkerhoff family mentioned as an executor in Philip Slentz's Will. A strange thing about this land sale is that "Jacob Slinch" is mentioned multiple times as the purchaser of the property, but the document is signed with an "X", "Philip Slentz, his mark": is this "Daddy" helping his son?

"Jacob Slence" is listed in the 1800 Census for Mt. Pleasant Twp., York County on page 501, line 2 (Philip Slence is on line 14);
3 Males under 10, 2 males 10-16, 1 male 26-45, 3 females under 10, 1 female 26-45. .

During the War of 1812, the British advanced on Baltimore and the Pennsylvania Militia was called into service. A Pvt Jacob Slentz is shown on pay records 29 Mar 1813 and 29 Feb 1814, and Cpl Jacob Slentz is shown 15 & 22 Oct 1814. Jacob's unit was commanded by Capt John Bair and was one of two Companies formed in Hanover; we are quite sure that this is our Jacob Slentz.

In the 1810 Census, Jacob Slentz is shown on page 49 in Mt. Pleasant Township with the following persons in his household:

|---|---|---|---|
| 3 males -10 | 1 male 16-26 | 4 female -10 | 1 female 26-45 |
| 1 male 10-16 | 2 male 45+ | 1 female 10-16 | |

The 2 males "45+" could be Jacob and his widowed father, Philip. The female 26-45 is probably Jacob's younger 2nd wife, Mary.

The only "Jacob Slentz" in the 1820 Census for Pennsylvania is listed on page 90 of Straban Twp., Adams County. It is possible that this is our Jacob and they had moved from Mt. Pleasant Twp., York Co.

1 male 45+ 1 female 26-45 2 females 10-16

There is a note in the abstracts from the Republican Compiler for Adams County, Pennsylvania 1831-1851, page 183, that our Jacob Slentz "removed from Adams County and established his residence in Columbiana County, Ohio. We could find no families by the name of Slentz in the 1820 Census of Ohio, but did find them in the 1830 Census of Columbiana County, West Township, Ohio as follows:

pg 520 Jacob Slance 1 m -5, 1 m 5-10, 1 m 15-20, 1 m 20-30, 1 m 70-80, 2 f 5-10, 1 f 10-15, 2 f 15-20, 1 f 20-30, 1 f 40-50.

From this Census we know that Jacob and several of his children moved to Ohio sometime between 1820 and 1830. This Census also points out the age difference betwen Jacob (age 70-80), and his wife, Mary (age 40-50). On page 515 of this Census, we find Jacob Slance (Jr.), Henry Slance, and Abner Slance listed; sons of Jacob Sr. Jacob Barnhart is shown living next door to Jacob Slance (Jr).

On 11 November 1826, Jacob Sr sold land to his son, Jacob Jr in Section 17 of West Township (Vol 10, page 595, Columbiana Co. Deeds). On the 7th of May 1829, Jacob and Mary, his wife, sold land in Section 17 to a Samuel Hiner (Vol 12, page 357).

Jacob died about July 1840 in West Township and John Foulks and Henry Slentz were appointed administrators for his estate on 17 August 1840. The total estate amounted to $764.38½, evidently in goods and personal property as there is no mention of any land. Mary collected $313.70 and Eli, her son $12.00. After all other debts were paid, including $5.00 for a coffin, the estate was settled in October 1842. The balance of the money was evidently split up between the widow, Mary, and the children, though there is no specific mention of it. Others who were paid, evidently for services to the estate, were: Michael Slentz, Noah Slentz, Jacob Slentz Jr., and Eli Slentz, all sons of Jacob and Mary. John Barnhart, a son-in-law, and his brother, Soloman Barnhart are also mentioned.

All factors considered, this was not a small estate, and indicates that Jacob was not a poor man. He had notes outstanding and a fair size crop of wheat, 122 bushels at 52¢ a bushel. Furthur court records state that all of Jacobs children were over 15 years of age, except Noah, who had a court appointed guardian, Michael Flegle, on 24 November 1840. A civil case appears on the books (Vol 36, pg 763) in March 1842 where John Slentz brought suit against Mary Slentz et al. A deed to a lawyer is signed by Henry, Eli, Andrew, Michael, Abner, and Jacob Slentz. The details of the case are not given, nor its outcome. The dispute was probably over the settlement of the land left by Jacob Sr.

Mary, Jacob's wife, is shown in the 1850 Census living next door to her son, Andrew, and his family in Columbiana County. In this Census, Mary is shown as being born in Pennsylvania, "age 71", i.e. born c1779. This generally matches her age in previous Census records which indicate she was born between 1780 and 1790.

5 of Mary's children moved to DeKalb County, Indiana and Mary moved there between 1850 and 1856. She evidently became ill in the fall of 1856 and wrote out her Last Will and Testament on 20 October, 1856 (DeKalb County Will Book 1. pg 69). In her Will she gives equal shares of her estate to her named children: Barbara, Henry, Eli, Margaretta, Nancy, Andrew, Lydia, Michael, Heddy, Eliza, and Noah. She left $1 to her son, Abner. I am inclined to believe that Mary moved to DeKalb County with her son Abner and possibly Abner acquired some of Mary's property (his share) prior to the time when she wrote her Will. The Will was probated on 15 February, 1859 which indicates that Mary died sometime between 20 Oct 1856 and 15 February, 1859.

THE CHILDREN OF JOHN JACOB SLENTZ

I believe that Jacob Slentz Jr., and possibly other children, were from Jacob Slentz's first marriage. The fact that Jacob Jr. is not mentioned in the Will of Jacob Sr's 2nd wife, Mary, is an indication that Jacob Jr. is a step-son of Mary.

was From 1st wife of Jacob Sl.

I. JACOB SLENTZ JR. - b c1795 (age 60 in Mar 1855). Jacob served in the War of 1812 as the 4th Corporal in Capt George Frysinger's Company of Infantry in the 3rd Regiment of Pennsylvania Militia. He was drafted on 1 Nov 1814 and marched to the defense of Baltimore. Since the British had evacuated by the time Jacob's unit arrived, he was discharged there on 5 Dec, 1814. Jacob's military service record may be found in file BLWT 7799-120-500 in the National Archives. His orders to report for duty state:

> "Sir
> Take note that you are hereby Required, personally or by a Sufficient Substitue, to apear as a Soldier properly armed and equipped for Service, at Ten o'clock at M on Tuesday the 1st day of Novem next, on the public Square, in the Town of Hanover to March emediately."

Jacob married Nancy Carr who was apparently born in Baltimore, Md. in 1802, and moved from York County to Columbiana Co., Ohio. On the 11th of November, 1826, Jacob Jr. purchased land from his father, Jacob Sr, in Section 17 of West township (see pg 114). They later moved to New Franklin Village, Stark Co., Ohio. Jacob entered a land claim on 28 Sep 1850 based on his service in the War of 1812, and was awarded 40 acres of land. On a later application, 17 Mar 1855, he was awarded an additional warrant for 120 acres. Jacob's 1st wife, Nancy, evidently died, and Jacob remarried to Maria _____ who is mentioned in the settlement of Jacob's estate. On 18 Dec 1858 Jacob is shown as the administrator of the estate of Henry Hohn, deceased of Columbiana Co., for 100 acres of land previously owned by Frederick Schullenberger, the father of the wife of Eli Slentz, Jacob's brother. Jacob probably died in 1863 as his estate was probated on 11 Nov 1863 in Stark Co., Ohio.

I am deeply indebted to Howard W. "Buster" Stentz, PO Box 629, Coos Bay, Oregon 97420, who has published multiple books on the Stentz/Slentz families. Through his efforts we were able to add/correct much of previous data on our Slentz family.

ELIZA SLENTZ

Eliza Slentz was born on the 5th of December 1822 in Mount Pleasant Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. She was the daughter of Mary and John Jacob Slentz; 12th of 14 children.

When Eliza was an infant, the family moved from Adams Co., PA to Columbiana County, Ohio. The trip was probably made by boat up the rivers to the vicinity of Youngstown, Ohio. From there the family traveled by ox team to their new home in Section 17 in West Township, which is about 6½ miles to the west north-west of Hanovertown, Ohio. Eliza was raised on the family farm with her brothers and sisters who were living at home, or married and living on farms near by. Down the road two miles lived the family of Peter Barnhart.

On the 15th of November, 1838, Eliza married young ~~Peter~~ JOHN Barnhart, the son of Peter Barnhart Sr. Their marriage is recorded in Vol 3, pg 201 of the Marriage Records of Columbiana County. It appears that this was a double wedding in that Eliza's sister, Lydia, married Cyrenias Bates on the same day. This was not unusual on the frontiers because of the shortage of ministers. Marriages and baptisms often had to wait until the traveling minister arrived in the neighborhood. Eliza was just a few weeks away from her 16th birthday when she married.

On the 19th of April 1843, Eliza and John signed a quit claim of release on land her brother had owned prior to his death about 1840. Both Eliza and John came from large families and the family farm could not support all the young married couples. Between 1845 and 1850 many of their relatives and neighbors started heading for newly opened land in western Ohio and Indiana. In 1846 or 1847, John and Eliza joined the migration and settled in Union Township (now Grant Township), in DeKalb County, Indiana.

Their first home was a two room log cabin with a stone fireplace on what later became the Keller farm near Waterloo. Their 6th child was born in their new home on the 13th of July, 1848. It is known that the family was not prosperous and had to work hard to support themselves. Eliza ofte shared in the heavy manual labor demanded of the farm, and at the same time bore and reared 13 children. Eliza's brother, Michael, lived about 4 doors from them in 1860, and about 10 doors away lived the Rockwells. During the Civil War, their 3rd son was killed in action at Iuka, Mississippi as a member of Company I, 48th Indiana Infantry.

Eliza's husband died on the 26th of February, 1876 at the age of 60. In the summer of 1880, Eliza is still living on the homestead with her son, Levi, who was now 19. With them is Eliza Keller, her widowed daughter, and her 4 year old granddaughter, Etta. In the Census records for 1880, Eliza states her place of birth as Pennsylvania (which is correct), and stated that her parents were born in Switzerland. This is probably a reflection of an old family story and may be true for Eliza'z grandparents. We do know that most of the family were "Pennsylvania Dutch" and wer of Swiss/German origin. Linnie Rockwell Shook, Eliza's grandaughter, has stated that her mother, Malinda Barnhart, Eliza's daughter, could speak German.

On 11 July, 1890, Eliza applied for and received a mother's pension of $12 per month based upon her son, Noah's death during the Civil War. Eliza signed with an "X". She lived on alone until her death on the 24th of January, 1900. Eliza's death certificate gives the cause of death as tuberculosis and old age after several years illness. She was buried in Waterloo on the 26th of January, 1900. Extensive searches have failed to locate her grave, but is probably next to her husband, John Barnhart, in the Waterloo Memorial Cemetery.

A Message from the Author.

I am an old man, will be 77 years of age on Friday March 13th. I am interested in all the fine people who write to me. Please tell me something about you and your family, age, what professional or occupational pursuits, children, etc.

It is a wonder the state of Ohio and Indiana, has not sunk with subsidence from the sheer weight of our ancestors who tamed the early wilderness of that area -

Much history regarding the early history prior to statehood in other related volumes -

At any time that you may elect to order any other volume's, your present purchase would be retroactively adjusted to reflect qualification for the lot order prices -

With all my respect.

THANK you for your inquiry on the Book -

Please find descriptive sheets enclosed -
This Book defines all the confusion.

Hand Bound, Embossed and Indexed.
The cost is $100.00
plus 7.50 UPS shipping, packing handling Weight 2.80 Lbs.

Should you order the Book and make your connection it would provide an understanding into new directions of research -

It would be helpful if you would submit family group sheets for my examination and immediate return to you - But I could see collateral names, places and dates of birth which you have - If I could suggest something further, I would do so -

I am enclosing some recommended research on "Cripe" - Best Wishes -

I hereby certify that in compliance with the requirements of the law* I have carefully examined this applicant, who states that he is suffering from the following disability, incurred in the service, viz:

Cause of disability. Blindness

If a pensioner, fill in the amount; if not, erase the whole line. and that he receives a pension of $16 — dollars per month.

Pulse rate per minute, —; respiration, —; temperature, —; height, feet — inches; weight, — pounds; age, — years.

He makes the following statement upon which he bases his claim for† Inc.

Here give the claimant's statement as briefly and as compactly as possible.

Here give a full symptom picture of the case, embracing all the physical and rational signs, but confining it to the present condition of the claimant.

It must be borne in mind that the duty of the Surgeon is to give an opinion as to the proportionate degree of disability, as ½, ¼, total, &c., through the grades, without any regard to dollars and cents, and to make such a full particular description as will afford to this Office the ground for intelligent opinion and action in rating.

Right Eye. Lids: epiphora puncta, and stillicidium lachrymarum. Cilia: distichiasis and trichiasis. Conjunctiva: deeply cicatricial. Large tarsal timor upper lid. Lachrymal lacunae normal, ocular conjunctiva inflamed, palpebral conjunctiva trachomatous and deeply cicatricial, chronic phlyctenular corneitis, cornea very hazy. Iris — chronic traumatic subacute iritis, caused by proximity of inflammation of cornea &c. Think the lens & fundus are normal, but I cannot use ophthalmiscope in this case on account of haziness of cornea. No anomaly of refraction to correct for the same reason. Same description will do for left eye except [illegible]. He can see to get around alone. but cannot decipher any smaller no 6" at one foot.

From the existing condition and the history of this claimant, as stated by himself, it is, in my judgment, very probable that the disability was incurred in the service as he claims, and that it has not been prolonged or aggravated by vicious habits. He is, in my opinion, entitled to an Inc. rating for the disability caused by blindness, — for that caused by —, and — caused by —

LEPPER LIBRARY
LISBON, OHIO

Since the village has been incorporated, its appearance has been considerably beautified, and the general welfare of the place greatly advanced.

The East Palestine Union School.—On the 30th of March, 1865, the Legislature of the State constituted all of sections 25, 36, and all that part of sections 26 and 35 lying east of Lesslie's Run, a special district, with the powers and privileges usually attaching to such districts, and authorizing the selection of three persons as a board of education. This board was organized the following spring, with J. T. Chamberlain, President; Hugh Laughlin, Secretary; and William M. Saint, Treasurer. These gentlemen yet constitute the board, although performing different functions of office.

In September, 1875, a school-building was begun on an elevated lot in the southern part of the village, and completed the succeeding season. It is a handsome brick structure, 68 by 84 feet, two stories high, and is surmounted by an attractive tower containing a finely-toned bell. It contains six spacious recitation-rooms, and a lecture-hall whose dimensions are 33 by 80 feet. The building is handsomely furnished throughout, at a cost of $14,000.

It was opened for school purposes in the fall of 1876, under the principalship of A. Y. Taylor, who yet remains in charge, assisted by four teachers.

The school has primary, intermediate, grammar, and high-school departments, thoroughly graded, and is attended by 250 pupils. The cost of maintaining the school is $2000 per year.

In most of the other districts of the township good schools are maintained, but we have been unable to gather any reliable statistics concerning their present status. In 1823 there were three districts, and in 1826 six.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

It is stated, on the authority of some of the old citizens of the township, that religious meetings were held as early as the latter part of 1802 at the house of Adam Rupert; that Rev. John Stough was the preacher; and that, acting on the suggestion of Mr. Stough, the people of the northern part of the township united to build what has since been known as to be used by the Lutheran and Reformed congregations then existing or about to be formed. Accordingly, in 1803 or 1804, a log meeting-house was built on the southwest corner of what was known as the Forney section, No. 10. This house was about 30 feet square, and was very plainly furnished. It was displaced in 1823 by a two-story brick church, built after the fashion of that day, with a high pulpit, gallery, etc., and had a very large capacity. In 1861 it was taken down, and a part of the material used in building the present house, which has accommodations for three hundred persons, and is under the joint control of the societies below named.

THE SALEM, OR UNION CHURCH,

The Salem Lutheran Congregation had, besides the Rupert family, already named, among its original members, persons belonging to the Forney, Myers, Mollenkopf, and Metz families. It enjoyed the labors of Rev. J. Stough, probably, part of the time as pastor, until after the first brick church was built, when a Rev. Shaefer became pastor. Since that time the principal clergy have been the Revs. Hoffman, Haelsche, Ellinger, Schlutterman, Siegler, Nouffer, Kramer, Schillinger, and Humberger. This congregation is one of four served by Mr. Humberger, who became the pastor in 1876. Owing to the formation of other churches, the membership is not very large at present. Its Consistory is composed of George Mollenkopf, Benjamin Lentz, Jonathan Rukenbrod, and Levi Meckley. Other members of the Consistory have been John Sheets, John G. Miller, Adam Rupert, Jacob Rupert, John May, Conrad Yarrian, George Kale, Louis Wernwag, John Kale, Gottlieb Kuehler, George Yarrian, G. Wilhelm, Moses Sitler, and Jacob Beight.

The Salem Reformed Congregation was formed at a somewhat later period than the foregoing, but the exact date cannot be determined. Rev. Peter Mahnnesmith was the first pastor, serving the congregation in connection with other appointments in the surrounding townships. His successors in the pastoral office have been Revs. Henry Sonnendecker, J. F. Englebach, F. Wahl, James Reinhard, and John Neille. A few others served as supplies. Since 1870, Rev. John Meckley has been the pastor, filling that position for the congregation of Springfield also.

The present members of the Consistory are Daniel Metz, John Mollenkopf, William Metz, and Omer Rouch. Among former members of the Consistory may be named Solomon Rouch, Daniel Heek, Jacob Buheeker, Jacob Unger, Andrew Forney, Daniel Rouch, Benjamin Unger, John Heek, Jose Wetzell, David Peters, Samuel Rupert, and Peter Miller.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH.

During the pastorate of the Rev. Jacob Haelsche a disaffection occurred in the Salem congregation, which caused the withdrawal of about sixty persons, and the formation, in 1839, of the above church. It was determined to build a church on section 2, on a lot purchased from George Kale, and among those foremost in promoting this object were Jacob Hoffman, Martin Koch, Gottlieb Baumgardner, Frederick Wagner, Christian Faas, Israel Schiller, John Wagner, Christian Eli, John Greiner, and Jacob Sensenbaugh. It is an attractive frame, and was placed in good repair in 1873.

Rev. Haelsche became the pastor of the church, and continued with it about four years. He was followed by Rev. Henry Miller, for about the same length of time. The next pastor was the Rev. Wm. Sigelin, during whose connection the interests of the Lutheran churches were united, and St. Paul's became a part of the old parish. This arrangement is yet continued, and from that period this church and the Salem congregation have had the same pastors, viz.: Revs. Schlotterman, Nouffer, Kramer, Schillinger, and Humberger. Formerly the services were wholly in German, but since Rev. Kramer's connection they have been in English about half the time.

The congregation has about 180 communicants, and the following Consistory: William Wernwag, William Greiner, Eli Harman, Tobias Beight, John Heinle, and Benjamin Hoffmaister. Other prominent members of the Council have been David Mollenkopf, Martin Fetter, John Hoff-

STENTZ

The Stentz family is probably of German origin.

The immigrant ancestor of the Stentz family in Lancaster and York Counties, Pennsylvania is Henry Stentz. He was born on -- June 1690 or -- Sep 1694 in Germany. There are two contemporary records which give the name of his parents. One gives Rudolph and Eva Barbara Stentz. The other gives Reverend Jacob and Vernoica Peters Stentz. It is not clear which were the parents of our Henry Stentz.

Henry Stentz was married in Germany circa 1720 to a woman named Anna Maria. No data on her maiden name and her parents has been found. Anna Maria was born circa 1702 and died in 1730 probably in Germany.

After Anna Maria's death, Henry Stentz was married in Germany circa 1731 to Maria Dorothea Bosserth. No data found on her parents has been located. Maria Dorothea was born circa 1718 probably in Germany.

Apparently Henry, his wife Maria and children traveled from Germany to Holland. Here they boarded the ship "Elizabeth" at Rotterdam, Holland and traveled to Dover, England for the trip to America in 1733. On Thursday, 27 Auguat 1733, they arrived in Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania according to the ship lists. While waiting to clear with the colonial government officials there, they took the oath of allegiance to the British Crown and the Province of Pennsylvania on the same day.

Based on the ship lists, Henry Stentz gave his occupation as "shoemaker". So he continued in that occupation until his death. He is so named in his will.

Shortly after their arrival, he and his family traveled to the "frontier", on the west side of Susquehanna River in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Today, this is in Hellam Township of York County, Pennsylvania.

On Saturday, 11 August 1736, Henry Stentz and others signed the petition to the Governor and Magistrates of the Province of Maryland that they would adhere to the "laws and Government of Pennsilvania." This incident was a part of the boundary dispute between Pennsylvania and Maryland. This was not resolved until years later.

On Saturday, 14 October 1758, Henry Stentz died after eight days of illness and was buried on Monday, 16 October 1758 in "Reformed Church Cemetery on Kreutz Creek."

Henry left a last Will and Testament. It was written on Monday, 16 December 1755 and was probated on Tuesday, 14 November 1758. He mentioned his second wife and children by both the first wife and second wife. A full transcript will be follow.

No other data on Maria Dorothea Bossert Stentz was found after his death. But it is assumed that when she died, she was buried with Henry Stentz.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA GERMAN SOCIETY, Volume 22

About the same time the following communication was sent to the Governor of Maryland:[90]

LANCASTER COUNTY IN PENSILVANIA

Sir

The Oppression and ill Usage We have met with from the Government of Maryland, or at least from such Persons who have been empowered thereby and their Proceedings connived at, has been a Treatment (as We are well informed) very different from that which the Tenants of your Government have generally met with, which with many other cogent Reasons, give Us good Cause to conclude the Governor and Magistrates of that Province do not themselves believe Us to be settled within the real Bounds of his Lordships Dominions, but we have been seduced & made Use of, first by fair Promises, and afterwards by Threats and Punishments to answer Purposes which are at present unjustifiable, and will if pursued tend to Utter Ruin.

We therefore the Subscribers with many Others Our Neighbours being become at last truly sensible of the Wrong we have done the Proprietors of Pensilvania in settling on their Lands without paying Obedience to their Government do resolve to return to our Duty and live under the Laws and Government of Pensilvania, in which Province We believe Our selves seated.

To this We unanimously resolve to adhere 'till the Contrary shall be determined by a legal Decision of the Disputed Bounds, and Our honest and just Intention we desire may be communicated to the Governor of Maryland or whom else it may concern.

I am descended from Noah Slentz, Harvey Andrew and Abner's brother. Noah married Mary Rigby, and they had 12 children, Ephraim Slentz being the second. Ephraim married Zelpha Gaunt and they had six children, my g-grandfather, Lewis Washington Slentz, being one.

Lewis married Sarah Elizabeth Mitchell in Indiana, and after several years, moved his family to Illinois, and then to Oklahoma. My grandfather, Herbert Lavaun Slentz, was born in Jay Co., Indiana, and he had five siblings. Funny thing is, when we looked up his birth at Jay Co., all they had was an Ephraim Slentz born on his birthdate. He is also listed as Ephraim in the census. However, his marriage certificate lists him as Herbert Lavaun Slentz. His father is Lewis Washington Slentz, and we have family pictures of all the family members. There is no way he cannot be from this family. The resemblence is to remarkable. Perhaps someone can help us with this. No, he was not born a twin, but do not know what to think of this.

Herbert married Mary Alice Holder, and they had five children, my mother being the middle child. I would love to share any information I have on this family.

My Lord continued with, "His name is written in the book of life and no one can snatch him from me. Satan still does not understand yet. This man is not to be given justice, but rather mercy."

As Jesus sat down, he quietly paused, looked at his Father and replied, "There is nothing else that needs to be done. I've done it all." The judge lifted his mighty hand and slammed the gavel down. The following words bellowed from his lips... "This man is free. The penalty for him has already been paid in full. Case dismissed.

As my Lord led me away, I could hear Satan ranting and raving, "I won't give up, I'll win the next one." I asked Jesus as he gave me my instructions where to go next, "Have you ever lost a case?"

Christ lovingly smiled and said, "Everyone that has come to me and asked me to represent them has received the same verdict as you, Paid in Full."

If you do not pass this along to 15 people immediately, absolutely nothing will happen. No curse, no bad fortune, absolutely nothing. Passing this on to anyone you consider a friend, (as I have done here), will bless you both, that is what Jesus promised us all.

It sounds like you have been having some hot weather! I am glad to hear that you got a new air conditioner. 90 degrees is way too hot for June. (It's too hot, period!)

It's been hot here, but, that's normal for Texas. They are predicting less 100 degree days. Believe or not, that's very good news. 90 is tolerable, 100 is just fry pan weather. Speaking of fry pans, I bought a new omelet pan. The old one had just gotten too cruddy. I splurged and bought a Calphalon pan. It has the easy-clean coating and a lifetime warranty. I just love it. I know that sounds silly, but, a pan that cleans up in two seconds is worth having.

So you are still a rock star--that is, you are still wearing sunglasses in the house. You know, my dad used to yell at me when I used to do that! I hope your real glasses come in soon. I am sure you are tired of the shades.

Well, I think we are ready for the Gutknecht visit. I've got beds set up and Capri Suns at the ready. It will be great to see them. I just hope all goes well with Rich's family. Katrina sounded like she was already dreading it and she hadn't even left Indiana. It's too bad you can't pick your in-laws. I got lucky on that score. Of course, Dan got the bum pick on that one!

Dan got back from Houston and, fortunately, seems to have stayed healthy. (Although why he had to share his cold with me, I'll never know.) He didn't get as much out of the class as he had hoped, but he did get a really nifty T shirt. So, it was worthwhile. I am just hoping he stays home for a while.

I finally got the yarn in for Mom's afghan. Her old one didn't go with her new house. Anyway, I got lucky (I was picking colors online and that doesn't always work) and the yarn I ordered will go with her new colors. Now I just have to get to work!

Anyway, I guess that's the news here. Stay cool and take care.

Love and hugs,
Karen and Dan

Biography of Isaiah Baughman, page 840. History of De Kalb County, Indiana. Inter-State Publishing Company, Chicago, 1885.

Isaiah Baughman, was born in Carroll County, Ohio, Jan. 5, 1843, a son of John and Nancy (Slentz) Baughman, natives of Ohio. His grandparents were native of Pennsylvania, and early settlers of Ohio. In 1844 his parents moved to De Kalb County, Ind., and entered a tract of 120 acres from the Government on section 23, Union Township, which he cleared and to which he subsequently added forty acres. He was one of the sturdy pioneers, and endured many hardships and privations. After paying for his land he had a little money left with which he bought some salt and leather and a scanty supply of provisions. He was twice married. To him and his first wife were born eight children---Addison, George W., Isaiah, Eliza (wife of David Mizer), Nancy M. (wife of Charles W. Oider), Samantha (wife of Sheldon Crooks), Ermina (wife of Henry Smith), and Matilda (wife of James Seibert). His second wife was Elizabeth Weeks, and to them were born four children---John F., Idola, Ida, and Carrie. Isaiah Baughman was reared and educated in De Kalb County, attending the log cabin district school. When seventeen years of age he enlisted in the defense of the Union in Company H, Thirtieth Indiana Infantry, and served from September, 1861, till February, 1862, when he was discharged on account of ill health. The following August he again enlisted, and was assigned to Company A, Eighty-eighth Indiana Infantry. At the battle of Stone River, Jan. 2, 1863, he was wounded in the right leg, and lay in the hospital till April 20, when he was discharged. After his recovery he again enlisted March 25, 1864, and served in Company A, First Indiana Heavy Artillery till the close of the war; was discharged in January, 1866. He then worked on the farm for his father till his marriage, when he settled on section 24, buying forty acres of land. Three years later he sold this land and bought eighty acres on section 14, where he now lives, located on what was known as the "Island." This land he has improved, and has erected a fine two-story dwelling and a good barn and other farm buildings. Mr. Baughman was married in 1868 to Sophia Weeks, daughter of John and Mary A. Weeks, early settlers of De Kalb County. To them have been born six children---Willis, Laura, Anna, Cora, Dora and Ward. Mr. and Mrs. Baughman are members of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The Gutknechts' have been spending the past few days with Rich's relatives. It sounds like they have been having fun. They will be back here for a few days starting tomorrow.

Well, we got the weather we wanted. In the past few days, we have gotten over 6 inches of rain and it is still coming down. Today is the first day that it has rained during the day. Most of the rain has been in the early evening or at night. I guess we should have gotten the Gutknechts to visit sooner. They sure know how to end a drought.

I think they are having fun. The girls spent the night with us last night so that Rich and Katrina could go out with his family. The older girls, Caro in particular, created a Rube Goldberg type army confrontation on the kitchen island. They used the army figures along with any other toys that could be modified--including the miniature barrel of monkeys. Caro said that the monkeys were angry because the armies had torn up the jungle. I have taken several pictures of it and will forward them to you if they come out. It really is a sight to behold!

We have been enjoying the visit, although I must confess we also enjoyed the break while they are visiting Rich's people. They are wonderful, well-behaved children with a lot of energy! Lily constantly surprises me. She had no problem staying here last night without her parents. When I told her it was time for bed, she laid down and went right to sleep. No fussing at all. I am also amazed at her capabilities. She is quite advanced for two years. I enjoy watching her.

I have also enjoyed watching the older girls mature. There has been much less arguing and bickering than when we saw them last. They are eager to help out (Caro loves to make my bed), and have been sharing everything beautifully. It's fun to watch.

I guess that's the news here. Dan has been very good about sharing his toys with the girls. They played with his flying birds today and he even let Lily have a turn. He's such a good boy. Take care.

Love and hugs,
Karen and Dan

Larry Baker, a descendant of Abner Slentz, gave me a couple of pages of a "Slentz Family History" written by a descendant of Eli Slentz. This author gives Eli's birthdate as October 29, 1810. There is no documentation given.

first marriage.

This is where I got the idea that Jacob had 12 children by each of his 2 wives. The author could name only 9 of Mary's children: Eli, Henry, Andy, Abner, Mike, Noah, Nancy, Eliza + Fanny. He (or she) could name only John from the first marriage.

I responded to the message board, message by Bill Medland. He said he'd like to have it and mentioned that you might also. I'm always happy to help others...I hope it was something you needed. I have a few pictures as well that I could download and send if you're interested of Andrew, Hanna and Jesse and his wife Letitia (Scott) Slentz. Jesse is my 4th g. grandfather.
Also a copy of the death record of Andrew Slentz. If this is the same line and you would like copies, let me know. I don't know what line you are searching, he just said you were interested in Slentz...so here it is. It was dumped in my lap, too, so I'm happy to share! It's rarely so easy, so I'm grateful for some simple but great blessings along the way!

Juliana Shultz, widow of Dr. Martin Shultz, and her family moved to Sevier County from Sullivan County, state of Franklin (now Tennessee). They settled in the Emert's Cove area along with Frederick Emert, Richard Reagan, Peter Huskey, and John Roberts.

It is believed that Julliana Shultz lived the remainder of her life in Sevier County, Tennessee with her son, Martin Shultz Jr. and her daughter, Julia Ann Shultz Reagan. It is also believed that Juliana Shultz was buried in the Emert's Cove Cemetery in Pittman Center, Tennessee.

The Milhoan Surname Message Board

Message #8 Wednesday, August 11, 1999

Subject: George/Simon Milhorn/Melhorn

Posted by: Barbara (Melhorn) Yawn

Message: I am a descendant of the Melhorns from Pennslyvannia (Cambria and York Counties). I am trying to verify a connection to a Simon Milhorn/Melhorne/Mehlhorn who was born in 1725 and believed to be a Revolutionary War soldier. Daniel Melhorn was born in York County in 1804. I believe his father was David Mehlhorn/Melhorn, b. Aug 19, 1761, who married Rosina/Rosanna Swartz. David's father is supposedly Simon Mehlhorn/Melhorn, who resided in York County, b. Sep 2, 1725, and married Anna Barbara Dubbs. Supposedly Simon was from Suabia, Germany (South).

43

I have also seen in Passenger/Immigration Indexes a Geo Simon Melhorne who arrived at Philadelphia in 1754. Have not been able research source records to see if George and Simon were related to Geo Simon Melhorne. Am trying to verify that David was in fact Daniel's father and that Simon was in fact David's father.

I have also seen the following surname spellings associated with my family tree during my research: Melhorn, Malehorn, Milhorn, Melhonr, Mehlhorn, Malhorn, Mealhorn, and Mailhorn. This is first time I have seen Milhoan.

We have definite information back our line to Daniel Melhorn. He married Sarah Conrad in Adams County and had a son named Peter Melhorn who was born Dec 5 1830. Both Daniel and Peter moved to Cambria County, PA between 1830 and 1840. Peter married Ellen Douglass in Cambria County.

Assuming I can verify the lineage, Simon Mehlhorn would have been my GGGGG Grandfather.

Any information you have would be greatly appreciated. I will be glad to furnish you with any future findings on the Melhorn clan.

What is your lineage relationship to Simon Melhorn? Would be interesting to see where the Milhorn surname began. I know my ancestors came from Germany and the German spelling for Melhorn is Mehlhorn. I have also seen where various children of the same father began spelling Melhorn in a variety of ways.

Also what was your source for discovering the name of the ship that Simon and George came to America on?

Hope to hear from you soon

Barbara

Ellenwood-Wharton & 20 Allied Families

Daniel Galbreath Sanor was born June 29, 1898.

His mother was Nellie (McGaffic) Sanor, born in Mahoning County, 1871. Daniel's father was Daniel Grant Sanor, born Oct. 10, 1867 in North Georgetown, Ohio. Nellie and Daniel were married May 20, 1894 in Malvern, Ohio where they stayed while he practiced medicine. He was a well-known physician who was a graduate from Ohio State University College of Medicine. He was finally appointed the physician for the Ohio State Penitentiary. It was there that he became well acquainted with the famous writer, O'Henry, then a prisoner, who served as his druggist.

Daniel Grant Sanor also served as a Captain in the First World War and later established the Sanor Clinic which is now operated by his son Daniel Galbreath Sanor who is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution through Michael Sanor.

Michael Sanor was born in Alsace-Lorraine in 1745. He left there as an escapee for hunting in government forests. A wealthy French girl gave him money to get to America which he did. She later came over herself.

Young Sanor joined the Army of George Washington and fought the British. While serving, he stole a white horse for General Washington for which he was cited. After victory, he took a Land Grant of 160 acres in North Georgetown, Ohio and raised a large family. His wife was Mary Shrader the their children were Julie, Catherine, Mary, Jacob, Michael, Susan, Elizabeth, George, William, Sarah and John. Michael and Mary's son, William, who was born in West Twp. in Columbiana County, had a son Daniel who married Amelia Conser in the same county. It was their son, Daniel Grant Sanor who was the father of Daniel Galbreath Sanor.

Michael Sanor died Nov. 18, 1829 and is burried in the Sanor Cemetery which is located on the old Land Grant called "The Pioneer Farm". Some of the names on these he adstones are Zahnor, another spelling of the same family name.

JESUS MY ATTORNEY

***************************

After living a "decent" life, my time on earth came to an end. The first thing I remember is sitting on a bench in the waiting room of what I thought to be a court house. The doors opened and I was instructed to come in and have a seat by the defense table. As I looked around I saw the "prosecutor." He was a villainous looking gent who snarled as he stared at me. He definitely was the most evil person I have ever seen. I sat down and looked to my left and there sat my lawyer, a kind and gentle looking man whose appearance seemed familiar to me.

The corner door flew open and there appeared the judge in full flowing robes. He commanded an awesome presence as he moved across the room. I couldn't take my eyes off of him. As he took his seat behind the bench, he said, "Let us begin."

The prosecutor rose and said, "My name is Satan and I am here to show you why this man belongs in hell."

He proceeded to tell of lies that I told, things that I stole, and in the past when I cheated others. Satan told of other horrible perversions that were once in my life and the more he spoke, the further down in my seat I sank. I was so embarrassed that I couldn't look at anyone, even my own lawyer, as the Devil told of sins that even I had completely forgotten about.

As upset as I was at Satan for telling all these things about me, I was equally upset at my representative who sat there silently not offering any form of defense at all. I know I had been guilty of those things, but I had done some good in my life - couldn't that at least equal out part of the harm I've done?

Satan finished with a fury and said, "This man belongs in hell, he is guilty of all that I have charged and there is not a person who can prove otherwise."

When it was his turn, my lawyer first asked if he might approach the bench. The judge allowed this over the strong objection of Satan, and beckoned him to come forward.

As he got up and started walking, I was able to see him in his full splendor and majesty. I realized why he seemed so familiar. This was Jesus representing me, my Lord and my Savior. He stopped at the bench and softly said to the judge, "Hi Dad," and then he turned to address the court. "Satan was correct in saying that this man had sinned, I won't deny any of these allegations. And yes the wages of sin is death, and this man deserves to be punished.

Jesus took a deep breath and turned to his Father with outstretched arms and proclaimed, "However, I died on the cross so that this person might have eternal life and he has accepted me as his Savior, so he Nellie (McGaffic) Sanor died Aug. 10, 1929 and is burried in Greenlawn Cemetery in Columbus, Ohio beside Daniel Grant Sanor who died Dec. 23, 1923.

Daniel Galbreath Sanor, the only child of Nellie and Daniel also graduated from Ohio State University College of Medicine as did his father and became a specialist in Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. Daniel was active in college affairs and was a member of Chi Phi and Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity. He has been very active and has served as officer in many civic organizations. The Sanor Clinic, which his father started, is still operated by Daniel and is located at 206 East State St.

Lana (White) Sanor and Daniel Galbreath Sanor now reside at 2568 Sherwin Rd. in Columbus.

Betty Sanor Cameron

Betty is the second child of Daniel and Lana Sanor and was born Aug. 10, 1922 in Columbus, Ohio.

It sounds like you had quite a trip! I bet you look great in the blue glasses! Have you had time to plow through the information you found?

Things are relatively quiet here. Dan is home with a cold today. He doesn't feel too bad, he just has no energy. When he sleeps he snores worse than I do! He has to go to Houston next week for a class on ISCSI. At least he won't have to fly. I think all this running around the country is making him sick.

I have been staying busy helping Sandy. She got bitten by the house bug and has put in a contract on a townhome. It's about a mile away from Mom's. She is so excited! I have been helping her look at places, now I get to help look at carpet and paint samples as the place needs to be redone. It should be fun. I am also pleased that she will be living so close to the folks. I think it will be good for all of them. (And selfishly, it would be a big help to me, too.)

I went to the dentist today. He says I need to have crowns on two teeth. I can't say that I am surprised, but, I really didn't want to spend money on crowns (insurance only covers part of it). Oh well, it has to be done. At least, I get to wait until after Katrina's visit.

It sounds like Lisa really has her hands full. How did things go with Diane Crisman? I hope that she can get help for Michael. She is trying so hard to do what she can for Mike. I hope it goes well.

I was concerned that she is thinking of taking on David's kids, too. Talk about having your hands full! I don't think she'll be appreciated for her efforts. She has such a good heart. It is sweet of her to be concerned about them. It doesn't seem like anyone else is thinking of them. I hope that things work out.

We are looking forward to the Gutknecht visit. I promise I will not pressure them to move here, however, I do plan on spoiling them rotten before I send them home. It will be good to see them.

The weather has been predictable--hot and sunny. However, I do have to thank you for the rain we got last week--almost 1 1/2". It rained three nights in a row. It was lovely and just what was needed. Could you send some more?

I guess that's the news here. Hope you are doing well. Dan is reading over my shoulder and says to send you lots of love. Take care.

Love and hugs,
Karen & Dan

BENTONVILLE, ARK (AP) - Some Walmart customers soon will be able to sample new discount item -- Walmart's own brand of wine. The world's largest retail chain is teaming up with E&J Gallo Winery of Modesto, Calif. to produce the spirits at an affordable price; in the $6-$8 range.

While wine connoisseurs may not be inclined to throw a bottle of Walmart brand wine into their shopping carts, there is a market for inexpensive wine, said Kathy Micken, professor of marketing at Roger Williams University in Bristol, R.I. She said: "The right name is important." So, with that in mind, here are the top 12 suggested names for Walmart Wine:

12. Chateau Traileur Doublewide

11. White Trashfindel

Notes for MAGDALENA ZEHNER:
Magdalena probably arrived in Phildelphia on September 19, 1765 with her brothers Johann George Zehner, Michael Zahner (a.ka. Johann Michel Zehner), and Johann Jacob Zehner.

This information is from Eighteenth Century Emigrants from Northern Alsatia, Annetee K. Burgert, 1992, p. 557 and was cited on the web by Robert Seanor McCabe at http://genealogy.org.80/~palam/iadat057.ia_index.htm

More About MAGDALENA ZEHNER:
Fact 1: September 19, 1765, ?Arrived in Philadelphia from Germany on the ship Betsey.[8]

Descendants of Johann Michel Zehner

Generation No. 2

2. MICHAEL$^2$ ZAHNER (JOHANN MICHEL$^1$ ZEHNER)[9] was born November 18, 1745 in Alsace-Lorraine (France) Germany[10], and died November 18, 1829 in West Township, Columbiana County, Ohio[10]. He married MARY BARBARA SCHRADER[10] February 15, 1779 in New Alexandria, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania[10], daughter of WILLIAM SCHRODER and SUSANNA HECK.

Notes for MICHAEL ZAHNER:
Michael's descendants spell the name Sanor.

Michael traveled on the ship "Betsey" from Rotterdam to Philadelphia with a stop in Cowes (Isle of Wight) arriving on September 19, 1765. The Commander of the Ship was named John Osman. (Israel Daniel Rupp, A COLLECTION OF THIRTY THOUSAND NAMES OF GERMAN, SWISS, DUTCH, FRENCH AND OTHER IMMIGRANTS IN PENNSYLVANIA FROM 1727-1776 ..., 1965, Baltimore: Genealogical Pub. Co., Orig. Pub. 1856)

Michael was accompanied on the Betsey by his brothers Johann George Zehner and Johann Jacob Zehner. He was probably also accompanied by his sister Magdalena. (Burgert, 1992)

According to Willard W. Ellenwood in the book Ellenwood-Wharton & 20 Allied Famies (Genealogylibrary.com), Michael Sanor "left Alsace-Lorraine as an escapee for hunting in government forests." Ellenwood also states that he "stole a white horse for General Washington for which he was cited. (page 591)

More About MICHAEL ZAHNER:
Fact 1: September 19, 1765, Arrived in Philadelphia from Germany on the ship Betsey.[11]
Fact 2: Served three years in the 8th Regiment of Pennsylvania troops during Rev. War.[12]
Fact 3: Served General Washington as an Aide-de-Camp.[13]
Fact 4: Served in battles of Brandevine, Teola, and Germantown.[13]
Fact 5: It is said that he acquired the white horse later ridden by George Washington.[13]

It sounds like you had a wonderful and productive trip! Good! I hope that you had good weather too. It sounds like one lead takes you to another. More travel. More places. At least you are having success in finding information!

> We went to Columbiana County, Ohio, as planned. The county seat is a small town, Lisbon. There are lots of really old houses, and lots of gorgeous rhododendrons. We got copies of some deed records and estate records, and then found the cemetery where Christian Weaver is buried. Then we headed east again, and stayed (Tuesday night) outside of Carlisle, Pennsylvania. We went on to Reading on Wednesday AM. It took us awhile, but we finally found the courthouse, which is set up wonderfully well to help genealogists. I don't think Florian found much there, but I got some Getz & Koch deeds and Jacob Koch's will. In the afternoon, we went to the Berks Co. Gen. Soc. library, where we found a little info. Thursday morning, we started back west, stopped at the courthouse in Lebanon to look for Putt information. We didn't find any more than we had in Berks Co., but someone suggested that we visit the Lebanon Co. Historical Society. The librarian there was very helpful and obviously knew the territory and a lot of families. She found a book that had records of Zion Lutheran and Reformed Church in Womelsdorf, in which some Putts were listed, including George Puts and Sarah Ann Getz marriage. She suggested that we visit the Tulpehocken Historical Society in Womelsdorf, so we headed east again. Womelsdorf was not very far. While it is in Berks Co., it is much closer to Lebanon than to Reading. The Tulpehocken Hist. Soc. has just finished adding a 3 story addition to their building, and had moved the library into it this past week, and were not finished putting things away yet. However, the gentleman who seemed to be in charge (and was the author of the book in which we found the Putt information) and another gentleman who came in to do some work were very helpful. I didn't exactly find answers to all my questions, but, at last, I knew I was in the right neighborhood! We left shortly before they closed, heading west again. We stayed outside Carlisle again that night and visited the courthouse Friday AM. I got copies of 4 deeds. Then we started home.

5-27-02 Memorial Day
An additional complication for Marvin's Dad today: peritonitis. I don't think we'll have time to write support letters. Busy planning funeral. Will let you know more when we know. Marvin is expecting his dad to die within a few days. This time he's not mentally "borrowing trouble" with his usual anxiety/panic attacks. He's unusually calm.(for Marvin <g>). Need to leave to go down there in about half an hour.

Glad we went down. Homer is still mentally with it. Understands his situation. They had planned to try and regulate the pacemaker tomorrow. We'll see. Off morphine but taking a med to get white cell count down. Can't talk because he can't have his teeth in and can't hear very well because he's using old hearing aids. The new ones should be here tomorrow. Take turns feeding ice chips.Not able to eat. Tries to talk to us.

HISTORY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

1. HISTORICAL SKETCH

Columbiana County is located on the eastern edge of Ohio and is bounded n the east by the State of Pennsylvania, on the south by the Ohio River and Jefferson and Carroll Counties, on the west by Carroll and Stark Counties, nd on the north by Mahoning County. The county is irregular in shape, has a total area of 534 square miles, and is composed of 18 townships. About 20 miles of the county border upon the Ohio River, which drains most of the region through the various branches of Yellow Creek and Beaver River. A watershed passes through the western part of the county, with the result that the northwestern sections are drained into the Mahoning River, while the southwestern corner is drained by the Tuscarawas-Muskingum system.

The surface of the county is varied. The glacial boundary runs through Columbiana centrally from east to west and touches the City of Lisbon.[1] The surface of the northern part of the county was therefore molded to some extent by glacial action, while the southern part belongs to the unglaciated plateau, the topography being decidedly hilly and rugged. The level land of this latter section is found along the main ridges and large streams, and it is here that the highest and lowest elevations of the county are found; the highest, 1447 feet in Madison township, and the lowest, 652 feet along the Ohio River in Yellow Creek township. In the northern glaciated sections the soil is very fertile and well suited to agriculture, but in the southern townships, where limestone soil prevails, it is less productive. However, this southern section is well adapted for pasture lands, fruit growing, and timber growth.

The prevailing rocks nearest the surface are of the Pennsylvania formations consisting of shales, limestone, and sandstone, with intermingled layers of coal and commercially important clays. The average annual production of coal between 1920 and 1930 was 432,000 tons and of clay, 242,000 tons. Columbiana is not one of the important coal producing counties, but coal has been mined and used locally for more than a century, Salineville being the center of this industry. One of the pioneer gas wells in the county was driven near East Liverpool in 1859, and this community was among the first to pipe natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes. From 1860 to 1921 about 1700 test wells were drilled, more than half of which were producers. In 1921 more than 500 wells were yielding oil or gas in commercial quantities although the total production was not comparable with that of more important gas and oil regions.[2]

The earliest inhabitants of the region included in Columbiana County were the prehistoric tribes known as the Mound Builders. However, owing to the rugged topographical nature of the county and the lack of important streams and valleys, there are few earthworks in this region. The most unusual existing records of these aborigines are the two petroglyphs which were cut into the rocks bordering the Ohio River near the present town of Wellsville. These consist of crude figures of men, animals, serpents, and similar objects. Two mounds, one village site, three burials, and one cemetery also show that these tribes once inhabited the region.[3]

The principal historic Indian tribes in Columbiana were the Wyandots, Mingoes, and Delawares. The Wyandots had an encampment where the City of Salem now stands. Several important Indian trails ran through the county. The most traveled was the "Great Trail," which came from the forks of the Ohio, entered Ohio through Middleton township, traversed Columbiana County to its southwestern corner, and ran west to Sandusky.[4]

No explorations of the region are positively known to have been undertaken before 1750, when Christopher Gist of the Ohio Company traveled through.[5] A portion of the land proposed to be secured by the Ohio Company was in Columbiana County.[6] From this time on more frequent visits to the territory are dependably recorded. In 1755 James Smith of Pennsylvania was captured by the Indians and as an adopted member of the tribe made various trips through the region.[7] In 1764 Colonel Henry Bouquet and his army, marching against Indians in the Tuscarawas-Muskingum Valley, passed through, using for his camp a site now known as Camp Bouquet[8] in what is now Middleton township. In October 1770 George Washington, while engaged in land examinations, camped about one mile above the present City of East Liverpool and to lighten his canoe concealed provisions at this point.[9] In 1782 a party of frontiersmen pursued marauding Indians into Columbiana County; in a desperate struggle Adam Poe killed the Indian leader Big Foot, in a hand-to-hand encounter which is one of the most thrilling events in the frontier period of Ohio.[10]

Settlement of the county by large numbers of people awaited the extinction of Indian title, cession of state claims, and survey and sale of the lands. At Ft. Stanwix, in the fall of 1784, negotiations were conducted with the Iroquois, who surrendered their claims to the region north of the Ohio. In 1785 at Ft. McIntosh the Wyandots, Delawares, Chippewas, and Ottawas ceded their claims to the greater part of Ohio.[11] Four states, New York, Virginia, Massachusetts, and Connecticut had claims on the Northwest, but by 1786 these had been settled by cession to Congress. In some cases, however, certain reservations were made.[12] All of the land included in present-day Columbiana County was under the jurisdiction of Congress and was surveyed in accordance with the Land Ordinance of 1785. While there was no reserved land in this region, Congress made one direct grant consisting of lands near the present City of Salem to a Samuel Smith.[13] The actual work of surveying the Seven Ranges (the first rows of townships adjacent to Pennsylvania and Virginia) began in the fall of 1785, and by 1787, with some surveys completed, land sales were begun. The southern part of Columbiana County was included in the Seven Ranges and hence was among the first parts of Ohio to be surveyed.[14]

Settlers soon appeared in the region embraced in present-day Columbiana County. Many squatters built cabins at an early date,[15] but the first permanent settlement was made in 1792 or 1793 by John Quinn, a hunter, who chose a site near the present Village of Calcutta in St. Clair township. Another pioneer named Carpenter cleared a tract of land near the present Village of West Point in 1797, and is sometimes considered the first settler.[16] It was a son of this Carpenter who in the same year, killed an intoxicated Indian, Chief Whiteyes, in self-defense. Danger of an Indian uprising over this incident was averted only by the action of three wealthy landowners who paid $300 to the widow of the chief.[17] This proved to be the last Indian danger that menaced these settlements.

By 1804 settlement had been undertaken in each of the regions soon to be classified as townships in Columbiana County. Cabins were built in St. Clair Township in 1792 or 1793; in Liverpool in 1795; in Yellow Creek in 1797 or 1798; in Fairfield, Elkrun, Middleton, and Butler in 1800; in Madison, Unity, Wayne, and Center in 1802; in Washington and Salem in 1803; in Franklin, Knox, and West in 1804, and in Hanover and Perry in 1806.[18] A great number of these early settlers were Friends from Pennsylvania, but there were also many Scotch-Irish, particularly in Madison Township.[19] In 1880, however, about one-third of the population of Columbiana was of German origin.[20]

The rapid increase in population prompted the legislature on March 25, 1803, to pass the act organizing Columbiana County,[21] a name chosen to honor both Columbus and Queen Anne.[22] Several changes were made during later years in the boundaries of the county. In 1808 Wayne and Stark were attached temporarily until the organization of Stark, and in 1809 Columbiana was diminished by the organization of Stark to which Wayne was attached.[23] In 1833 Columbiana lost territory to Carrol and Jefferson Counties,[24] and in 1846 to Mahoning County.[25] New Lisbon (Lisbon) was made the county seat over the opposition of East Liverpool, the latter was defeated in the contest by a narrow majority, and thereby lost the support of wealthy Philadelphia landowners whose patronage was essential in the village. The first seat of government was the barn of Mathias Lower in Fairfield Township[26] but in a short time the construction at Lisbon of a courthouse to cost $150 was authorized.[27]

Meanwhile, a number of villages had been platted and settled. Wellsville was founded in 1797 by William Wells, a Pennsylvanian, and former justice of the Northwest Territory. It was strategically located on the Ohio River and soon became an important shipping center.[28] East Liverpool was founded in 1798 by Thomas Fawcett, an Irish-Quaker; it was at the outset a Quaker settlement but was gradually augmented by Dutch, German, Welsh, Scotch, and English pioneers. It was originally called St. Clair, then Fawcettstown, and finally after 1821, became known as East Liverpool.[29] Salem's pioneer settlers and landowners were Samuel Davis and Elisha Schooley, the latter being a Virginian, who came to this region in 1801.[30] In 1806 the village was platted by John Straughan and Zadok Street, taking its name from Salem, New Jersey. Many of the early settlers were Quakers, and Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Virginia, and Maryland contributed to the population.[31]

Lisbon was settled and plated in 1803 by the Reverend Lewis Kinney, a Baptist minister, who called it New Lisbon. In 1895 the prefix "New" was dropped from the name.[32] Columbiana was settled in 1802 and platted in 1805 by Joshua Dixon, but remained unimportant until the railroad era.[33] East Palestine was platted in 1828 by Thomas McCalla and William Grate, and was called Mechanicsburg. In 1833 the name was changed to Palestine; later "East" was prefixed because there was another town in Ohio named Palestine.[34]

Many other villages were also settled and platted: Middleton in 1801; Calcutta (originally Faulkstown) in 1802; East Fairfield in 1803; Damascus in 1808; Valley in 1809; Unity and New Garden in 1810; New Alexander in 1812; Hanoverton in 1813; Clarkson in 1816; Chambersburg in 1828; North Georgetown in 1830; Lynchburg, East Rochester, and Highlandtown in 1834; Guilford, Elkrun, Williamsport, and Dungannon in 1835; Salineville in 1839; Reading in 1840; Franklin Square in 1844; Washingtonville in 1848; New Waterford and Homeworth in 1851; Kensington, Glasgow, and Bayard in 1852; Moultrie, Summitville, and Millport in 1853; Leetonia in 1867; Winona in 1868; and Rogers in 1883.[35]

In 1810 the population of Columbiana County was 10,878; in 1820, 22,033; in 1840, 40,378; in 1860, 32,836; in 1880, 48,602; and in 1900, 68,590.[36] In 1837 this county was the second most populous in Ohio.[37] By 1930 the population had increased to 86,484 persons of whom 91.6 per cent were native-born whites.[38] There were a number of fairly large communities in 1940, of which the most populous were East Liverpool with 23,555 inhabitants, Salem with 12,301, Wellsville with 7672, East Palestine with 5123, Lisbon with 3379,

Columbiana with 2687, Leetonia with 2259, and Salineville with 2018. T corporated villages of Hanoverton, Rogers, Washingtonville, and New Wat were considerably smaller.[39]

Agriculture was the principal industry during the early period of Columbiana County. In 1830 this county was second in Ohio in the produ of wheat,[40] raised more horses than any county west of the mountains, a second only to Washington County, Pennsylvania, in sheep production.[41] 1849, Columbiana was the greatest wool producing section in Ohio, and wa passed by only three or four counties in the nation;[42] during the decade the fifties, it retained its lead in this field.[43] By 1850 the county v one of the leaders in agricultural development, producing in that year pounds of flax, 50,000 pounds of maple sugar, 323,000 pounds of wool, 51 bushels of corn, 606,261 bushels of wheat, and meat products worth $121, as well as many other commodities.[44] In 1841 an agricultural society wa organized at Salem, and in 1842 the first fair was held.[45] In 1846, the Columbiana County Agricultural Society was organized at New Lisbon.[46] Christian Bowman, a farmer in Elkrun Township, became interested in frui culture and in 1862 set out large orchards of apple trees. This industr rapidly gained impetus in the county.[47]

In 1930 there were 3308 farms in Columbiana County,[48] valued at $23,293,120[49] or about 19 per cent of the grand tax duplicate of the cou and producing crops worth $4,745,840 in 1929.[51] About 76 per cent of th of the county was in farms in 1930, and of this area 50.5 per cent was i tilled crops, 12.7 per cent was in woodlands, and 35.8 per cent was in p tures.[52] In 1935, there were 11 products of the county's farms which ex the state averages in the amount of production, and of these the most im were cattle, milk, grains, hay, eggs, horses, and vegetables.[53] While 37 per cent of these farms were mortgaged in 1930,[54] only 14.4 per cent of them were in the hands of tenants,[55] a figure which had advanced to only 14.6 per cent by 1935, and still remained far below the state average.[56] The total rural population of the county in 1930 was 35, 957,[57] but only 13.2 per cent of those gainfully employed were engaged in agriculture.[58]

The farmers of Columbiana County were fortunate in that they possessed excellent transportation facilities from the earliest years of settlement. This region was of easy access from Pennsylvania since the Ohio River for 20 miles served as the sothern boundary of Columbiana, and the Little Beaver and Yellow Creek were navigable by canoe or flatboat. County roads were built as early as 1803, and in 1805 a state road was constructed from the mouth of the Little Beaver through Lisbon to Trumbull County. By 1810 there were several state roads leading from the river through the county to the north and northwest, and even before the development of steamboat traffic in 1811, the landing places at Wellsville and East Liverpool accomodated a considerable amount of traffic. The shortest route from Lake Erie to the Ohio River was from Cleveland to Wellsville and the latter village was made a terminal for the daily stage coach from Cleveland and Fairport. Two packets went from Wellsville to Pittsburgh, and a stage line operated from Ashtabula to Wheeling by way of Wellsville.[59]

With the increasing popularity of canals in Ohio in the 1830's, the citizens of Columbiana planned to construct a canal which would connect the upper Ohio with the main branch of the Ohio Canal opened in 1832. This project, known as the Sandy and Beaver Canal, was built with capital raised largely in the counties immediately affected. The president of the company that undertook the construction work was Benjamin Hanna, grandfather of Marcus A. Hanna. This canal was 73 miles long, extending from Bolivar up the valley of the Little Sandy, and at Lisbon came into the valley of the Little Beaver which it followed to its mouth on the Ohio. Construction work was begun near Lisbon in 1834, but it was nearly 12 years before a boat reached Lisbon from the Ohio. The middle section of the canal was never put into practical operation and the project proved to be a financial failure. An interesting engineering feature of the canal was that at one point it ran through a tunnel.[60]

The first railroad in the county was that which now forms the main l of the Pennsylvania system and which was in construction from Mansfield i 1849.[61] This road was opened across Columbiana County from Pittsburgh wo in 1852. In the same year the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad was open from Cleveland to Wellsville. By 1856 branches and extensions had been m including the construction of a line from Bayard to New Philadelphia, from Wellsville up the Ohio River to a connection with the main line of the Pe sylvania, and from Wellsville down the river to Bridgeport and Bellaire. 1865 the Niles and New Lisbon Railroad was opened.[62] In 1941 there were t railroad systems in the county: the Pennsylvania, the Erie, and the Pitts Lisbon, and Western. There is also one electric line in operation.[63] In over 1100 miles of highway had been constructed,[64] including 12 state rout and one United States route.

Manufacturing in early Columbiana County was almost entirely for loca consumption until about 1840, but there was a surprisingly large variety c industries. Thomas Fawcett built the first grist and flour mill near East Liverpool in 1798,[65] and by 1833 there were 73 gristmills and more than 1C sawmills in the county.[66] The first paper mill in Ohio, and the second we of the Allegheny Mountains, was erected in 1805 or 1806 on Little Beaver C by John Bever and John Coulter.[67] In 1815 Robert Skillinger established a shipyard at Wellsville,[68] and in 1809 an inquisitive Kentuckian, George Ja by name, is believed to have bored the first salt well in the county, foun an industry that was of considerable importance for almost three decades.[6

In 1807 Gideon Hughes, a Welsh-Quaker, built the first iron furnace i the county and one of the first in Ohio; it was situated one mile northwes Lisbon on Beaver Creek. At first it produced only pig iron, but by 1817 w turning out wrought iron.[70] In 1838 a foundry was established at East Liv pool, and in 1840, one in St. Clair Township. Salem, Columbiana, Wellsvil and Leetonia followed closely.[71] The grandfather of William McKinley oper a blast furnace at Lisbon.[72] In 1836 a foundry was opened at Wellsville which made steamboat machinery, but it later became known as the Stevenson Company and produced brick-making machinery.[73] There were many other pioneer industries: a powdermill at Lisbon in 1808; a tannery there in 1804 and a tinshop in 1810;[74] cotton mills at Wellsville and Salem in 1814;[75] a carding machine and woolen factory at Salem in 1825-27;[76] and a number of breweries by 1830.[77]

Real industrial development, however, awaited the railroads. A stove plant was started at Salem in 1847, and the Buckeye Engine Works was established about 1852. In 1854 a factory was opened at Salem which later, as the Deming Company, became world famous for its pumps; and in 1872 a company was organized which later, as the Mullins Company, became a large manufacturer of bodies and parts for automobiles, motor boats, and canoes. Other early industries in that city were a wire nail company in 1885, a china pottery in 1898, and a tool company in 1900.[78] In 1874 the American Tin Plate Company, later a part of the United States Steel Corporation, was established at Wellsville.[79]

The most distinctive industries of the county, however, are the kilns and potteries. Although some pottery was manufactured prior to 1839,[80] it was in that year that James Bennett, an English potter, came to East Liverpool and found in the native clays a material which he regarded as suitable for the manufacture of "yellow ware." With financial aid from local citizens, particularly from Anthony Kearns, he built a small plant in 1840. Two of his brothers came from England to assist him, and as a result of the efforts of the Bennetts, Benjamin Harker, and others, East Liverpool had a well justified reputation as a pottery center in a few years.[81] In 1862 Congress aided the industry by placing a duty on pottery.[82] The "yellow ware" was replaced by the newer "white ware" and "electrical porcelain," and the industry steadily expanded the list of articles produced. Englishmen from Staffordshire were the pioneer potters, but Homer Laughlin, founder of the great chinaware industry that bears his name, was a native-born American. In 1926 there were 17 different pottery concerns, 10 electrical porcelain plants, and 5 factories manufacturing potters' supplies in East Liverpool, besides many similar plants in other sections of the county.[83]

At present the list of goods manufactured in the county is a long one, including earthenware, potters' supplies and machinery, electrical porcelain, bricks, sewer pipes, enameled ware and porcelain specialties, fireproofing material, gasoline tanks, engines, pumps, wire nails, automobile supplies and bodies, motor boats, farm implements, miners' tools, electric washers and refrigerators, foundry products, boilers, barrels, leather goods, vanadium steel, rubber products, furniture, and machine shop products.[84] In 1930 there were 161 establishments in Columbiana County, employing 8760 workers, and producing goods valued at $40.798,996, of which pottery products constituted about $10,500,000 and foundry and machine shop manufacturers over $5,500.00.[85] Of the total population of 86,484, slightly over 31,800 were gainfully employed, 2277 were unemployed, and 1479 had jobs but were laid off without pay.[86] Relief costs per capita in the county in 1934 were $9, in comparison with the state average of $9.22.[87]

To handle the increasing financial operations in the county, banks were established at an early date. Among the pioneers in this field were the Columbiana County Bank of New Lisbon, established in 1814, the Farmers' National Bank of Salem in 1846, the McDonald Bank of Wellsville in 1848, the H. Greiner and Son Bank of Salem in 1853, the First National Bank of Salem in 1862, the Leetonia Banking Company in 1869, the Huff and Company Bank of East Liverpool in 1870, the East Liverpool Banking Company in 1873, and the Salineville Bank in 1873.[88] The Farmers' Bank at Salem was the victim of an attempt in 1854 to enforce the so-called "crow-bar" banking law, and the tax collectors opened the vaults by force in an effort to find revenues.[89]

Churches were also established throughout the county at a very early date. Numerically the Friends were the leading denomination and their earliest organizations were in Fairfield and Middleton Townships in 1802,[90] in Salem village in 1804,[91] in Damascus in 1805, in Hanover Township in 1806, and in Elkrun, West, and Franklin Townships in 1810. Joshua Lynch and Catlett Jones were among their early leaders. There was a split in the ranks of the Quakers during the 1820's[92] which resulted in many practical difficulties for the members of those groups.[93] Pioneer Methodist organizations sprang up and meetings

Subject: Re: Question re Philip Slentz

GREAT to hear from you. Let me say this about your questions. FIRST I do NOT think our Philip and Philip Daniel are the same person! Why? Many years ago I purchased The SLENTZ-STENTZ CONNECTION published by Howard "Buster" STENTZ. Throughout his book he sites many examples of how his STENTZ family named was wrongly recorded as SLENTZ. Buster is a DIRECT DESCENDANT of Philip Daniel who was a STENTZ....not SLENTZ.

Now BUSTER puts forth a theory that our PHILIP might have been a son of a Jacob Slentz. Buster thinks this Jacob who died in 1741 could have been JOHN JACOB STENTZ born 1684, and is reported in old DUNKERD stories to be a recluse and shared remote quarters with Conrad Beissel and another gentleman. Conrad has tons of data on him, as he went on the form an early Christian cult in PA. It is a FACT Conrad placed "STUNTZ" (as it was recorded) under the "BAN" for having married a near relitive. Here is just one site at random.

After much tribulation and persecution, he (Beissel) resolved to leave the Fatherland and go to the wilds of the New World, and affiliate with the Chapter of Perfection established by Kelpius on the Wissahickon. * * * * * Beissel made preparations * * * and sailed for America toward the close of the Summer of 1720. His companions across the ocean were George Steifel, Jacob Stuntz, Simon Koenig, Heinrich van Bebber, and others. * * * * * It was stated that these people were religious enthusiasts. In reality they were a band of Pietists, who came to America to join the Community of the "Woman in the Wilderness,' established by Kelpius and others on the banks of the Wissahickon in the year 1694

http://www.horseshoe.cc/pennadutch/religion/monastics/monastic.htm

Now THIS will give you some things to think about! Ha Ha Now Buster could be wrong…but I for one am going with his thoughts at this time. He also puts forth the idea that this JACOB SLENTZ could have been a brother of Johann Henrich STENTZ who was Philip Daniel's ancestor (making our Philip and Philip Daniel first cousins).

I'm sure you enjoyed the trip to PA and back to Columbiana Co., OHIO as much as my son and I did when we made it (twice). STAY in touch.

> Good morning, Larry. As background, let me say that we have just gotten back from a trip to Pennsylvania - York, Gettysburg, then Lisbon and Salem in Columbiana Co., Ohio. Some of my husband's ancestors followed a path similar to the Slentz family, so we were both busy. Also, the John Rensch family were in Paradise Twp., York Co., PA, in the 1840 census and came up through Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, leaving no other footprints that I can find.
> One problem I have with the Slentzes is that the same parentage has been given to our Philip, father of Jacob, and Philip Daniel Slentz/Stentz. And I realize that they cannot be one person - Aside from different dates and wives, their children's names are different. I have seen abstracts (I understand that the original is in German) of Henry Slentz/Stentz' will, and it lists a son, John Philip. This could be our Philip. However, Philip, assuming that he actually was 87 years old when he died in 1816, would have been about 4 years old when that Henry immigrated. And I do not find any mention of him in the passenger list, although 4 of Henry's children were listed. Have you found a way to resolve this problem?

Now THIS will give you some things to think about! By the Now Sheaer could be wrong.. but I for one am going with his thoughts at this time. He also puts forth the idea that this JACOB SHAFFER could have been a brother of Johann Heinrich SHAFFER who was Philip Daniel's ancestor (making our Philip and Philip Daniel first cousins).

Subject: Question re Philip Sheaer

Good morning, Larry. As background, let me say that we have just gotten back from a trip to Pennsylvania – York, Gettysburg, New Lisbon and Salem in Columbiana Co., Ohio. Some of my husband's ancestors followed a path similar to the Shafer family, so we went both ways. Also, the John Hoback family were in Paradise Twp., York Co., PA, in the 1780 census and came up through Columbiana Co., Ohio, leaving no other footprints that I can find.

One problem I have with the Shafers is that the same parentage has been given to our Philip, Simon [illegible], and Philip Daniel Sheaer/Shafer. And I realize that they cannot be one person – we see them at different times and wives, their children's names are different. I have seen some [illegible] that the original is in German) of Henry Sheaer/Shafer's will, and it lists a son, John Philip. That would be our Philip. However, Philip, assuming that he actually was 87 years old when he died in 1840, would have been about 4 years old when the Henry immigrated. And I do not find any mention of him in the passenger list, although 4 of Henry's children were listed. Have you found a way to resolve this problem?

A History

By

Posthumously Edited With An Introduction
by John Joseph Stoudt.

desire to join the Kelpius mystics finally turned his thoughts to America. "At the time," he later wrote, "when I had to leave the Fatherland they cast me out into the fields and I lay there in my blood and no one took pity on me."[39] "O my country! my country! How wilt thou fare? O Palatinate! Palatinate! What a burden thou hast to bear! . . . For thou had no compassion on the Elect of God, but has persecuted and driven them from thee." At that time he was poor and starving for he could hardly feed himself by spinning wool. Hence when Georg Stieffel, with whom he lived, and a youth named Stuntz, proposed that he go with them to America, and the latter offered to advance the cost of his passage, he readily consented. In vain the Pietist friends and Dr. Carl tried to dissuade him, that he had a duty to his natural brothers whom he had converted to Pietism. Restless, weary of soul and in despair, and yet full of high ambition, he joined fortune with his two intimate friends, Stieffel and Stuntz, and set out for America,[40] urged on, says the Chronicon "by a hidden destiny."

Such then were the circumstances of Conrad Beissel's godly calling, concludes Agrippa, "wherein he walked for five years in Germany. Now we will examine more closely his divine-led course in America."[41]

In Search of the Simple Life

IN the Spring of 1720 Conrad Beissel began his journey to America. His travelling companions were Georg Stieffel, Jacob Stuntz, Simon Koenig, Heinrich van Bebber and others.[1] Journeying down the Rhine to Rotterdam he took ship for America. After stopping at an English port to register, the vessel made its way across the Atlantic and arrived at Boston in September. Penn's province had a bad name among neighboring colonies and it was ridiculed as "Quakerland."[1] There the Quakers had lived peacably for some years but now were divided into Old and New Assembly; the Quakers had become the State Church and their quarterly and yearly meetings had become political sessions for personal graft and civil sinecures. And liberty of conscience, it also was rumored, had turned the province into a Babel of Enthusiasts. However, Beissel and his companions embarked on the sloop Elizabeth and Hannah, Captain Elias Wiar, and went directly to Philadelphia where they landed on October 20.[2] The party came to Germantown in good spirits.

Conrad's purpose in journeying to America was to spend his life in solitude with God. He had been induced, however, to make the journey by his close friends, Stiefel and Stuntz, who like him were single and free. Conrad was penniless.

As they came to Germantown the pilgrims beheld a rambling village of a few houses bordering on North Wales Road. The street was a dirt road sixty feet wide, with no paving or curbing. The houses were plain one-story affairs with two rooms and an attic, the main part of which was of stone with a high-hipped roof and with a lower room and an attic Kammer. Gables were of clapboard, pierced by a small window. Tiles or thatch covered the roofs, German fashion. Front doors had two parts — the uuper part to let in light and air and the lower to keep out fowl and animals. Windows were of small panes set in lead, opened by two hinged sashes. A back room of logs was both kitchen and living room, and had two part door and porch. Each house stood on three acres.

Conrad and his companions had come to join the "Woman in the Wilderness" now led by Magister Johannes Kelpius of which they had heard glowing reports among the Pietists in Berleburg and Schwarzenau. To their surprise they found the Tabernacle on the Ridge deserted, the members scattered in worldly pursuits, while many of the celibates had gone back to women again. Magus Matthai, Seelig, Dr. deWitt and others who still lived as hermits along the Ridge dared not open their mouths for shame; only the good name and influence survived. Kelpius was dead. Köster was in Europe and the Falckner brothers were speculating in land. With the Philadelphian movement in disgrace and discredited, Magister Matthai advised the pilgrim seekers not to join them.[3] Everywhere Conrad saw the "pious sitting at the helm and exercising magisterial office" for private profit. The German settlers were not living in piety and apostolic simplicity. Many former Pietists here "hung their holy calling on a nail, and what was worse, would give no one credit for zeal and diligence."

The five pilgrims decided to hide their reasons for coming to Pennsylvania and go separate ways for a while. Their commune to establish the angelic life was postponed. Stiefel went north and settled near Oley as hermit; Koenig bought himself a tract of land in Conestoga; Stuntz and van Bebber found other means of livelihood. Beissel decided to remain in Germantown. His baking trade was no good for the women prided themselves as much on baking as on spinning and knitting.[4] Of farming he knew nothing, but he already knew a little about weaving, and the Frankfort Land Company was encouraging spinning and weaving. With the advice of Matthai and Peter Becker, a leader of the Dunkers, he agreed to apprentice himself to Becker, master weaver of Germantown, and signed an indenture for one year. Within a year, he hoped he might be able to adjust to the "simple and angelic life" in a pioneer country.

As an apprentice Conrad lived in Master Becker's house where he was treated with much love. The two men grew to esteem each other highly as they grieved over the religious decay in the colony. Most of the Germans, except the Mennonites who held divine service in private houses, neglected the faith of the fathers. Some professed Quakerism and English Baptism to cover up their apathy. Others were Separatists and free-thinkers. Sects and religious imposters unsettled spiritual things still more — even Quaker meetings had degenerated into political caucuses. In this pioneer country the struggle for a bare living left them little time for things of the spirit. Besides there were few ordained clergy among them. In the weaver's shop, Becker and his apprentice, while at work, made plans to arouse the ungodly Germans from their apathy.[5]

This sojourn in Germantown was an instructive year for the clever Conrad. As an adept he was an intimate of the Mystics on the Ridge from whom he learned much that he was to use later at Ephrata. At the feet of Magus Matthai, Seelig and Dr. deWitt he drank in the esoteric lore of the "Chapter of Perfection" founded by Dr. Francke in Erfurt. When that Chapter was suppressed in 1691, Johann Jacob Zimmermann — Lutheran Pietist, mathematician, astrologer and geomancer — was deprived of his church in Württemberg for being a Philadelphian and Rosenkreutzer. He fled with his family and library to Hamburg where he met Dr. Horb, brother-in-law to Spener, and Benjamin Furley, real-estate agent in Holland for Penn. They advised him to go to Penn's Colony. Through Dr. Petersen, member of the Erfurt Chapter, he bought land in America from the Frankfort Land Company. From here he went to Erfurt and reorganized the Chapter to flee from persecution to America. Zimmerman died in Rotterdam just before they sailed, leaving his library and instruments to the Chapter. Young Kelpius now became ever, Becker was not a strong leader and matters lagged. To Conrad, not yet a Dunker, it was clear that the Brethren had given up spiritual for material things. During the year he helped Becker to hold meetings in the homes of the Dunkers, but the revival spirit seemed dead. Material thought and ways filled the daily life of the Colonists; all this strengthened Conrad in his original purpose to seek a solitary life somewhere in the wilderness.

Though a good weaver, he began to grow restless. With Stuntz and Stiefel, also anxious to begin "the angelic life," he agreed to forsake mankind and to flee into the wilderness.[20] He would seek Perfection in the hermit life, if need be among the Kelpians of the Ridge. But Magus Matthai advised him to go among the Swiss Mennonites in the Conestoga Valley. There he could live as a recluse in the primitive forest within easy reach of the Ridge. Among the Germans and Swiss who had settled in the Schuylkill and Conestoga valleys, he could teach and hold revivals. The role of pilgrim evangelist tickled his fancy. Thereupon he broke his indenture with Becker, paid for the unexpired term and made ready to mortify his flesh in the wilderness.

In the Fall of 1721, then, Conrad Beissel left the house of Master Becker in Germantown and journeyed to the Conestoga country. He had lived well in Becker's house where he had been fed, sheltered and taught a trade; and the two men parted as friends. As an adeptus in the Rosenkreutzer, a Philadelphian and an Inspired "tool of God," he felt superior to Becker in religious things.

Meanwhile, Jacob Stuntz had bought land in the Conestoga near the Mühlbach Creek.[21] With his friend Stuntz, Conrad squatted on Gibbon's land on the Mühlbach, building a cabin near the creek beside a fine spring, "to live together with common property."[22] Conrad chose this secluded place in the primitive forest because it promised solitude and a good place from which to engage in revival work among the settlers.[23] Isaac van Bebber, a young Hollander, came to share the simple, idyllic life with his former companions. In a few days he persuaded Conrad to go with him on a visit to Bohemia Manor in Maryland.

Conrad made the journey to study the mystical and communal life of the Labadist Colony. Young van Bebber wished to see his father and kinfolk in the Society. At Bohemia Manor the Labadists made the second attempt to erect a religious communal society in the English colonies. (Plockhoy had planted a socialistic colony at Hoorn Hill in 1662.) Followers of Jean de Labadie, noted mystic and enthusiast, they taught the usual separatist tenets,[24] the gift of prophecy and communal property. In 1684 Peter Sluyter and Dankarts with the advice of Penn had founded a Labadist Colony at the head of the Chesapeake, now in Maryland. Here Conrad talked with Sluyter, now an aged man. Here Sunday was not observed, adult baptism was practiced and dress was plain with all luxuries forbidden. The society included both sexes, but only the regenerate could marry. The sexes lived apart, slept apart and ate at separate tables. Discipline was severe; no fire was permitted in the cells; all desires of the flesh were subdued and obedience was made the highest virtue. Meals made of unsavory food were taken in silence. The work was assigned by a superintendent. Worship was simple with only a "speaker." All things were held in common and the income was put into a common fund. They raised corn, flax, hemp, tobacco and several breeds of cattle and sheep; they also had mills. So wealthy were they that they had ships at sea. Sluyter's cruel rule became hateful and his trade in slaves and other chattel brought him into disrepute. The communal system was breaking up when Beissel visited the Manor. Within a decade after Sluyter's death in 1722 the Labadists divided the property among themselves and the communal society ended.

Conrad learned much here which was to appear later as "peculiar features of the Ephrata Society." Sluyter made a deep impression on him. Besides they were united by secret bands as adepts in the Rosenkreutzer and members of the Philadelphian Society. Sluyter gave Conrad books and manuscripts by Labadie and Ivonis which helped to shape his life and thought.

On his return from Bohemia Manor, Conrad paid a visit to the English and Welsh Sabbatarians in Chester County. He prophecied at their meetings and discussed their Sabbath doctrines. The Sabbath question often came up among the Pietists. The Labadists observed neither Sunday nor Sabbath; the Kiethians held to the Sabbath. Here Conrad had food for thought; he began "to question which day was the true Sabbath, according to the Scripture." After anxious thought, he concluded that the Pietist Brethren were in error and that Saturday was the true Sabbath.[25] From his visits to the Labadists and Sabbatarians came two of the dominant influences that shaped the communal life at Ephrata.

Now Conrad and van Bebber journeyed back to their cabin on the Mühlbach where Stuntz had been left alone. Before the end of 1721, Georg Stieffel came from his hermit cell near Oley and joined the Beissel party in their simple life. Next the four pilgrims agreed to live together in a brotherhood with all property in common.[26] While plans for an angelic brotherhood were under discussion, Conrad told his friends openly that now he would observe the Sabbath and work on Sunday, which did not suit them well.[27] The Angelic Brotherhood of Gichtel, disciple and editor of Boehme, did not include Sabbatism; but they at last gave in to Conrad. Communal duties were to be shared among them, each by turn, keeping the larder filled. In this simple life the "celestial intelligences" could reveal themselves in silence.

But this simple life was not one of sheer idleness. Much time was spent in prayer, meditation and mystical practices to achieve visions, ecstasies and complete absorption in God. Fasting, vigils, mortification of the flesh, even self-torture were resorted to as they wooed the celestial Virgin Sophia. Conrad and Stieffel went as pilgrims among the Germans and English in the Conestoga, exhorting and prophesying to "inquiring spirits." They gave godly counsel. Many pious persons came to the hermit cabin for spiritual help and comfort. A fine school teaching the three R's and religion was opened for the children of nearby farmers. One of the pupils, Barbara Meyer, later Sister Jael at Ephrata, "became so enamoured of his angelic life that she became a steadfast follower" of Beissel and "willingly endured all the hardships of the solitary and communal life."[28]

Through these activities during the winter of 1721-1722, their simple life began to attract the settlers. "Soon after Conrad Beissel arrived in Conestoga," explains Brother Lamech in his Diary, "many people became enamoured of him because of his attractive and holy ways." In fact, everyone, because of the blessed works, sought entrance to his fellowship and good will; and all strove for his company, hoping thereby to attain the divine essence. He was indeed to everyone a Wundermensch. He also began to keep the Sabbath with great strictness.[29] A fluent, earnest speaker with a genial personality, he became a power among the Separatists and Mennonites already by the Spring of 1722. And the awakened settlers placed unbounded faith in him.

About 1723, many people in Pennsylvania were awakened from their spiritual sleep.[30] In a letter to friend Griess in Mannheim Conrad described his first year in the Conestoga. "In those sorrowful times I purposed to forsake mankind and with several others betook myself into the forest in the Conestoga district; but I continued to feel an unchanging heart-yearning to enjoy once more the life of my God before I should die, which was also granted me, and indeed quite suddenly, in an instant, when a ray of light for the divine loving kindness streamed forth. Now I thought I had triumphed, and purposed, in the quiet of the Spirit (as separate from all men) to serve my God continually in his holy Temple. But what happened? Ere I was aware, that whole region"—the Conestoga—"was illumined by that heavenly Light, which in times following spread over almost all the American provinces and over races and tongues of the people. At first, indeed, it tarried for a while in this same region where I dwelt, and in this wise; one heard here and there of one being awakened, and in such places where it was quite unusual."[31] This aroused some inquiries about the hermits of the Mühlbach, and aided in the spread of the awakening spirit. Sometime during 1722-1723 Conrad assumed the Mennonite dress and their plain ways.

In 1722 Conrad Beissel started the revival among Mennonites in the Conestoga and the sects and Separatists in the Schuylkill valley as far as Falckner's Swamp. Following Conrad's advice, Peter Becker, the master weaver, and two Brethren, began from the other end, from Germantown, and in the autumn of 1722 journeyed in the Skippack and Perkiomen valleys, then crossing the Schuylkill and returning by way of Coventry and French Creek.[32] "One heard of bizarre doings and enthusiasms among the people, whereby the seemingly dead and ice-cold Dunkers again awakened and became active."[33] In the Autumn Becker and the brethren "round about began to remove all obstacles and hold meetings and love feasts." From these weekly meetings held at Becker's house and Gummre's on the Ridge the history of the Dunker Church in America dates. Beissel and Becker won early converts from among the sects.

Though the gentle voices of nature charmed our celibate hermits the grumblings of empty stomachs often spoiled the melodies. Success as an evangelist wrought spiritual change in Conrad. In the trance visions he was exalted to divine things and "all my misery fell to the ground."[35] It was revealed to him that "he was God-appointed as leader and guide" to the Germans in the province. He was held in "great straightness by his Inner Güide."[36] He observed Sabbath with strictness, and lived so much in privacy and solitude, communing and musing with the Virgin Sophia, that his friends knew little of his actions. Often he slipped away from them, says the cynical Sangmeister, and journeyed about preaching[37] when his friends thought he was alone fasting and meditating. He was restless, impetuous, full of vagaries and an egotist — always wandering off alone and not doing his share of the common work. His mode of life was such that it grew intolerable to his fellow hermits. When they had the means of sustenance, his conscience would give him no rest "until he had sent an offering to the hermits of the Ridge." But when it was his "duty to provide for the table" there was cause to complaint.

And the others got little comfort from his reply "that they had not come there to fatten the old Adam." Conrad exchanged frequent visits with the hermits of the Ridge, who were his mentors in spiritual things.

It came to pass that Michael Wohlfarth, on his journey to the Carolinas, visited Beissel.[38] A Pietist, born in Memel on the Baltic Sea, Wohlfarth had lost enthusiasm and fanaticism on his many travels, though he was a pilgrim evangelist. Stieffel and Stuntz were still in the cabin and he promised to settle with them on his return from the Carolinas. The three others objected to his living among them, but Conrad paid no heed. Wohlfarth had been living among the Kelpius hermits, had wandered about as itinerant and when he came to settle with Beissel a bitter quarrel arose. Stiefel and Stuntz refused to grant permission for Beissel to send food to the hermits on the Ridge; they considered it an unjust selfish request which the Germantown hermits had made. Having nothing, Conrad cared for neither profit nor property; he was still the tramp with a pedlar's pack wandering over the Rhineland, willing to share what others provided, even with the hermits of the Ridge. Like was calling to like!

At length Georg Stieffel announced that "he could not live that way," and went back to his recluse life near Oley; later he was joined to the Associated Brethren of the Skippack which met in Wiegner's house and in 1746 he was to move to the Moravians in Bethlehem. Next van Bebber took leave, but "with much love," for his health was broken by the ascetic life. To regain health he became a sailor. Then while Conrad was away on a revival journey, Stuntz sold the cabin to Joseph Gibbons, on whose land they had squatted, and fled. He sold the cabin to get back the sea-passage and travelling money which he advanced to Beissel for the journey to America. Indeed, Conrad grieved that his "earliest fellow-warriors" should for the belly's sake leave the narrow way.[39] Then he had to face, quickly and in a practical way, a sordid problem. Homeless and alone, he resolved "never again to borrow of men on God's account." With his books and papers in a knapsack and an axe on his shoulder, he journeyed a mile farther into the forest and settled at a place called Swede's Spring, not knowing what "God further ordained for him." There he built himself a small log cabin and passed the winter of 1722-1723 alone — the solitary life broken only by visits from the hermits on the Ridge and journeys to preach.

Shortly after Conrad built the cabin, Wohlfarth returned from the Carolinas and asked to live with him. However, Wohlfarth did not join him until 1724. Conrad was hard to live with. His egotism and fiery temper could brook no dissent. His spiritual pride led him into bitter quarrels with all his friends; but unlike the former hermits, Wohlfarth "always confessed himself in the wrong" and so they got along well. Meanwhile, Johannes Stump, an erratic visionary, joined them, and being even more unbalanced in mind than they, he caused much trouble. Since the Heidelberg days Beissel had travelled a rough course. No friend had remained steadfast, and he grew so skeptical and distrustful of man that even his later success at Ephrata did not restore a trust in his fellow-man. Alone in the hut at Swede's Spring during all of 1723, our hermit could live to suit his conscience, and woo celestial Eve in mystical musings.

In the Spring of 1723 Beissel and Becker began their great revival which extended all the way from Germantown through Skippack, Perkiomen and Schuylkill valleys to the Conestoga country.[40] This revival enabled Peter Becker to organize the Dunkers. Many agitators appeared among the backwoods, among them Matthias Baumann from Oley who came in 1719 to conduct revivals[41] among the godless settlers. A visionary, he taught that his disciples were free from sin and had no need for Scripture, sacraments or marriage. Many converts flocked to the Neugeborene — even Quakers, Reformed and Lutheran. They preached to the masses at market times in Philadelphia where Baumann offered to prove his doctrine from God by walking across the Delaware. After winning converts in the Conestoga, Baumann came to Beissel who told him "to smell of his own filth and then consider whether this belonged to the new birth."[42] It was the intense work of sectarian leaders that brought the Reformed and Lutherans together in self-defense and gave rise to orthodox services.

Chance aided Becker in snatching the leadership from Conrad who was a Separatist and not rebaptized. In August, when a false rumor brought many pious Germans to Philadelphia, Becker invited them to a Dunker meeting and preached powerful revival to them. In September the Awakened again came for revivals in Germantown. Then in October, Becker with Gummre and others held revivals among the settlers in the Schuylkill valley, mostly Crefeld Dunkers and a few orthodox. All obstacles were cleared away, and six of the Awakened asked Becker to baptize them. On Wednesday, December 25th, the Dunkers met in the humble weaver's shop in Germantown to organize the Dunker Brotherhood and to free themselves, as Falckner said, from "the melancholy, saturnine Quaker spirit." After the noon meal, seventeen Dunkers and six candidates left Becker's shop and marched solemnly along North Wales Road, turned down Kitchen Lane and across the Wissahickon to Gummre's farm. Here in a rugged ravine, they came to an opening with towering rocks on either side, and tall hemlocks and a waterfall in the background. Hermits from the Ridge, separatists and others seeking novelty were present.

After prayer and Scripture reading, Elder Becker, after breaking the ice on the Wissahickon, entered the chilly water leading Martin Urner of Coventry, formerly a Kelpian mystic. As the Dunkers sang Mack's baptismal hymn, "Überschlag die Kost, Spricht Jesu Christ," Urner knelt in the cold water before the Elder who now immersed him thrice in the icy stream. After the other five had their icy bath, all hastened to Gummre's house for dry clothing and a love-feast followed by foot-washing and the breaking of bread. These six were the first fruits of the seeds sown by Beissel and Becker at their revivals, while this first Immersion and first love-feast among Germans in America put the seal on the Dunker Brethren Church in America formed this Christmas day.[43]

[41] [Matthias Baumann, one of the first Palatine separatists and an early settler in Oley, where he was already a landowner in 1714, wrote a tract, Ein Ruf von Gott nach der Unwiedergeborene Welt, sometime around 1723 which appeared in Dr. Carl's Geistliche Fama, Stück VI, 1731, published in Berleburg. Lambsheim had been a center of separatism as early as 1683 when the Church Council had asserted that Johann Friedrich Speyer was unorthodox in declaring that a newly-born person could not sin. In 1692 Georg Ziegler, the minister, was defrocked for his interest in conventicles and in 1698 several citizens were questioned regarding their Philadelphia beliefs. In 1701 Baumann had a shattering religious experience and in a letter to the Frankenthal magistrates he declared that magistrates had no power in matters of faith and that everyone should be permitted to think as he pleased. Baumann and his followers were much attacked in Pennsylvania both by clerics like Boehm and Muhlenberg and his followers were castigated for their separatism.—J.J.S.]

Eshleman on p95 of Swiss & German Pioneers of Southeastern PA mentions this surname: "1644 - Mennonite Growth in the Berne District. The Mennonites of Aarau and Lenzburg near Berne were becoming particularly prosperous. Also near Zofingen or Soffingen, about half way between Zurich and Berne on a branch of the Rhine, there were many of them. Of their principal ones there were Hans Stentz, a teacher in Ober-Culm, Rudolph Kunzli (now Kunzler or Kinsley), also Hanz Yeagli of Adra, Hanz Dester and Solomon Yeagley (Müller 105 and Ottius).

"Three of the Aarau Mennonites, when they heard of the new edict [1644 Reformed Church edict against Mennonite 'heresy' and for their arrest] , declared they were ready to go and defend their religion. It was arranged that they should be heard by the clergy of the Reformed Church; and were assured they would have safe conduct granted them, to come to the hearing and to go back again. But no Zurich brethren would be allowed to come and be present at the debate... AlllZurich Mennonites must get out of the county. But to allow the Berne Mennonites to see their wrong, the mandate would be suspended till May 27, 1644 and they could decide after this exmaination was ended what they would do.

"It appears that Yeagley and all the other Mennonite leaders first above mentioned were at this examination..." During this "debate" the Mennonites declared they would persist in their course "because of the ungodly life of the state church... Because of this stand taken by these Mennonites their free and safe conduct was violated; and Tester, Peyer and Yeagley were all imprioned. (Müller 105)."

7/3/2002 Re: SLENTZ

In 1842, an article in the Western Palladium noted a suit by John SLENTZ against the following:-

(Mary SLENTZ) widow
Jacob SLENTZ
Henry SLENTZ
Eli SLENTZ
Andrew SLENTZ
Noah SLENTZ
Michael SLENTZ
Joseph SLENTZ
Elizabeth SLENTZ
Abner SLENTZ
Margaret SLENTZ BATES + husb. Thomas BATES
Lydia SLENTZ BATES + husb. Cyrenas BATES
Esther SLENTZ VANMETER + husb. Jesse VANMETER
Louisa SLENTZ BARNHART + husb. John BARNHART
Nancy SLENTZ BAUGHMAN + husb. John BAUGHMAN
Mary SLENTZ FOULKS + husb. John FOULKS
Sarah SLENTZ MCCALEB + husb. Alexander MCCALEB
Bridget SLENTZ SAUNDERS + husb. Henry SAUNDERS
Catharine SLENTZ BLACK + husb. Thomas W. BLACK
Edmund SLENTZ } of Allegheny Co., PA
Catharine SLENTZ }
Sarah B. DUNWOODY
Caroline A. DUNWOODY } of Adams Co., PA
Hugh DUNWOODY
William N.C. DUNWOODY

I have assumed that Edmund + Catherine of Allegheny Co. were the children of a deceased son of Jacob Slentz, and that the 4 Dunwoodys were the children of a deceased daughter of Jacob Slentz

John claimed that Jacob had already given land to sons Jacob, Henry, Eli, Andrew, Michael + Abner, so he was entitled to 1/15 of the estate.

Mary had the forethought to write a will, naming the following children:

Barbara
Henry
Eli
Margaretta
Nancy
Andrew
Lydia
Michael Heddy
Eliza
Noah
Abner

There are some obvious discrepancies here, some of which may simple reflect that John had become estranged from his father's 2nd family and was in error when he named some of them.

1. I find no other mention of "Elizabeth", but the daughter named "Louisa" in the suit was called "Eliza" - perhaps she was named "Elizabeth Louisa" or "Louisa Elizabeth".
2. Who is the Barbara named in Mary's will? Mary, Sarah, Bridget & Catharine are Jacob's other daughters not named as Mary's. Could Mary have been a widow with a daughter when she married Jacob?

|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Barbara | b. | 1805 | PA | | |
| 2. Henry | b. | 1807 | PA | m. | Lydia KUGLER |
| 3. Abner | b | 1808 | PA | m. | Christina KING |
| 4. Elias | b | 1810 | PA | m. | Mary Ann SHULENBARGER |
| 5. Margaretta | b | 1812 | PA | | |
| 6. Harvey Andrew | b | 1815 | Adams Co PA | m | Hannah WILLISGrace WILLISMary WILLIS |
| 7. Lydia | b | 1817 | PA | | |
| 8. Michael | b | 1819 | PA | m | Elizabeth WILLISDeborah WILLISMargaret HAGARTY |
| 9. Maria Esther | b | [31 July] 1820 | PA | | |
| 10 Eliza Louisa | b | [21 Nov] 1822 | PA | m | John George BARNHART |
| 11 Nancy "Mary" | b. | 1824 | PA | m. | John BAUGHMAN |
| 12 Noah | b | [17 June] 1824 | PA | m. | Mary RIGBY |

Mary's name - Someone on the Internet has given Mary's last name as "SANOR", which has as many spellings as Slentz, I think. There were Sanors in Columbiana Co. In the 1830 census, there was an Adam Sanor living next to Jacob Slance.

A family I need to follow up (found in FamilySearch Ancestral File) is that of Michael Saynor m. to Mary (prob.) Schrader. He is supposed to be buried in Sanor Cem. in Columbiana Co. One daughter, Anna Mary, was born May 10, 1785, in New Alexandria, Westmoreland, Pa., which would make her old enough to be the mother of Barbara, b. 1805 (of which I have no proof).

I think I have made a breakthrough! Following up on Michael Sagnor through Genealogy.com, I found several FTM homepages (+ a book). It would appear that the name was ZEHNER in Germany. Michael + Mary SCHRADER ZAHNER had 11 (or so) children, one of whom, Anna Mary, b. May 10, 1785, Sewickly, Hempfield, Westmoreland Co., Pennsylvania, (The compiler has her dying in 1871, Columbiana Co., Ohio) married (1) Rudolf BARR ca 1806 m. (2) John SENSE, ca 1820, Ohio.

1 * Now, I can Try looking up Barbara BARR.

2 Who did John SLENTZ marry + where?

3 Did Zahner family move directly from Westmoreland to Ohio?

4 Could this be the same John who sued his family? Or the father, Johann Jacob?

* Rethink the BARR bit. Barbara SLENCE married Michael FLEGIL (probably wrong sp) in Columbiana Co. 1832
According to Bill Medland (~~email 3 OR Mar 2000~~) in 1824, Jacob was still in Adams Co PA

---

So — the children of Jacob + Mary who moved to DeKalb Co. are:

Henry SLENTZ
Michael SLENTZ
Noah SLENTZ
Nancy SLENTZ BAUGHMAN
Eliza SLENTZ BARNHART

I'm not entirely satisfied with this list - it seems to me that there were Vanmeters in DeKalb Co., but I'm not finding them in the 1850 or 1860 censuses or on the DeKalb Co. Site.

Preface: Hu, there may be some info in this message, esp. at the end, that will not make sense to you. That is because I thought you didnt need the 14 pages of schlentzes that B501m@aol.com sent to me. You have enough names already. Kim and Carolyn, the Weikert part of this may not really interest you. But, for the record, here goes... What follows is the best I can make of conflicting information.

Mary Elizabeth (Maria Elisabetha) Weikert was born 21 Sep 1757 and died in 1824, both in Mount Pleasant Twp., Adams Co., Pa. She was the daughter of John Andrew Weikert, 1735-1797, and his wife Mary Eve. Mary Elizabeth married a Phillip Schlentz, born 14 Oct 1750, died 17 Jan 1796.
According to the St. Matthews Lutheran Church, Hanover, Pa.(hereafter abbr. SMLC) records, they had 11 children, all of whom died. I interpret this to mean "died without issue." Their names, in no particular order, are:
Elizabeth, b. 20 Sep 1780 d. ??, aged 2wks, 3days, or 5mo, 2wks, 3days.
Johannes, b. 24 Oct 1782 d. 7 Nov 1794, aged 12yrs, 2wks
Pfilib (Phillip) b. 10 Nov 1776 d. 13 Apr 1777, 5mos, 3days
Anna Elizabeth, b. 16 Dec 1778
Anna caterina, b. 16 Dec 1778, twins who lived 1 day
Jacob, b. 20 Nov 1790, d. 10 Aug 1807, 16yrs, 8mos, 17days.
Johan Adam, b. 28 Sep 1788, d. 1789, aged 1yr, 10days.
Kim (B501m@aol.com) lists only Phillip, and Nicholas, b. 15 Dec 1793.
In his will, Phillip, the father lists "my two sons, Jacob and Nicholas." They are the only children to survive him. A Nicholas Schlentz shows up later in the LDS records with a wife, Rachel, and several children in the 1820's and 30's. So maybe one of mary and Phillip's children did survive. I know this count only comes to 8, but that's all I've found. And finding more will be unlikely. The records for all but Nicholas are listed as St. Michael's Luth. Cem. But that is the original name of the old SMLC, and those remains are mass reburied at All Saints Episcopal Church, Hanover, Pa. While that cemetery was in use from about 1757 to 1870, only 17 names are listed on the stone. Many of the old stones may have been lost, broken or illegible. It is also possible the 3 of Mary's children were stillborn.

OK, Hu and Cheryl, you can stop reading here, if you want. The rest of this diatribe concerns the schlentz line from Phillip backward in time.

First, Kim, I think you cannot use STENTZ as an alternate spelling of SCHLENTZ, SLENTZ AND SLENCE. There are in the records, far more Stentzes that Slentzes, by any spelling. Stentz, German for Stone, I believe, is a common German name, found frequently in the early days in Lancaster, York, and Adams Counties. Historical note: York Co. was a part of Lancaster Co. until about 1750. Adams Co. was a part of York Co. until 1800. Township names are sometimes the only way to distinguish locales.

Carolyn, I think you are right about Bridgitta Melon having a child out of wedlock. I would like to know why you think the father was Phillip Daniel Stentz. The Stentzes lived in Hallam Twp, York Co., which is about 5 miles east of York city, and the attended Christ Evangelical Luthern Church in York city. Hanover, York Co. Pa. is about 20 miles southwest of York city.

While I will admit that, in my teens, I might have travelled 20 miles to find a willing nubile chick, the logistics of doing so on horseback are somewhat different.

The evidence does support the bastard son scenario. Bridgitta Melon's son, as Kim's genealogy shows, was named Phillip Melon, the mother's, not the father's surname. The father's first name was probably Phillip. The child was born 14 Oct 1750 - 17 Jan 1796 minus the 45/3/3 on the tombstone. He was christened at SMLC in Nov 1751 as Philipp (not a typo) Melon, son of Bridgitte Melon, with no father listed. Here, Kim, I would like your evidence for a Phillip Daniel Slentz, b. 3 Feb 1733, d. in (Mount)Pleasant Twp, Adams, Pa., 7 Feb 1816, and buried at Gettysburg.

On 24 Jan 1754, Bridgitta Melon, B. 1732, d. 31 Jan 1806 (tombstone) married a Philipp Schlentz, b. abt. 1729. I wish I could find my source for that date, but at the moment, cannot. Philipp apparently gave his surname to Bridgit's son. She and her husband had several children. As best I can tell they were:
Anna Maria, b. 26 Oct 1754, d. 15 nov 1838 (Kim's info). She was christened at SMLC, 22 Nov 1754 (LDS).
Frederic Jacob, b. 1758, d. 21 Jul 1840 He had two wives. The first was Catharine, b. 1768, d. 7 nov 1804 (tombstone). The second was Marie (Mary). But, Kim, you show an 1804 date for his second marriage. That would mean that he remarried within 2 months of his first wife's death. Possible, but unlikely. Did he already have her picked out? Because his second wife is referred to as "Mary #2", his first wife must have been Mary Catharine.
John, b. 1762, d. 1801
Margaret, b, 1765, d. 9 Feb 1839

I know, kim, that you list 2 other children, which may well be the case. But the dates are problematic. You show a daughter, Catharina, b. 14 Oct 1750, d. 29 Sep 1823. But that means that she was born the same day as Bridgitta's son Philipp Melon, meaning twins. If that is the case, why does the record not show a Catharina Melon, and why were the twins not christened together? You also list a daughter, Hannah, b. 14 Oct 1760, d. 15 Nov 1838. You are going to have to convince me that Catharina and Hannah were born on the same day, 10 years apart and that Hannah and Anna Maria died on the same day, and that Anna and Hannah married what are probably brothers

Philip had a previous marriage

In your third generation, you have a Phillip Melon Slentz II. There is no Phillip Melon Slentz II. The Phillip Melon who became Phillip Melon Schlentz is the husband of Mary Elizabeth Weikert. The name, Marilis, is not her name, but is rather a contraction of Mary Elizabeth, and is apparently the name used by her husband. Phillip Schlentz's will refers to her as Marilis, while she is listed as Mary Elizabeth in her father's estate settlement.

If any of you have information that contradicts anything I have written here, please let me know. I really do want accurate records.

thanks for the slentz info. frederic or jacob? frederic jacob swiletz slentz, b. 1758, in hanover, york co., pa. was the son of philip slentz and bridgitta melon. i am confident of that info. 1 am also sure that his wife is listed as mary #2. the LDS (mormon) church genealogy records, from which most of this info comes, lists his marriage as abt. 1818. that is wrong. they had several children before that date. i have found 9 children: abner, 1809; elias, 10/29/ 1810; nancy, abt. 1812; andrew, henry, jeremiah, and myron, all abt. 1815.

(when you see an "abt." in these records, the actual date may be +/- 10 or more years.) michael, 3/12/1819, and noah, 6/17/1824.
that mary elizabeth weikert married a slentz is probably true. that mr. slentz was no longer her husband by 1799 is fairly certain from the wording in her father,john andrew weikert's estate settlement. the rest is based on conjecture. if thereis a mary#2, then there must have been a mary #1. the birth place and date make it possible that mary had married frederic jacob. divorce at that time was not common, but possible. annulment is another possibility. or mary weikert's slentz may have died. once mary weikert became mary slentz without a husband, she becomes in the genealogical records a mary slentz with no background. i found such a mary slentz with a birth year of abt. 1795. that is too late for mary weikert, but as noted, abt. can mean practically nothing. also, the 1795 date may mean that , because no info on mary slentz was found, the year was assumed to be of birth, when she was only slentzless by that time.
it is interesting that frederic jacob died in columbiana co. ohio. four brothers of john peter weikert, mary's brother, went to columbiana co. between 1805 and abt. 1840, to take up land purchased for them by their father, john peter. there are also weikerts in indiana, but from what stock and when, i do not know.
this is probably more stuff that you want or need, but...
